Emergency Tariff, Signed by Harding, Is Now in Effect

Budget Bill Is Also Passed Congress and Harding Signature Is Expected Promptly.

TARIFF TO PROTECT FARMERS' PRODUCTS

Measure Also Carries Provision to Prevent Dumping of Foreign Goods in This Country.

Washington, May 27.—The emergency tariff bill was signed late today by President Harding.

The new law will becomes effective tomorrow. It will affect for a six months' period most products and carries a provision designed to prevent the dumping of foreign goods in this country.

Two Bills Described.

President Harding is expected to sign without delay the budget bill, just sent to him by congress.

When it becomes law the second big step in the administration's fiscal program will have been accomplished. The first was the emergency traiff bill, which the president signed Friday. A permanent traiff law and revision of tax laws remain.

The budget bill provides for a budget bureau in the treasury department, to which all estimates would be referred before their submission to congress, for examination, revision and co-ordination. The president would name the director of the budget and his assistants without congressional sanction.

The independent audit of government accounts, provided in the bill, would be under direction of officers named for 15 years by the president, but removable by joint resolution of congress not requiring the president's signature. President Wilson vetoed the budget bill last session because it provided for this removal.

The emergency tariff bill imposes heavy duties on all agricultural products for the protection of American farmers, and will remain in effect for six months, or until the permanent tariff is adopted. It contains also clauses to protect American manufacturers against wholesale foreign importations of cheap goods, and to put the valuation of goods for the levying of duties a new basis. This basis would be their cost to the buyer, or their value in the home market, whichever is highest.

PROBE OF CAUSES OF IDLENESS URGED IN SOCIALIST'S BILL

Washington, May 27.—A congressional investigation of the causes of unemployment is asked in a resolution introduced in the house by Meyer London, New York, socialist representative.

Specific points for inquiry named by London were:

To that extent the present unemployment is due to a concerted effort on the part of capital to force a reduction of wages.

The advisability of establishing a national building loan fund to aid municipalities, co-operative building societies and labor organizations in constructing homes; a national network of employment exchanges, a national system of unemployment insurance; a national minimum wage law.

Legislation for the effective elimination of child labor and the undertaking of public works.

"The question of unemployment far exceeds in importance those of tariff and taxation," said London.

STILLMAN COUNSEL DENY ANY EFFORT TO SETTLE SUIT

New York, May 27.—Counsel for James A. Stillman, New York banker, late today issued a statement denying that they had taken any part in negotiations for settlement of the divorce action he has brought against the former Fifi potter.

Cornelius Julian, of counsel for Mrs. Stillman, explained that it was the banker's intention to go ahead with his fight for divorce. The next hearing, he said, would be held in Poughkeepsie, June 1 and 2, before Referee Daniel J. Gleason, as scheduled.

ATTACK POWERS OF RAIL BOARD

Authority to Fix Rates of Public Utilities Denied by the Augusta-Aiken Railway Corporation.

The right of the state railroad commission to fix rates charged by public utilities and the validity of rates already fixed by that body is questioned in a petition filed in the United States court Friday by the Augusta-Aiken Railway and Electric corporation seeking a temporary and permanent injunction to restrain the state commission from interfering with a scale of rate the company seeks to charge. Judge Samuel H. Sibley issued an order requiring the commission members to appear before him at 10 o'clock a. m., June 6 to show cause why a temporary restraining order should not be granted pending a hearing on the application for a permanent injunction.

In effect the Augusta-Aiken company asks the United States court to restrain the state railroad commission from forcing it to put into effect a scale of rates recently fixed by that body. In addition the company seeks to establish a scale of rates it has prepared which are higher than the commission-made rates and asks that the commission be restrained from interfering with the company in charging such rates.

Commission's Order.

The commission issued an order April 13, 1920, allowing the company to charge 7 cents street car fare; 10 cents a kilowatt per hour power rate to consumers and an industrial rate of 1.35 cents per kilowatt. On May 20, 1921, the commission declined to increase this rate and announced it would continue the rates until they had been tried a full year.

In its petition the company now asks virtually for the federal court to assume jurisdiction, fix a valuation on the company's properties for rate making purposes and to restrain the state rate making body from interfering with a scale of rates submitted by the company to the federal court for approval and which will supplant the rates fixed by the commission. In this scale the company asks permission to charge 10 cents street car fare except when tickets are purchased in lots of ten or more when a rate of 8 cents is to be charged. It asks

Lost Cornerstone Placed by Masons Unearthed Friday

Discovery Comes When the Workmen Start Digging Foundation of Building.

BY HENSON TATUM.

The "lost cornerstone of Georgia Masons has been found. Forgotten by all but the oldest members of the order, its recovery hoped for but little expected, the prized stone was unearthed Friday by workmen digging the wall foundations of the new Palmer building being erected on the site of the old Bijou theater, at the corner of Marietta and Forsyth streets.

By the merest chance it was saved after being dug up. Too heavy to remove intact, the stone was ordered split. As it came asunder under heavy blows of the hammer the workmen were astonished to find that in the center was a cavity containing Masonic literature, newspapers and miscellaneous articles, some of the documents damaged by the slow decay of time, but others in a state of perfect preservation.

Stone Set in Place.

Nearly sixty-three years ago, on August 11, 1859, the granite cube was set in its place with Masonic ceremonies. The building, when completed, was to have been used as a temple. Financial difficulties delayed construction. Two years later turbulent times came with the Civil war. The unfinished structure was beaten and battered. The site passed into other hands. Years later when the debris was cleared to build the DeGive opera house, the stone was not resurrected and Masons virtually gave it up as lost.

WATSON ATTACKS NATIONS LEAGUE ON SENATE FLOOR

SAYS FOREIGN POLICY DISREGARDS PEOPLE

Watson Opposes Amendment Providing U. S. Representation on Disarmament Commission.

Washington, May 27.—Final action on disarmament questions and against beginning a new Pacific coast naval base was taken today in the senate, but other amendments to the $495,000,000 naval appropriation bill were not disposed of when adjournment was taken until next Tuesday, over the Memorial day holidays.

Disarmament proposals caused a brisk clash today over amendments of Senators Pomerene, Ohio, and Walsh, Montana, democrats. With the Borah amendment "authorizing and requesting" the president to call a three-power conference to discuss disarmament already in the bill, Senator Pomerene offered a supplementary amendment. It would have authorized the president to suspend American naval construction for six months "in order to arrange" the conference, and if a disarmament agreement should be reached to suspend construction in part or in whole. The proposal was beaten twice, once on a point of order sustained by Vice President Coolidge, and again by a record vote of 29 to 37, for suspension of the rules to make it in order.

Even a livelier tilt in which the league of nations controversy was fought over again, developed in Senator Walsh's amendment, which would have requested the president to send American representatives to sit with the disarmament commission of the league of nations "in a consulting capacity."

This amendment was beaten, 42 to 22, after it was denounced by Senator Lodge, Massachusetts, republican leader, as a "side door" entrance of America into the league. The roll call was on party lines, except that three democrats, Shields, Tennessee; Walsh, Massachusetts, and Watson, Georgia, voted with republican opponents.

Watson In Debate.

The liveliest tilt was over the Walsh amendment for appointment of American representatives to the league of nations' disarmament commission. Its author contended that it followed the administration policy of appointing representatives to sit with the supreme council, and the allied reparation commission.

Senators Lodge and Wason (Georgia) declared the proposal was an entering wedge for American participation in the league. "The people of the United States," said Senator Lodge, "have decided against that league. The president has declared he would not enter it."

Expressing the hope that the president would call the disarmament conference proposed by the Borah amendment, and that such a conference would "soon be called," Senator Lodge added:

"But I do not propose for one to join in any way this league of nations, and I do not propose to enter any side door or back gate."

Underwood Replies.

Senator Underwood, Alabama, democratic leader, replied immediately, deploring that the senate had prevented American entrance into the league. He said, however, that this was settled by the administration policy of non-membership and was not involved in the Walsh amendment.

"We should accept the invitation (of the league) to participate in the disarmament conferences of the commission, not as a member but as an independent nation," he said, adding that the nation should indicate a desire to co-operate toward general disarmament, which, he said, was the great question now beefore the world.

Senator Walsh also argued that the league commission was considering general disarmament, while under the Borah plan only naval disarmament would be under consideration.

That the sending of what he termed "American observers" to the supreme council and reparations commission "had anything to do with the league" was denied by Senator Brandegee, of Connecticut, a republican "irreconcilable."

"The supreme council," said Sen-

France to Join U. S. in Tribute To Fallen Yanks

Memorial Day to Be Occasion for Decoration of Graves Overseas.

BY HUDSON HAWLEY.
United News Staff Correspondent.

Paris, May 27.—Wherever American soldiers lie buried in France, there, on memorial day, the French people will join with American officials and civilians in honoring the memory of the boys who came rollicking down the gang-planks of the transports not so long ago, but never went back again. Two years after the memorable decoration day address of President Wilson at Suresnes cemetery, that forest of white crosses, Marshal Petain, who was commander of the French army under the supreme command of Marshal Foch, will address another gathering of American and French officials and civilians and French soldiers on the sacrifices of the men who lie buried there. Every grave will be covered with flowers, placed by the American Legion and the French people of the region, as, indeed will be every grave in the northern S. O. S. area, and services will be held in all cemeteries where the stars and stripes marks the presence of fallen doughboys.

On the morning of memorial day Brigadier General Johnston, U. S. A., and Rear Admiral Magruder, U. S. N. will attend services both in Chateau Thierry and Bellau Wood, making official addresses on behalf of their respective services, Admiral Magruder making especial reference to the heroism of the marines who won such a glory in this region.

Delegations of American veterans residing in France will visit Ploisy to pay respects to their dead comrades and listen to an address by Brigadier General Frank Parker, one of the commanders of the first division. Other groups will go to the burying grounds of Bony, Fismes, Seringes, Chaumont, Langres, Dijon, Toul, Thiaucourt, Aix-Les Bains, Vichy, Angers, Letanne, Beaumont, Chalons, Villers Tournelles, Sezanne, Vitry le Francois, Saumur, Neufchateau, Basolles, Ville Lemens, Touru, Blois, Is Sou Dun, Nevers, Nantes, Sainte Nasaire, Brest, Limoges, Perigueux, Rouen, Le Havre, Dieppe, Cherbourg and Lille.

In all these places, French war orphans and local patriotic organizations will participate in the services, adopting the American memorial day to honor the fallen Americans just as they honor their own men with special services on all souls day, November 2.

In Paris the commemoration begins on Sunday with services in the American churches and a parade by a picked company of A. E. F. veterans led by the headquarters band from the army of occupation on the Rhine, accompanied by detachments of French cavalry and infantry. The parade will pass the arch of triumph where a pause will occur while the Americans place a

BOARD POSTPONES SCHOOL DECISION

Will Not Act on Fraser St. School Controversy Until Expert Survey of System Has Been Made.

After hearing argument from representatives of both sides in the controversy over the disposition of the Fraser Street school, the board of education Friday afternoon voted to defer a decision until after the proposed expert survey of the schools.

There were a half dozen speakers on each side, one group of citizens contending that to convert the Fraser Street school into a negro school, as had been reported would be done, would injure a large section now populated by white people, while spokesmen of the other group took the opposite view.

Attorneys R. B. Blackburn and Gordon Mitchell represented citizens opposed to turning the school over to the negroes. Other speakers opposing were Dan W. Green, Mrs. F. M. Sisk, Miss Grace Freeman and M. Litchenstein.

Among those who favored the plan to let the negroes take over the school and erect a new white school at another location in the community were George Cooper, Mrs. J. T. Wilkins, president of the Parent-Teacher association of Fraser Street school; J. L. Rollins and others.

Arguments of the opposing speakers were simply over the question of whether or not giving the school into negro hands would depreciate

SILKEN POPPIES WILL TELL LOVE FOR WAR HEROES

Beautiful silken replicas of the poppies of France and Flanders will be offered for sale today in Atlanta in honor of those who served so valiantly in the world war and in memory of those who made the supreme sacrifice.

The offer will be made at the hands of Atlanta girls and women who have responded eagerly to the call for recruits. Mrs. John M. Cooper is chairman of the city organization, and Mrs. B. M. Boykin, president of the Atlanta Woman's is vice chairman.

The distribution of poppies Saturday is a preliminary to a big memorial service planned for the Howard theater Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock, at which veterans of the Confederacy, of the Union army, of the Spanish-American war and of the world war will join in doing honor to the men who fought and fell, and at which every person is expected to wear a poppy.

FEDERAL CONTEST FOR BEST ESSAY IN CONSTITUTION

U. S. Commission Names This Paper Exclusively in Georgia to Conduct Good Roads Essay Test.

HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS ARE ALL ELIGIBLE

Prize for the Best Essay, Four-Year Free Scholarship at Any University Winner Names.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON.
Constitution Bureau, Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, May 27.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—The National Highway and highway transport education commission, a federal agency under the auspices of the United States department of education and the United States bureau of roads, today chose the Atlanta Constitution as one of a small select list of metropolitan newspapers in the United States through which it will conduct its second good roads and highway transport essay contest, to which all students of high school grade are eligible.

The national capital prize is to be a four year college course, including all expenses, with other suitable prizes.

The Constitution has been designated exclusively to handle the contest in that section of the country. No other newspaper in Georgia will conduct a similar contest though all newspapers will no doubt co-operate with the Constitution's big assignment.

No Commercial End.

This contest is creating tremendous interest throughout the nation as it is purely educational, government conducted and entirely free from any element of commercialization, there being no subscriptions, fees, coupons or other of the usual factors employed in newspaper contests.

The Firestone scholarship which is the sole national prize, covers a four year university or college course in any university or college chosen by the winning pupil. It has a value of not less than $4,000 but Mr. Firestone has agreed to assume every reasonable expence of the pupil in school. It will be awarded in accordance with the rules by a committee to be named by the United States commissioner of education. It is offered by H. S. Firestone, Akron, Ohio, a member of this committee.

An excellent precedent for this contest has been established by last year's "ship by truck-good roads" contest in which more than 200,000 pupils participated. The Firestone scholarship went to Miss Katharine F. Butterfield, a 16 year old high school pupil of Weiser, Idaho who now is attending school under its provisions.

Presented by President.

Recently she was called to Washington where she was received by President Harding. In the presence of Mr. Firestone, the donor, and members of this committee, the president presented her with the scholarship certificate during formal exercises on the white house grounds.

In addition, Collier's Weekly has requested permission to publish the winning essay and picture of the pupil writing it. The Atlanta Con-

RAIL COMMISSION EXPECTED TO CUT LOCAL GAS RATES

Board Will Order Reduction of Approximately 25 Cents Per Thousand Cubic Feet, It Is Said.

WILL FOLLOW ACTION TAKEN IN NEW YORK

Official Report of E. M. Price, Rate Expert, Now in Hands of Commission, Will Show Decrease.

When the state railroad commission meets in executive session today it will, in all probability, issue an order requiring the Georgia Railroad and Power company to decrease its gas rates, according to authoritative information obtained by The Constitution Friday night.

At the time the corporation appealed for an increase in rates it had been suffering from a period of loss. In recognizing this loss, the commission stated in its order increasing gas rates that immediately conditions would justify a decrease the company would be required to take such action.

In view of the recent reduction in New York of twenty-five cents per thousand cubic feet as the result of decrease in the cost of raw materials, and, assuming conditions here are to a certain degree similar, it follows that the Georgia commission will take the same action.

A profit of 78.03 cents per 1,000 cubic feet was earned by the corporation on gas during April, according to its last report filed with the board.

An official report of E. M. Price, rate expert of the commission, who visited the coal fields and made investigations in a number of cities on contracts available and conditions under which similar corporations were being operated is now in the hands of the board. It is understood that it shows a decrease in the cost of raw materials.

The present gas rate of the company is $1.90 per 1,000 cubic feet, and was granted on the claim of the company that the cost of manufacturing and delivering 1,000 cubic feet of gas in October, 1920, was $1.68.

The reduction which the commission will order, it is understood, will range close to 25 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. The rate before the increase was $1.45.

REACH AGREEMENT IN MARINE STRIKE

Union Representatives and Chairman Benson Together on Wages and Working Conditions.

Washington, May 27.—Agreement on wages and working conditions was reached tonight between representatives of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association and Chairman Benson of the shipping board in the controversy which has threatened a tie-up of American shipping. The terms will be submitted to the various local unions Sunday for ratification.

The agreement was reached at a conference with Secretary Davis after Chairman Benson had discussed the situation with President Harding several hours. If the terms are accepted by the locals, the agreement will be signed to remain in effect for one year.

The action was taken regardless of the decision of the American Ship Owners' association, which was communicated to Secretary Davis today, to refrain from entering into any agreement with the men. The shipping board, however, it was pointed out, operates four-sevenths of all American ships.

Secretary Davis left for New York immediately after the conference to attend to some personal affairs, but it is understood he will see representatives of the ship owners there.

The terms of the tentative agreement were not made public, but in general they are understood to follow the lines previously laid down of providing for a 15 per cent wage reduction and making some changes

Committee Is Named To Decide on Charter For City of Atlanta

ATLANTA JOBBERS DENY CONSPIRACY ON GROCERY SALES

Arguments Heard by Federal Trade Commission in Important Case Involving Local Concerns.

SAME LETTER MAILED BY NINE LOCAL FIRMS

Grocers Explain Letter as Having Been Gotten Out by City Salesmen on Firm Stationery.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON.
Constitution Bureau, Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, May 27.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—The federal trade commission today heard legal arguments in the case of the commission versus the Atlanta Wholesale Grocers, et al, respondents, in which the government in the summer of 1919 complained that members of that association in Atlanta had conspired to prevent the Unity Grocery company, a corporation composed of one hundred Atlanta retail grocers, from purchasing supplies from manufacturers, through threats of boycott levied upon such manufacturers, etc., thus violating the federal trade act providing against conspiracy to restrain trade and unfair competition in interstate commerce.

With the admitted allegations in the government's complaint ceased practically two years ago upon the first interference of the federal agency the case is one of national importance as it involves fine legal points as to rights of retailers in combining in the organization of purchasing agencies as well as the rights of wholesalers to complain to manufacturers, singly or in group, against selling their manufactured products virtually direct to retailers through corporations admittedly owned by them and employed for the purpose of evading the rules of manufacturers to sell only to the jobbing trade, where such complaints are not accompanied by actual violations of the law through coercion.

Argued by Watkins.

The Atlanta case today was argued by Edgar Watkins, of the Atlanta firm of Watkins, Russell & Asbill, for the respondents, and by William A. Sutherland, an attorney of the federal trade commission, for the government, the latter seeking a restraining order not by reason of any present day alleged violations but for its direct bearing upon interstate commerce, and for the reason that the Atlanta wholesalers named in the complaint do not yield that they have violated any clause of the federal trade act, but deny it and are contending to that end until the whole commission shall have ruled upon the case following the hearing. Such vital questions are involved that if the commission issues an order against the Atlanta wholesalers the latter will very probably carry the case to the United States circuit court of appeals.

The paramount claim of the government as developed in the argument today is that on the 24th of March, 1919, nine wholesale grocery firms of Atlanta sent out similar letters to all the leading manufacturers supplying Georgia trade of which the following is an alleged copy:

Letter From Jobbers.

Gentlemen:

The manufacturer—the jobber—the retailer. The generally recognized channel for distributing goods to the consumer.

Do you need the services and good will of the Atlanta jobber in distributing your goods? If you do, how can you hope for the jobber to continue in business and feature your goods when you go direct over his head and sell through buying agencies, a good part of his retail customers?

We ask you to look into the distribution of your goods in Atlanta, and if they are not going through the legitimate jobbing channels, do you not think that it would be to your interest to direct the sale where it properly belongs?

If you do not need the serv-

Resolution Adopted Calling Upon Council to Appoint Representatives to Conference.

TIMES ARE PROPITIOUS, DECLARES DR. JONES

Weltner, Underwood, Haney, Woolford, Mrs. C. P. Ozburn and Miss Raoul Are Named.

The appointment of a co-operative charter committee Friday night at a meeting of the representatives of twenty-one civic organizations which have recently joined hands for the purpose of securing reforms in the city government marked the first active step forward in this important movement.

A resolution was adopted inviting city council to send representatives to the conference. It was brought out by Miss Eleanor Raoul, vice chairman of the central committee, composed of three representatives from each of the twenty-one organizations, that Mayor Key had been requested to have a representation from council at the session Friday night, but that no answer had been received.

The "steering committee" plan which was scheduled to be an issue at the meeting, was abandoned. It appeared that the caption "steering," was not fully understood by many, and Dr. M. Ashby Jones, chairman of the central committee, stated that personally, he did not even like the name of "steering," and suggested that another plan be adopted.

Co-Operative Committee.

The co-operative charter committee resulted from the failure to appoint the steering committee. A charter, based either on entirely new lines, or a modification of the present city charter, will be formulated, and the new plan will be brought before the entire central committee for consideration.

After the central committee has acted upon the charter, the representatives will then place the charter before their respective organizations, and urge its adoption. Should this be done, the central committee will then perfect the details of the charer, and submit it to the legislature.

It was pointed out by Dr. Jones that the formulation of an entirely new charter, or even a modification of the present one would require at least several months, making it impossible to submit it to the legislature at the next session.

It was declared that never before was there a more propitious time for launching such a movement, nor would there ever be a time when

THREE BIG FEATURES TO APPEAR IN CONSTITUTION

Bobby Jones Will Describe Miss Stirling's Golf Battles

Bobby Jones, golfing chum of Miss Alexa Stirling since early childhood, the one who knows more about her game than even Stewart Maiden, their common instructor, will cover for The Constitution Miss Stirling's endeavor to bring back the British woman's golf title. This will be one of The Constitution's super-features which are making its report of the international golf matches pre-eminent.

Mary Pickford's Biography Starts in Sunday's Issue

Hayden Talbot, one of England's foremost journalists, was sent by Lord Northcliffe nearly six thousand miles to secure from Mary Pickford the story of her life, told in her own way. "My Life," which starts in tomorrow's issue, is the first authentic autobiography of this million-dollar screen star, and it proves a human document of intense interest.

Atlanta Girl Golf Champ Writes of Her Play Abroad

Those who read last Sunday the first installment of Miss Stirling's articles on her quest of the British golf championship will not fail to look for the second installment tomorrow. Others will have the opportunity to take up her series at a most interesting point. These stories are written by Miss Stirling herself, with the assistance of her father, Dr. A. W. Stirling.

THERE'S NINE CONVENIENT

Stores in Atlanta

We Set the Pace on Prices—Others Follow

It's Not What You Make—But What You Save

ATLANTANS are not slow to show their appreciation of opportunities to buy standard, high-grade goods, especially when there is an added service that makes their buying a pleasure. This is amply proven in the excellent patronage we are enjoying.

PIGGLY WIGGLY has NINE stores in this city. They are scattered over the city in such a way as to make one available to practically every locality. The shelves in our stores are filled with only the very highest quality of standard goods. A customer could shut his eyes and still be sure of selecting a piece of goods of the highest quality.

Our shopping plan is simple and convenient for you. No red tape—no lost motion—no time wasted. And it's a pleasure to walk through and just pick out what you want, knowing that you are going to pay the very smallest amount possible for your purchases.

KIDDIES AND CAKES

These ought to be great days for kiddies, with Stone's Cakes selling at special sale prices.

Recall the baking days of your own childhood? Remember how the clean, fresh eggs and the generous, golden lump of butter and the milk and sugar were stirred to a tempting creaminess in a big, yellow bowl?

That's just the way we make Stone's Cakes in our sanitary, fresh-air, daylight bakery, except that we measure the same pure, healthful, ingredients by tons per day instead of cupsful per batch, and mix with electrically operated machinery.

NOW 10 CENTS

Let the kiddies have plenty of Stone's Cake—it's building food for little bodies.

Lay Careful Plans To Prevent Delay When Caruso Sails

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
United News Staff Correspondent.

New York, May 27.—Enrico Caruso is the first man that ever had to rehearse his going away from America so as not to delay the ship's departure at a cost to the owners of thousands of dollars an hour, by an unorganized series of farewells.

Accompanied only by Mrs. Caruso and his chauffeur, the great Italian tenor, on whom a death watch was held for five days and nights by forty reporters last winter, motored down to the Bush dock in Brooklyn where the Italian steamship Presidente Wilson lies, and was received with enough ceremony to embarass a president boarding a battleship at a formal review of the fleet. There were no guns on board the Presidente Wilson, not even a harpoon howitzer, so it was impossible to fire a royal salute which was the least that Captain Ettore Zar would have desired in honor of Caruso, the great. However, the boatswain did the next best thing in this embarrassing crisis—he shot off his mouth at the deck-hands.

Caruso inspected the five suites that have been set aside for himself, Mrs. Caruso, their baby, Gloria, and brother, Giovanni Caruso, who came all the way over here to look after the tickets and the million dollar voice gurgled rapturously over the arrangements in the suite where partitions have been knocked out and the walls repapered in Brownie designs to make a playroom for Baby Gloria. Then he and Captain Zar fell to on arrangements for the farewell.

Th.usands of Italians and Americans, from the Fifth avenue opera fans who hold down reserved seats in the diamond horseshoe and keep tabs on the averages of the stars, to the bleacherites from up under the rafters of the Metropolitan, who live in Cherry Hill and Mulberry Bend, are expected to be at the dock when Caruso goes aboard Saturday. Caruso doesn't want to shake hands with them all but neither does he want to slight his close, personal and professional friends. So the latter will receive special cards, inviting them to come aboard for a farewell audience. If the others just bare their heads or make some sign like that, Caruso will know and understand.

Are You Helping Your Husband?

Your husband does not have time to do the buying of groceries for the home. His time is taken up with other matters. So it is up to YOU, Mrs. Housewife, to use the same business judgment in purchasing food for the home as your husband would use in buying stock for his store or supplies for his plant.

In these stringent times it is especially important that you save in every possible way. Help your husband by going to the store, which offers the best values.

The reason U-Save-It Stores can make better prices is because their overhead expense ha been reduced to a minimum. There are no clerks, bookkeepers or deliverymen to pay and this saving is passed along to YOU. Get the U-Save-It Habit! It will help your husband save.

miners are reluctant not so much to face a reduction in wages, but to go and tell their men the real situation. The mine owners are not eager to begin when they know it means beginning at a loss and the first man they have to face is their banker."

LLOYD-GEORGE URGES NEED TO END STRIKE

London, May 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—The prime minister, Mr. Lloyd-George, initiated another attempt this morning to end the coal stoppage when he addressed a deputation of mine owners and the executive body of the miners union, urging the necessity of an early resumption of work because of the country's alarming increase in unemployment and the general slowing down of all industries.

It has been eight weeks since work in the mines ceased. Mr. Lloyd-George repeated the government's offer to grant 10,000,000 pounds to tide the coal industry over the period during which a permanent settlement shall be negotiated, but warned the conference there was no chance of increasing that amount He added:

"We shall not put a single treasury note on the table until we know that the terms of a permanent peace are agreed upon."

Mr. Lloyd-George strongly urged on both sides that unless they could see an immediate prospect of agreeing as to figure, they should agree as to the machinery for settling the figures"

He declared the feature of the stoppage that impressed him most was "the curious apathy which has affected the whole community and the reluctance to settle the dispute."

"I have never seen a great stoppage where less pressure was brought on the government to settle it." the prime minister said. "The

HOW TO RAISE BABY CHICKS

Put Avicol in the drinking water

Most people lose half of every hatch, and seem to expect it. Chick cholera or white diarrhoea is the trouble. The U. S. Government states that over half the chicks hatched die from this cause.

An Avicol tablet in the drinking water will save your chicks from all such diseases. Within 48 hours the sick ones will be lively as crickets.

Mrs. Wm. May, of Rego, Ind., writes: "I was losing 10 or 15 chicks a day from diarrhoea before I received the Avicol. I haven't lost a one since."

It costs nothing to try Avicol If you don't find that it prevents and controls white diarrhoea, chick cholera and all bowel diseases of poultry, tell us and your money will be promptly refunded. Avicol is sold by most druggists and poultry remedy dealers, or send 52c (includes war tax) for a package by mail postpaid. Burrell-Dugger Co., 100 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

Mrs. Chapman Gives Birthday Party For Children

Mrs. E. M. Chapman entertained Friday afternoon in honor of her daughter, Edith, who celebrated her eighth birthday last week, and her son, Edward, Jr., who was 10 years old Friday.

The house was decorated in field daisies and sweetpeas. The daintily appointed table had for its central decoration a silver basket holding sweetpeas. At each end of the table was a birthday cake with pink candles.

The favors for the girls were bisque dolls in pink paper dresses and each boy was given a balloon.

Many games were played during the day, but the peanut hunt was greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Chapman was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Charles Ehey, Mrs. William Mathers and Mrs. W. D. Manning.

Mrs. Chapman wore a summer frock of navy blue dotted swiss.

Little Miss Chapman was daintily dressed in pink chiffon embroidered in blue forget-me-nots.

The young people invited were: Misses Martha Mathers, Harriet Grant, Mary Eleanor Kemp, Lois Merkle, Betty Shaw, Lois Kibler, Alice Center, Rebecca Hanson, Marion Wolfe, Charlotte Chapman, Virginia Pinson, Constance Adams, Marguerite Roddy, Margaret Allen.

David Hopkins, Bryan Grant, Jr., Scott Allen, Jr., Brainard Wolfe, Pollard Turman, David McCullough, Carter Horne, Ben Watkins, Jr., George Harris, Pete Freeman, Roy Finch, Carl Wesley, Paul Wesley, Albert Adams, Courteny Hall, Malcolm Reynolds, Nick Nicholson, Whitfields Stubbs, Atwood Whittington and Tom Malby.

Luncheon Given By Mrs. Keough.

Miss Amelia Smith was honor guest at a luncheon Friday at the Capital City club, given by Mrs. James B. Keough.

The daintily appointed table had for the central decoration a silver vase holding sweetpeas.

The invited guests were Mrs. Thomas Esmond Falvey, Mrs. Albert Collier, Mrs. Charles D. Atkinson, Mrs. J. J. Chambers, Mrs. Albert Dunson and Mrs. W. R. Massengale.

Family Picnic To Be Given.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Austell will entertain with a family picnic next week at their country home, "Kaluna."

Honoring Bride-Elect.

Mrs. Caughey B. Culpepper entertained at a box party at the Lyric Thursday afternoon in honor of Miss Myra Day, whose marriage to Irwin O'Shields will be an interesting event of June 1.

Those invited were Miss Myra Day, Miss Jessie Parkins, Miss Evelyn Donehoo, Miss Ines Willingham, Miss Agnes Owen, Mrs. Maude Tinney, Mrs. David Wood, Mrs. Luther Hamilton, Mrs. Roy Matthews, Mrs. F. H. Camp, Mrs. Ruth Cahill and Mrs. Caughey B. Culpepper.

Mrs. McCormack Named Head Of Parent-Teacher Council

Mrs. Frank McCormack, who was elected yesterday as president of the Atlanta council of Parent-Teachers, and will head the organization for next year. She is the daughter of the late John P. Trotti, a pioneer citizen, who was greatly honored by Atlanta. Mrs. McCormack is a real leader and organizer, and has demonstrated her ability while acting as corresponding secretary, and as a member of the executive board of the council. She succeeds Mrs. John Spalding, who brought a successful two years of office to a close at the final meeting, which was held yesterday at the chamber of commerce.

The final meeting for the year, and the annual election of officers for the Atlanta council Parent-Teachers was held yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, in the assembly room of the chamber of commerce.

Officers Elected.

Mrs. A. P. Tripod, chairman of the nominating committee, with Mrs. Robert Emmett Harvey, Mrs. R. L. Thompson, Mrs. C. P. Ozburn, and Mrs. Charles E. Robertson, acting with Mrs. Tripod, presented the following names for election, to whom there was no opposition: Mrs. Frank McCormack, president, Mrs. Harry Hermance, vice president; Mrs. Walter P. Warren, recording secretary; Mrs. David L. Wise, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Z. V. Peterson, treasurer.

Executive Board.

These officers will also serve on the executive board, together with Mrs. Robert H. Martin, Mrs. R. S. Lowrence, and Mrs. John T. Thompson, who were nominated from the floor to complete the official roster.

Mrs. R. M. Walker gave a report on the executive committee meetings, which included seven held during the year. Mrs. John Spalding reported that there were 37 white schools in Atlanta, and that 35 Parent-Teacher associations were engaged in active work, leaving only two schools wherein there have been no associations formed. Mrs. Spalding read a very interesting report for 1920-21.

Mrs. McCormack Presides.

Mrs. McCormack, the new president, presided over the latter part of the meeting, and she named the following chairmen for the new year: Mrs. A. P. Tripod, publicity; Mrs. N. L. Barker, program; Mrs. J. E. Andrews, extension; and Mrs. S. B. Turman, entertainment.

Thanks Voted.

Mrs. Charles E. Robertson proposed a rising vote of thanks to Mrs. John Spalding, the retiring president, who has been most efficient and successful in directing the Atlanta council of Parent-Teachers.

Almost all the membership of the Parent-Teacher presidents of Atlanta were in attendance upon this meeting, these women representing one of the strongest and best organized civic bodies in Atlanta.

Today's Calendar

Social Events

An interesting social event of the week will be the luncheon at which Mrs. Hugh Dorsey will entertain at the governor's mansion today.

The woman's board of the Oglethorpe university will give a reception at Druid Hills Golf club for Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lupton, of Chattanooga.

Miss Alice Stewart will give a tea at her home, "The Pines," in West End.

The members of the "Bulldog" at Tech will give a dinner-dance at the Kappa Alpha chapter house.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Otis will give an informal dinner for Mrs. Frank Meegan.

Saturday evening dinner-dance at the Piedmont Driving club.

The regular week-end dinner-dance will be given at East Lake Country club.

The Sheltering Arms will give a lawn fete at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Arkwright.

The Agnes Scott alumnae will entertain the senior class of that college at luncheon at 1 o'clock at the Druid Hills Golf club.

Mrs. Maybelle Shropshire Wall will present two talented piano pupils in recital this evening. Miss Mary Broughton and Miss Rachel Eve Neely.

An entertainment by Mademoiselle Rose Gabriel-Tabib, assisted by Mademoiselle Gabriel-Tabib's young French pupils, will be given in the new Phillips & Crew hall, this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. L. N. Rattray will give a miscellaneous shower for Miss Myra Day, a bride-elect.

Mrs. Veazey Rainwater will be hostess at luncheon today at her home in Druid Hills in compliment to Mrs. John T. Lupton, of Chattanooga, who, with Mr. Lupton, is in Atlanta to attend

C. C. C. Roof Garden Will Be Opened Next Thursday

The cool and popular roof garden of the Capital City club will be formally reopened to society on Thursday evening, June 2.

A dinner-dance is announced as the special occasion to be featured, and dinner will be served at 8 o'clock to the club members and their guests. Garber-Davis orchestra will furnish the music.

The accommodations on the roof are limited, and the importance of making immediate reservation is urged by the management. J. W. Goldsmith, Jr., is president of the Capital City club.

The informal dinner-dances held on the roof each summer contribute largely to the social life in Atlanta.

Twins and Triplets to Be Features of Playroom.

The announcement of a once-a-month playroom party always starts a flutter of excitement among Atlanta's youngest set, and the possibility that Saturday's party may be the last one during the summer will make everyone anxious not to miss this one.

The twin and triplet feature of the day is attracting wide attention. Who is not always fascinated by one pair of twins? And when one sees dozens as will be fathered together Saturday the spectacle will be one long remembered. The judges, who will be well-known feature writers from the three Atlanta papers, will have an interesting time deciding which pair of twins look the most alike, which looks the least alike, which is the oldest and which youngest. Miss Corinne Chisholm, from The Georgian; Miss Medora Field, from The Journal, and Miss Bessie Kempton, from The Constitution, will have the difficult task of awarding the many prizes.

Everybody will have a chance to participate in the novel games led by Miss Corinne Chisholm, who announces a roly-poly race, the standing broad grin, the Mother Goose relay and the Peter Pan prize. Although the games will include nearly everybody present, there will be a prize for all taking part. There will be just as much fun and prizes for the "single" children as for the twins and triplets. Pictures of the different groups and prize winners will be taken. The prizes are unusually attractive. The DeKalb Decorating company is putting before the public some unusual novelties in kindergarten animals and four of these will be used as prizes Saturday, together with many others.

Beautiful dancing will feature the party, the participants being Virginia McRee, Catherine Jones, wee Harriet Jones and Samuel Clarke. A clown act by Miss Peggy Launius and Master Gregg will furnish much amusement.

The playroom committee, with Mrs. Frank Daub as chairman, will be assisted in receiving by Mesdames B. M. Boykin, Irving Thomas, Alonzo Richardson and Norman Sharpe, officers of the Atlanta Woman's club.

Everybody is invited to come Saturday to the playroom, admire the new wall decorating, contributed by A. J. Cooledge & Co., and the kindergarten wall designs by Burnett Wall Paper company, making the most attractive place for children in the city.

Admission Saturday will be the usual 25 cents per person, including refreshments. Twins and triplets will be charged only one admission. Fish pond and ice cream cones 10 cents each.

The Rotary Boys' band are invited to be special guests of the occasion.

Miss Ballenger to Be Complimented.

Dr. E. G. Ballenger and his mother, Mrs. T. T. Ballenger, will entertain with a party on the evening of June 3 at the home, 1085 Peachtree street, in compliment to his daughter, Miss Mary Clark Ballenger, who has been attending school at Bryn Mawr in Baltimore; his niece, Miss Mary Mosely, and Garrison Ballenger.

About 150 members of the younger set have been invited.

Admission will be 25 cents and 35 cents.

Washington Seminary Graduating Class.

There were 33 charming young girls who were graduated Thursday evening from Washington seminary, the exercises being witnessed by a large audience.

Each graduate wore a gown of white organdy and carried bouquets of red roses.

The white and red was repeated in a low trellis of daisies and popples, which extended across the front of the stage. Choruses were the only musical numbers.

Mrs. Womble presented Miss Georgia May Little the D. A. R. medal in a most graceful talk.

Honorable mention was given Miss Caroline Howard, Miss Eleanor Briggs, of New Orleans, La.; Miss Dorothy Stiff.

Woman's Club Gives Tea.

The Atlanta Woman's club presented an attractive scene yesterday afternoon when a large group of women assembled for tea.

The entire lower floor was thrown together and profusely decorated for the occasion with a variety of summer flowers.

Black Friars of Agnes Scott Present Play.

This evening at 8:30 o'clock the Black Friars Dramatic club of Agnes Scott college will present its annual spring play, to which the public is cordially invited.

In departure from a custom of long standing, the play this year will not be a Shakespearean one, but will be "Prunella." The story is of a young girl, Prunella, who has been shut up in her aunt's garden all her life, and knows nothing of the outside world. Pierrot, attended by a troupe of mummers, enters the garden and takes Prunella away with him. Prunella is not long satisfied by the casual love which Pierrot bestows upon her, so she runs away. Pierrot, who really loves her, returns to the garden, where the first met her, and there the two meet and are reunited.

The cast is as follows: Pierrot, Sarah Fulton; Pierrette or Prunella, Margaret Cousins; the Three Aunts, Roberta Love, Beth McClure, Frances Oliver; the Statue of Love, Sarah Till; Scaramet, Rachel Rushton; the Gardeners, Fanny McCoe, Charlotte Keesler, Marion Cawthon; Queer, Eleanor Hyde; Quaint, Polly Stone; the Mummers, Laura Oliver, Dell Bernhardt, Sara Belle Broadnax, Valeria Posey, Margaretta Womelsdorf, Frances Harwell, Helen Hall, Elizabeth Malloy; the Boy, Martha Lee Taliaferro.

The play is part of the usual commencement program, and will be presented on the lawn in front of Dr. Gaines' residence, on the campus. Many of the Agnes Scott alumnae are expected as guests for the occasion, and, in addition, all of the friends of the college are invited.

According to custom, no admission will be charged.

Mrs. Thomas Hostess To Press Women.

Mrs. Irving Thomas, retiring president of the Atlanta Woman's club, was hostess at a beautiful luncheon yesterday at her home on Peachtree street, in compliment to Mrs. George Obear, Jr., who has been her press chairman for two years.

Sharing honors with Mrs. Obear were the representatives of the press, who are, Mrs. Edward Van Winkle, Mrs. Lollie Belle Wylie, Mrs. W. C. Jarnigan, Miss Cobbie Vaughan, Miss Mildred Cabaniss, Miss Louise Dooly, Miss Corinne Chisholm and Miss Medora Field.

Mrs. Thomas received her guests in the library, where decorations of dahlias and sweet peas were used effectively. The other apartments were adorned with a profusion of the same lovely blossoms in shades of pink and white.

The luncheon table held in the center a raceful arrangement of roses, larkspur and daisies in a large silver basket. Smaller baskets of roses and daisies were placed at intervals.

Invited to meet the honor guests were the members of executive board of the club.

Mrs. Thomas was beautifully gowned in white georgette crepe, effectively trimmed in lace and French flowers.

The invited guests were Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, Mrs. B. M. Boykin, Mrs. Norman Sharp, Mrs. R. K. Rambo, Miss Mamie Berkele, Mrs. R. O. Kerlin, Mrs. L. C. Matthews, Mrs. George Brower, Mrs. Hamilton Douglas, Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, Mrs. J. N. McEachern, Mrs. Charles Rice, Mrs. O. D. Gorman, Mrs. H. H. Fudge, Mrs. Thornwell Jacobs, Mrs. G. H. Treadwell, Mrs. E. S. Jackson, Mrs. Arthur Tazzard, Mrs. Joseph Moody, Mrs. Russell Bridges, Mrs. J. E. McRae, Mrs. Julian Bailey, Mrs. Rogers Winter and Mrs. L. C. McKinney.

Women Volunteers To Distribute Poppies.

Women who have volunteered to distribute memorial poppies in Atlanta today, that all may wear the vivid crimson flowers who hold in honor the men who fought so bravely in the world war and who cherish the memory of those who fell, will assemble at the Piedmont hotel this morning at 7:30 o'clock to begin the task. The teams are to be directed by Mrs. J. M. Cooper, chairman of the work for Atlanta, and by Mrs. B. M. Boykin, chairman for Georgia.

Every person in Atlanta will be given opportunity to wear a poppy, it is planned. The distribution is a preliminary to a big memorial service at the Howard theater Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when the sacrifice of the heroes of the world war will be duly honored. Every person attending the memorial is expected to wear a poppy.

The sale of poppies will be repeated Monday, which is the day designated as world war memorial day. The project of wearing the poppies on this day has the support of national headquarters of the American Legion, of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Service Star Legion, and other patriotic organizations. The sale of poppies in Atlanta will be sponsored by members of the Overseas club, of which Mrs. John T. Toler is president; the women's auxiliary of the American Legion, Mrs. W. C. Elrod, chairman; members of the permanent organization of the women who attended the United States training camp last summer; members of the hospital committee of the Atlanta Woman's club; of the D. A. R., of the U. D. C. and other women active in club and social work.

The poppies are the handiwork of French widows and orphans, and five million of the silken blossoms, replicas of the poppies of Flanders field, have been sent to the United States for distribution under auspices of the American-Franco Children's league.

Graduating Exercises At Carnegie Library.

The graduation exercises of Carnegie library will be held this morning at 10 o'clock in the library school room.

Dr. Arthur Elmore Bostwick, of St. Louis, Mo., will deliver the address. It is very fitting that Dr. Bostwick should speak to the graduates on this occasion, for, besides being a distinguished member of the profession, he has contributed much to the profession by his writings on technical subjects and by his books, the best known of which is "The American Public Library." Other volumes of Dr. Bostwick's that are widely read by the library profession are "The Different West" and "Earmarks of Literature."

W. W. Orr, president of the board, will deliver the diplomas.

The graduating class of eight in number, which is the sixteenth class to receive diplomas, includes Misses Virginia Poles, of Detroit, Mich.; Velma Goode, of Boiling Springs, N. C.; Theresa Hodges, of Perry, Ga.; Alice Macey, of Montgomery, Ala.; Nina Morgan, of Demorest, Ga.; Abi Russell, of McDonough, Ga., Vera Walton, of Washington, Ga., and Beverly Wheatcroft, of Huntsville, Ala.

The graduates will immediately take responsible positions in several states, including Ohio, Michigan, North Carolina, Georgia, Kentucky, Alabama, Virginia and New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Lupton To Be Honored.

A brilliant event of the week will be the reception at which the woman's board of Oglethorpe university will entertain this afternoon at the Druid Hills Golf club in honor of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Lupton, of Chattanooga.

The reception will be held on the terraces of the club between the hours of 4 and 6.

Invitations have been issued to 400 guests.

In the receiving party will be Mrs. Lee Ashcraft, chairman of the woman's board; Mrs. J. K. Ottley, Mrs. Albert Thornton, Mrs. Arnold Broyles, Mrs. P. F. Libbey, Mrs. R. R. Carlyle, Mrs. E. D. Crane, Mrs. Harry Hermance, Mrs. J. T. Williams, Mrs. Norman Sharpe, Mrs. E. L. Chalenor, Mrs. Haynes McFadden and Mrs. DeLos Hill.

Punch will be served from two large bowls placed in the sun parlors of the club. Punch will be served by a group of attractive school girls including Misses Julia Black, Theodore Owens, Jennie Robinson, Mary Hill Bloodworth, Telside Pratt, Bessie White, Edith Coleman, Margaret Elder, Rebecca Ashcraft, Helena Hermance and Ellen Newell.

Attending the reception will be a group of distinguished visitors, including Mrs. Corra Harris, Bishop Thomas, F. Gailor and Dr. T. J. Smull.

Distinguished Visitors.

Among the distinguished guests who are in the city to attend the commencement exercises of Oglethorpe university is Dr. Thomas J. Smull, of Ohio Northern university, who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Porter on the Prado.

Bishop Thomas F. Gailor, a former Tennessean, who is the present Episcopal bishop of New York, and who will deliver the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday evening, will be the guest of Bishop and Mrs. H. J. Mikell during his stay in Atlanta.

Mrs. Corra Harris, of Rydal, Ga., will be a well-known visitor who will be at the Georgian Terrace.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Lupton, of Chattanooga, who will be honor guests at the reception given this afternoon by the Woman's board of Oglethrope, will also be guests at the Georgian Terrace during their stay in Atlanta.

Straw Ride and Dance.

Lee Roy Philips and T. M. Brisendine, Jr., will entertain their friends with a straw ride and dance on Wednesday evening, June 1.

The trucks will leave the capitol, corner Hunter and Washington streets, at 7:15 o'clock and will proceed to Cascade springs, where luncheon will be enjoyed.

Music for the dance will be furnished by a special string orchestra.

All members of the various dancing clubs and their friends are cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashcraft Hosts to Distinguished Visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ashcraft will entertain at a luncheon Sunday at their home on Ponce de Leon avenue in honor of Mrs. Corra Harris, one of a group of distinguished visitors who are in the city to attend the commencement exercises of Oglethorpe university.

Covers will be placed for Mrs. Harris, Governor and Mrs. Dorsey, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Ottley, Bishop Thomas F. Gailor, of New York; Mrs. Albert Thornton, Sr., Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, Mrs. T. H. Connerat, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Hermance, Dr. Thomas J. Smull, of Ohio Northern university, and Mr. and Mrs. Ashcraft.

SOCIAL ITEMS

to spend the summer in Asheville, North Carolina. He will have charge of the dancing at the Marion and Battery Park hotels. Mr. Murray has spent the last seven summer seasons in Asheville's fashionable hotels.

ADAIR MAKES ADDRESS TO THE CIVITAN CLUB

That much can be accomplished in the course of an hour and a half, if the problem is attacked in the right spirit, was shown at the Civitan club weekly luncheon in the breakfast room of the Kimball house Friday.

The speaker of the occasion was Forrest Adair. He pointed to the younger generation as the coming rulers of the city, "for," he said, "when we older men are gone, you young fellows will run the city. Now is the time to start preparing for the enormous, gigantic responsibilities which will come to you in the course of time."

Mr. Adair also urged Atlantans to buy and consume Atlanta-made products wherever they could consistently do so. He spoke of the inexhaustible resources of the city, the unsurpassed transportation facilities and the educational opportunities.

A tentative program for entertainment of guests, members of the Civitan clubs of Jacksonville, Miami, Savannah, St. Augustine, Washington, D. C., and a number of others who will arrive in the city on the morning of June 6, prior to leaving in the evening for Birmingham for the Civitan convention, was submitted by Park A. Dallis, chairman of the committee on entertainment.

The program provides for an extended automobile trip about the city, with breakfast at the Ansley hotel and luncheon at Stone Mountain. Mr. Dallis stated that three Pullman cars had been secured for accommodation of the Atlanta and other delegates leaving for Birmingham.

The closing feature was the giving away of an electric fan, donated by the Westinghouse Electric company, and won by J. H. Van Harlinger. The gift of some article features each weekly luncheon.

Announcement was made that the Civitan ball club has been formed and that the initial practice will be held Saturday, when more than 20 candidates will appear.

PUT OFF STREET CAR, CLAIMS BOY IN SUIT

Suit has been filed in the city court of Atlanta by Jefferson N. Welch, a 12-year-old boy, against the Georgia Railway and Power company, for $5,000, as the result of being put off a street car near Ponce de Leon baseball park.

In his suit the lad alleges that he paid his fare, and shortly thereafter he requested a transfer from the conductor, who thereupon refused to give him a transfer, and put him off the street car shortly after leaving Boulevard Park. The suit was filed by Attorney Hugh Howell.

PLANS ARE COMPLETED FOR NEGROES' PICNIC

Plans have been completed by the Atlanta Educational and Charitable Festival association for the fourth annual outing of the colored people of Atlanta and adjacent cities, which will be held in Lakewood park, Monday, June 6.

The committees for the outing made reports showing every detail of the program had been worked out. Some of the main features will be automobile races, motorcycle races, foot races, relay races, and calisthenic drill, composed of the children of the public and private schools; barbecue, brass band, singing and orators for the occasion. More than $400 in prizes will be given away.

MRS. EMILY GASTON TO REST IN NEWNAN

Funeral services for Mrs. Emily Gaston, of Eagan Park, who was found dead in bed early Friday morning, will be held today at 12:30 o'clock at A. C. Hemperly's chapel, in East Point. The body will be sent to Newnan, Ga., for burial.

Mrs. Gaston had been in declining health for about a year. She was 61 years of age. She is survived by five sons, E. P. and J. C. Gaston, of Houston, Tex.; J. M. and W. M. Gaston, of Eagan Park, and D. H. Gaston, of Carbon Hill, Ala.; and one daughter, Mrs. W. J. Evans, of Atlanta.

POSTOFFICE WILL BE CLOSED NEXT MONDAY

The Atlanta postoffice will be closed Monday, May 30, in observance of Memorial day, according to an announcement made by the postmaster Friday. Two deliveries of mail will be made during the day in the business district and one delivery in the residential district.

LAWYERS DISCUSS PLANS TO RELIEVE COURT CONGESTION

Plans for obtaining relief from the present congestion in the civil division of the DeKalb superior court were discussed at a meeting of lawyers representing all of the counties in the Stone Mountain circuit which was held in Atlanta in the office of J. Howell Green in the Hurt building Friday afternoon.

Two plans for relief are under consideration, one contemplating the naming of a junior judge for the Stone Mountain circuit to have concurrent jurisdiction with Judge John B. Hutcheson and the other providing for placing two of the counties now in the Stone Mountain circuit in some other circuit, where there is not such a large volume of civil business.

At present there are more than 1,000 cases on the docket of the civil division of the court in DeKalb county, according to Mr. Green. counties in the circuit are DeKalb, Newton.

The question of obtaining legislation necessary to bring about the relief was discussed by many of the lawyers present, including State Senator Frank Mason, of Clayton county, who will have charge of such legislation in the general assembly should it be placed before that body.

Senator Mason pointed out that Judge Hutcheson, of the Stone Mountain circuit, is forced to hold court 36 weeks in the year, while in some circuits the judges do not hold court but 12 weeks. Senator Mason said he favored a re-apportionment of the work of the court which would put some of the counties in other circuits, giving Judge Hutcheson more time in DeKalb county, which is the largest county in the Stone Mountain circuit.

Diplomas Awarded Fulton High Seniors At Annual Exercises

Wesley Memorial auditorium was packed to capacity Thursday evening by friends and relatives of over a score of Fulton High school students who received diplomas at the annual commencement exercises. Bishop Warren A. Candler delivered the address of the evening. J. W. Simmons, superintendent of the Fulton school systems, presided.

Nineteen girls, resplendent in their dresses of white, with pink sashes and carrying huge bouquets of flowers, occupied the stage, while behind were seated the eight boys constituting the male portion of the class.

The program opened with two selections from the Fulton High school band. Rev. E. B. Higham gave the invocation. A bevy of girls of the sophomore and junior classes of the school seated in a body behind the graduates sang several songs.

Miss Fay Tate, class salutatorian, delivered the parting greetings. Miss Effie Jester was class valedictorian.

Following the delivery of diplomas by Virlyn B. Moore, president of the board of education, the awarding of medals and scholarships to those who excelled in school work during the closing year was the closing feature by Mr. Simmons, an appropriate talk being made by him dealing with the merits and accomplishments of the graduates.

Following are those who successfully completed the four-year course and received diplomas: Susan Elizabeth Baird, Harry Pearce Bradley, Mary Caroline Carroll, Robert Lee Chandler, Rosalie Cline, Mary Louise Craddock, Rebie Elizabeth Donehoo, Ruth Leeana Ruffin, Arthur Mims, Agnes Magdalen Green, Paul Douglas West, Ruth Edna Haynie, Mary Elizabeth Heath, Hattie Elizabeth Hood, Henry Melvin Hope, Ethel Corin Jester, William Roy Meadows, Murphy Gains Miller, Ruby Grace Mobley, Frances Carolyn Moore, Bessie Pharr, Annie Maude Pierce, Rebecca Elizabeth Poole, Annie Laurie Skinner, Fay Douglas Tate, Mary Estelle Wells and Leonard Whitmire Williams.

COMMENCEMENT OPENS AT NEW OGLETHORPE

The alumni banquet last evening in the dining hall of the University marked the start of the Oglethorpe university commencement exercises, alumni of the old and new universities gathering there for the first alumni dinner of the rejuvenated school.

A special reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lupton, donors of Lupton hall, will be given at the Druid Hills club this afternoon by the woman's board of the university. Lupton hall is the handsome new structure now being erected on the Oglethorpe campus on Peachtree road. The annual dinner to the graduating class will be held in the college dining hall. The board of founders and their wives, the executive board, the woman's board and their husbands will be the honor guests of this last occasion.

Rev. Thomas F. Gailor, of New York, bishop of the Episcopal Church of America, and nationally known as an orator and a scholar, will make the commencement address at the Baptist Tabernacle in Atlanta Sunday evening at 7:45 o'clock. The bishop is a southerner and is well acquainted with educational subjects.

Charles A. Sheldon, Jr., the city organist, has prepared an improvisation for the processional Sunday night, which he will play, consisting of a medley of famous college airs blended with the Oglethorpe alma mater song. Honorary degrees will be conferred on several friends of the university during the exercises, which will include a special investiture ceremony.

GIFT OF $110,000 IS MADE WESLEYAN

The College Already Has $630,000 in Educational Drive Allotment—$150,000 Building Program.

Macon, Ga., May 27.—(Special.)—Announcement of a gift of $110,000 from the general education board of New York city; the adoption of the $150,000 building program, including a new dormitory and enlarged dining hall; the resignation of Mrs. M. M. Burks, lady principal and professor of English literature of the college for thirty-three years, and the election of three new trustees were events at the annual session of the board of trustees of Wesleyan college this evening. New trustees elected were W. D. Anderson and C. B. Lewis, of Macon, and Judge Warner Hill, of Atlanta.

Shortly before the board convened a telegram arrived for Dr. W. F. Quillian, announcing that the general board of education of New York had donated $110,000 for the endowment fund of the college. The board decided to ad $200,000 to the gift to make an addition of $310,000 for the endowment fund. The extra $200,000 will come from the Wesleyan's allotment from the educational drive for $33,000,000 to be launched Sunday by Southern Methodists.

Aid Sought Last Summer.

Last summer Dr. Quillian and Bishop W. N. Ainworth, chairman of the board of trustees, went to New York city to lay before the body the needs and opportunity of Wesleyan college. As a result Dr. E. C. Sage, secretary of the general education board of New York, came to Macon in the winter and looked the college over, and it was upon his recommendation that the board donated the money.

A gift of $1,200 by Dr. James E. Dickey to endow the English literature section of the Wesleyan library was also announced. Dr. Dickey is secretary of the North Carolina conference for the educational drive.

Will Seek $1,000,000.

The trustees decided to ask the people of Macon, during the coming week, to supplement the gift of $110,000 from the general educational board and the $630,000, Wesleyan's allotment from the educational drive, with a sufficient sum to total $1,000,000. With $740,000 already secured, the trustees expressed the hope that Macon would raise the sum to $1,000,000.

The board authorized Dr. Quillian to begin the erection at once of a new dormitory to cost approximately $100,000. The board specified that the dormitory be big enough to accommodate at least 100 boarding students and to provide ten class rooms. It will be built with the most modern equipment, according to the plans of the trustees. The trustees also authorized a sufficient enlargement of the dining hall to provide comfortable seating accommodation for 600 people and the remodeling of the heating plant. These and other improvements will cost approximately $50,000.

NO WILL IS LEFT BY MISS ISMA DOOLY

Miss Isma Dooly, whose death occurred May 11, did not leave a will, became known Friday when Miss Louise Dooly, sister of the deceased, made application for letters of administration of the estate. The application is concurred in by all heirs to the property. No appraisement of the estate has been made. The application will be heard at the July term by Ordinary Thomas H. Jeffries.

"PECK'S BAD BOY" ON EXHIBIT TODAY AT TWO THEATERS

Announcement was made last night by Willard Patterson, manager of the Criterion theater, that "Peck's Bad Boy," which features Jackie Coogan, will be shown on Saturday at two theaters—the Criterion and the Savoy.

So great has been the popularity of this production that Mr. Patterson had received many requests to hold it over for another week. This he was unable to do, however, on account of engagements of other pictures, so he made arrangements by which he secured control of the Savoy for one day and is thereby enabled to present the movie success at both houses.

Central Night School Graduation Exercises Will Be Held on June 1

Graduation exercises of the Central Night School will be held Wednesday, June 1, at 7 o'clock, in the auditorium of the Commercial High school. The commencement address will be given by M. M. Holloway, one of Fulton county's representatives in the state legislature. W. F. Dykes, superintendent of schools, will preside, and W. W. Gaines, president of the board of education, will deliver the diplomas.

The exercises will begin at 7 o'clock to prevent conflict with the Tech High commencement. Two class songs are slated, and the public is invited.

The graduates will be Bessie Louise Bissell, Lola Mae Breedlove, Edward Dyer Burdine, Annie Louise Dennard, Emily Margaret Edelkamp, Edgar Fuller, Hazel Georgia Gleason, Ada Gertrude Hendricks, Lila Elizabeth Hewitt, Hines L. Hill, Pearl Howington, Agnes Elizabeth Lee, Myrtle Irene Mays, Claudia Lenora Mays, Clifford L. Near, Jr., Gladys Constance Ogilvie, Mr. Louise Amanda Otwell, Ruth Julia Ribbins, Ida Ruden, Esther Alma Schwartz, Helen Goulding Stipe, George Elmer Tisinger, Mabel Allene Tuck, Margaret Madeline Vines, Mrs. R. A. Walters, Lois West, Walter Paul Tarver, Lillian May Boozer, William Olin Adcock, Solon J. Hardman.

COURT ORDER CLOSES BEAVER COTTON MILLS

Pending a hearing to determine the status of the Beaver Cotton mills, of Thomson, to be held June 11, United States Judge Samuel H. Sibley Friday issued an order that the mills be closed until the case is settled. The proceedings were brought to determine whether or not the Beaver mill is a part of the Couch Cotton Mills, Inc., now in receivership.

John T. Hardesty is receiver of the Beaver mills and he contends his mill is not a part of the Couch system. John K. Ottley, receiver of the Couch mills, contends the company is a part of that system.

FOUR BOYS CHARGED WITH "ROCKING" MAN

Judge T. O. Hathcock, in the municipal court, Friday, bound over to the criminal court of Atlanta four boys who were accused of taking part in the rocking of G. H. Allen when the latter escorted a young woman home from a picture show several nights. The boys bound over to the city court are Boss Shumate, John Wood, Joe Leston and Floyd Pass, the latter being charged with assault and battery and held on that count under $300 bond.

In addition to the four older youths, three younger boys were bound over to the juvenile court. They are Howard Stephens, Charles Likely, John L. Garrison.

Allen told the court that when he was taking the young woman home the boys began to "rock" him and one of them was cut by him during the attack. Judge Hathcock lectured the boys before binding them over.

FOUR DOCTORS GAVE HER UP

Through a Neighbor's Advice This Woman Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Kenosha, Wis.—"I suffered with a female trouble and at last was in bed for six weeks with what the doctors called inflammation of the bowels. Four of them said I could not live. A neighbor told me to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me from the start. When the doctor came I told him what I had taken and he said 'Throw my medicine away and keep on with the Pinkham medicine.' I did and it cured me. If more women would take your medicine they would not suffer so. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to lots of people and they have been satisfied."—Mrs. MARY RHAPSTOCK, 2701 Wisconsin St., Kenosha, Wisconsin.

When a woman is beset with such symptoms as irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, a displacement, backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness or the "blues" she should treat the cause of such conditions by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pitiful Paucity of Pitchers Gives Memphis Weird Combat

Frank Uses Everything But Bat Boy and Should Have Rung Him Into Game.

According to announcement last night, the Atlanta-Memphis game will be caleld at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon in order to permit both teams to catch trains. It is believed that John Suggs, who defeated he Chicks in the first game will be called at 2:45 o'clock be called upon to deliver, while Chambers or Marks will twirl the last game for the visitors.

BY FUZZY WOODRUFF.

Pitiful paucity of pitching possessed by the Crackers was never better exemplified than in yesterday's battle with the league leading Chickasaws, which it is needless to say that the Crackers lost and it is necessary to say that they lost by a score of 10-8. It is needless to say that they lost because Suggs and Markle had been worked against Memphis on the days immediately preceeding and when it came to choosing the man best suited to continue their victorious career, Manager Frank had the option or using one of the half dozen hurlers he has hanging around or employing his bat boy as a pitcher. The result would have been the same, though it is doubted that the bat boy would have walked as many men as the scintiliating stars that took turns flinging during the afternoon.

Frank tried Pierson and Bedgood and Purcell. Pierson had no control. Bedgood had that and nothing else. Pursell took the mound when the Memphii were tired of scoring and escaped scathless, but he was as wild as a down the river game with all the participants jingled and gave little hope that he is the Moses to lead the Crackers out of this pitching wilderness.

Crackers Hit Hard.

In the meantime, the Crackers hit everything that Tuero possessed. Doubles, triples and home runs fell from their bats in prodigal profusion, but Tuero walked nobody and all the good that the Crackers' seventeen hits hid them was to fatten individual batting averages.

At that the Crackers fought hard under most distressing conditions and there were some bright spots in their play, notably the base running of Joe Guyon, who stretched hits and kept his eyes open generally.

Pierson, a left hander, started for the Crackers under the general theory that the Memphis athletes are weak against left handed pitching. He didn't start any too auspiciously. He walked High and McMillan and the fans began to demand his canonization. McLarry's tap to the pitcher forced High at third, but McMillan reached that station on a wild pitch. Then Pierson mounted to heights by striking out Williams and was given an ovation by the big throng.

Start Out Briskly.

The Crackers scored one run in their half and should have scored a half dozen. Stow hit cleanly to center and Guyon sent him to second on a blow to right. Why Stow stopped there is a mystery, for Chambers kicked the ball around until he got tired and then lobbed it to the infield. Ritter then beat out a mean little hit to the pitcher and the bases were crowded, with nobody down. Stow was forced at the plate on Mayer's hard rap to High. Wingo lifted a Texas leaguer to center. The Crackers' runner had an idea that the ball would be caught. The Cracker athletes have all sorts of original ideas. So they hugged their bases, though there wasn't a chance in a million of Camp's reaching the ball, and but one run counted. Kaufman then hit into a double play.

Things happened in the third. As usual Pierson started by walking High. McMillan fanned, but Pierson was ultra generous and walked Camp. Then McLarry fanned. It being Pierson's time to walk somebody, he walked Williams after that sterling batsman had practically been retired by tipping a third strike, which Fuhrman dropped. Yockey then took a fast one in the small of the back and High was forced in. To add to the gayety of everything, Hungling smashed a triple to left and three runs poured across. Then Pierson wound up in a blaze of glory by whiffing Chambers.

The Crackers counted in their half on Ritter's walk and Mayer's double, and another in their fourth on triples by Kauffman and Fuhrman.

Finish for Pierson.

The fifth saw the finish of Pierson. With one down, William hit to left for three bases and scored on Yockey's single to center. Bedgood went in here and retired the side.

In this round the Crackers forged ahead. Guyon got a hit by winning a foot race with McLarry to first base. Ritter then singled to center, but was forced at second on Mayer's tap to McMillan. Wingo skied to Camp, but Kauffman was there in the pinch and sent Guyon home with a single to left. Mayer and Kauffman scored on Graff's three-bagger, but Fuhrman was an easy out.

Right away the Chicks broke up the ball game. With one down, High had a hit to short beat out and took second on Stow's wild peg to first. McMillan singled to left and High was held at third. Camp punched out a home run to left center. McLarry singled to right. Williams singled to left and took second when Wingo kicked the ball. McLarry scored on Yockey's single to right. A double steal was put on and Williams was killed at the plate and Hungling fanned.

Bedgood Is Through.

In the seventh Tuero singled and scored on High's triple. Bedgood sought the showers and Purcell started pitching and Memphis stopped getting runs.

The Crackers made their dying effort in the second half and counted a couple on Mayer's home run and hits by Kauffman, Fuhrman and Purcell.

Frank doesn't know who he will pitch today, probably the bat boy.

Dizzy Stars.

Griffin, Ga., May 27.—(Special.)—Carlyle continued his good hitting today by getting another home run and single out of four times at bat. This makes Carlyle's fourth circuit drive in as many days. Parks' all round work was the feature of the game. Out of five trips to the plate he hit two triples and two singles, besides fielding brilliantly. He also stole two bases.

Tie at Lindale.

Lindale, Ga., May 27.—(Special.)—With the score 8 to 6 in favor of Rome and Lindale at bat in the ninth inning and after the two first men had popped out to the infield, Driscoll rapped out a single to right and was followed by Mittwede with a double to right and then Brenner hit for a double to center-field and tied the score and the battle was on to 12 innings without a decision. It was an exciting game with equal number of fans from both Rome and Lindale as spectators.

Experts Are Shifting Allegiance

BY CLIFF WHEATLEY

Georges Now Granted a Chance

Although Jack Dempsey isn't a whit weaker than he was a month or two ago and despite the fact that Georges Carpentier, the challenger, has not strengthened a whole lot within the same length of time, the dopesters that granted the Frenchman not a look-in in March, are now coming to the front with statements that the world's heavyweight champion pugilist stands a fine chance to lose his title when the big fracas is pulled off on July 2.

There is little use to attach any significance to what the experts are tossing fits over. This shifting of faith is one of the regular stunts, staged for the benefit of Old Man Public, who is looked to for the record-breaking gate receipts that Messrs. Rickard, Dempsey and Carpentier will check after the festivities have been brought to close.

If the proper interest in a heavyweight championship is to be maintained, Old Man Public, that gentle-hearted old freight-payer, must be kept all excited over the situation, and this is hard to accomplish when the dope points in but one direction. And so the sands are shifting. Georges Carpentier is being granted a good chance to annex the heavyweight championship by those who could see nothing but the "tiger" a few short weeks back.

As a matter of fact, this pugilist from over the seas has loomed as good opposition for Dempsey since he discarded his horizon blue uniform for the less complicated togs of the ring fighter. He is a better boxer than Dempsey, a gool, clean hitter and possesses more intelligence than the champion has ever been granted with, or ever will be for that matter.

It's Dempsey's fight if Carpentier goes after a knockout in the early stages of the battle, because the power of Jack's wallop isn't grossly exaggerated by his conscientious press agents. Mr. Dempsey will very probably uncouple Monsieur Georges if the Frenchman foolishly steps in where angels wouldn't dare tread, but if Carpentier stays out, uses his brain and offers his punches at the opportune moment, Jack Dempsey will be in imminent danger of going back to the gutter, a defeated champion.

However, the public is becoming interested, which means that Carpentier's might will continue to be outlined, and the gate receips will benefit through the strategy.

Barrington Match Looks Good.

Dummy Barrington, the Birmingham welter, will make his initial appearance in Atlanta Tuesday night, when he will be pitted against Kid Karst, the Fort McPherson soldier, who defeated Jack Denham at the Business Men's Athletic club some time ago. Barrington's record is well known in this city and Slagtown scribes assert that Karst will find his hands full in looking after the visitor.

Barrington is described as a hard hitter, and his success against Eddie Hanlon certainly proves this feature of his work. Eddie lasted about half a round, going out for keeps when Dummy bounced a terrific right to the jaw. Hanlon stated recently that he had never been hit so hard in his life, and Eddie's face has halted many promising clouts.

Miller believes that his club will continue to prove popular with the local fans, and announces that many improvements are being made, additions to the comfort of the railbirds that will be completed in time for Tuesday's cards. Electric fans, for instance, are being installed, and there is no reason why hot weather should prevent any of the fans from coming.

His bill is good enough and if Matchmaker Miller only succeeds in cooling the atmosphere with electric fans, the ticket holders won't have any room for kicks.

Martin Burke Appears In Champion's Camp.

Reports of what hard lives Jack Dempsey's sparring mates are leading at Atlantic City have not alarmed Martin Burke in the least. He reported for duty Thursday in spite of a bum ear that has been giving him trouble. This tin ear looked bad when the New Orleans boy fought Downey at the Auditorium, but Martin evidently isn't afraid of Dempsey and his choicest blows.

He has boxed with the champion in many exhibition bouts and probably knows Dempsey's style better than any other pugilist in America. Followers of Dempsey's training activities are predicting that the southerner will be the only sparring partner in camp to stick through the grind, which is a nice compliment for this New Orleans pugilist.

TIM O'DOWD IS IN TOWN

Tim O'Dowd returned Friday from Macon, where he boxed a draw with Paddy Ryan in six rounds, and with Tim on hand again, only one boxer, Dummy Barrington, booked on the Tuesday night card at the Business Men's A. C., is missing.

Barrington will reach the city Monday. His manager, Tommy Tompkins, writes matchmaker Miller that his protege is progressing nicely in training and he has no doubt that the Dummy will take Kid Karst over the jumps in Atlanta.

Indications are that the Birmingham favorite will be slightly outweighed by the soldier lad, but Barrington's record is one that commands respect, and Karst is laboring hard to be in the proper shape for him.

Much interest is manifest in the main attraction. For more than a year, fans have heard of the Dummy, but never have they seen him in action. He fought Larry Avera three times in his home town, winning twice and losing once. Only a few weeks ago, the Slagville mauler knocked out Eddie Hanlon out in one round, and Hanlon later gave Avera a boxing lesson, so it would seem the Dummy is quite capable of taking care of himself.

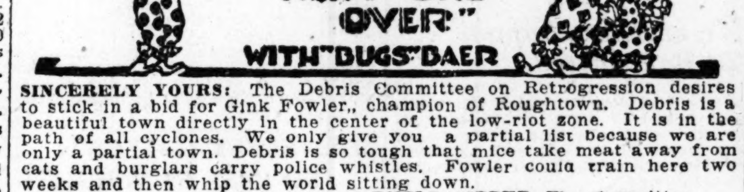

Work of installing electric fans in the new fight club is progressing rapidly, Miller declares, and by Tuesday night, all will be set for the bugs to be comfortable and find the show thoroughly enjoyable.

SIX FLIGHTS IN AMATEUR

Nashville, Tenn., May 27.—Six flights, a club team match and the customary trophy for the low qualifying score constitute the main features on the program of the nineteenth annual amateur championship of the Southern Golf association, according to announcement by H. F. Smith, president, today.

The tournament will be held over the Belle Meade course of the Nashville Golf and Country club, June 21-25.

The annual meeting of the association will be held on the evening of June 21. Local preparations are being made for the entertainment of the largest number of visiting golfers that ever attended a southern championship.

SINCERELY YOURS: The Debris Committee on Retrogression desires to stick in a bid for Gink Fowler,, champion of Roughtown. Debris is a beautiful town directly in the center of the low-riot zone. It is in the path of all cyclones. We only give you a partial list because we are only a partial town. Debris is so tough that mice take meat away from cats and burglars carry police whistles. Fowler couia train here two weeks and then whip the world sitting down.

Hoping to remain from you, ARNOLD GIPPER, The Committee.

MR. GIPPER doesn't know enough to blow on hot soup. If Gink Fowler planted one boot in Debris, the town would fold up like a camping outfit. The contest would be as one-sided as a rocking chair with one rocker off. Mike Donaldson, trainer of Gink, has made arrangements to train at Maverstraw. Gink will take his one-toothbrush to that town on Monday. All other towns are cured like the ills of childhood.

HAVERSTRAW IS 33 miles loose from New York city. It is one the West Shore railroad. All the big brickyards are located in Haverstraw, so Gink will be easily able to pick up the right answer to a tough question. If anybody tries to put the Thomas Edison on tne champion he will answer them with sermons in stones.

THE GLUTT, LIFELONG enemy of Gink, has volunteered to act as eating partner to the champion. In picking out Haverstraw we were forced to turn down the following splendid offers:

WORMVILLE: SITUATED in the heart of Disease mountains. Mayor lives in town jail and is elected for life. Population is one million exbartenders, each one willing to meet the winner of the fight on a dark night.

SIDESWIPE: THIS town has a fighter who will knock Gink so flat that he will think a toothpick is a flagpole. All the roofs have hinges on them in case the home brew starts to go democratic.

CHAMPION FALLS: We passed up this burg because we didn't like the name of the town.

WEEVIL JUNCTION: Town is the result of a big wreck on the railroad. Every passenger on train busted his big toe. Population is fifty thousand. Answer quick because everybody will be able to walk in about a week.

DANIELS: Named after John Daniel, the gorilla. Principal building is a municipal gas tank. Town council asked congress to .ax mayhem, arson and homicide in an effort to protect home industries. Will give Gink the keys to the oyster beds.

A Double-Header Today for Men in Rich's 54th Anniversary!

Men's $1.25 and $1.50 Shirts, 79c

—You wouldn't expect a 79c shirt to be very good, would you? No? Then forget about the fact that you can buy these shirts of madras, percales and Bedford cords at 79c. In reality they are $1.25 and $1.50 shirts—so consider 'em as such! Lots of patterns to select from. Sizes 14 and 17.

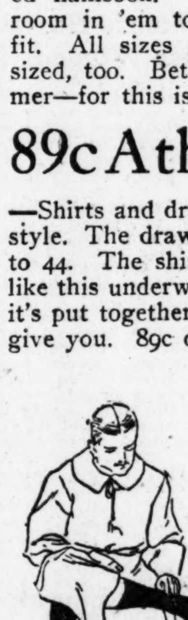

$2.50 Shirts, $1.69

—Men—they're made of madras—that good, heavy material that wears like an old friend. The kind of shirt that'll go to the laundry many, many times and come back ready for wear without a trip to the darning basket first. In woven or figured effects—a big variety of patterns.

Men's $4 to $6 Shirts, $2.97

—Silk, silk mixed and satin striped fiber silk shirts. Exceptionally well made. Lots of colors to select from—quiet effects and others inclined to be a bit gay. They're not the very best shirt in the world—but they are mighty, mighty good. It's a feat—even for the Anniversary to bring them priced as low as $2.97.

$4 to $6 Bathing Suits $2.94

—A very special purchase lies back of this Sale. A factory was going out of business. We simply cleaned up all the fine wool and worsted bathing suits they had on hand. That's lucky—just when every man is feeling the call of the ol' swimming hole—and last year's suit seems too old to wear. All sorts of color combinations of maroon, black, navy, green, brown and red. Sizes 36 to 46. Selling at $2.94!

$1 Union Suits, 69c

—These are athletic style. Made of fine checked nainsook. Cut full and large. Plenty of room in 'em to be comfortable—but still they fit. All sizes 36 to 44—and they're correctly sized, too. Better lay in a supply for the summer—for this is cool, cool underwear.

89c Athletic Wear, 69c

—Shirts and drawers of nainsook. Made athletic style. The drawers are knee length. In sizes 30 to 44. The shirts in all sizes 34 to 44. You'll like this underwear. Like it for the durable way it's put together. Like it for the comfort it will give you. 89c quality, 69c.

89c Silk Socks, 49c

—These are good socks of black thread silk. Full fashioned. Have lisle garter tops, of course—to make 'em wear the longer. All sizes are here from 9½ to 11. The good kind of socks you never, never think of finding for 49c!

50c Mercerized Socks, 29c

These are dandy socks for all-the-time wear—and the sort you especially need when you're playing golf, tennis, baseball, etc. For they are good and firmly knitted. In black, white and brown with white clocking at the side. In all sizes 10 to 11½. They are regular 50c socks, mind you, for only 29c!

50c and 75c Ties, 3 for $1

—These are pretty four-in-hand ties of silk. In striped and figured patterns. Also foulard effects. A large variety of designs and colors to select from—in fact, the correct tie for almost any occasion is in this lot. It's an opportunity you can't pass up when such ties are 3 for $1!

75c and $1 Bow Ties, 59c

—Just a little above half price! In silks of summer-time weight. Plain, striped and polka dot effects. You can have a tie for every suit when the Anniversary brings you such lovely ones at only 59c each. They're good as can be, too—will last for a long time.

Hunter Wins British Amateur Golf Title, Defeating Graham

Bobby Jones Makes Short Speech for the American Golf Team--British Coming to United States.

Hoylake, May 27.—(By Associated Press.)—W. I. Hunter, of the Walmer and Kingsdown Golf club, is the champion amateur golfer of Great Britain. Today, in the final of the championship tournament played over the Hoylake course Hunter defeated Allan Graham, of the Royal Liverpool club, 12 up and 11 to play in a thirty-six hole contest.

Of thirteen Americans who started in the tournament, F. J. Wright, of Boston, the last survivor, was eliminated in the sixth round Thursday by Bernard Darwin, of Woking, who in the afternoon semi-finals play succumbed to Hunter, the winner of today's finals.

Graham, in his play of today was badly out of form. In extenuation of this, however, it was said he had received word that his father was critically ill and not expected to survive. It was learned that he competed in the final mainly to keep faith with his aged father, whose desire it was that his son play through the tournament. The margin by which Hunter was victorious constitutes a record for the amateur championship of Great Britain.

To Visit America.

At the presentation of prizes for the tournament announcement was made that it was probable a team of British amateurs would be sent to the United States next year for a return match. During the presentation of the trophy, Darwin came in for high praise for his part in the tournament. Gershom Stewart, Royal Liverpool club, in referring to Darwin's victories over the American players, the last of whom was Wright, said the Briton had "done one hundred per cent more than any other player in the saving of championship to this country."

After presentation of the honors, Francis Ouimet, Bobby Jones and W. C. Fownes, Jr., were discovered on the club house balcony. Speeches were demanded amid applause and Jones and Fownes both responded. Fownes announced the matter of sending a British team to the United States in 1922 was in the hands of leading golfers and was progressing favorably. He praised the treatment accorded the Americans and declared this would greatly benefit international relations.

Bobby Speaks.

Jones, after much good natured bantering between himself and Ouimet, who meantime had come up, as to who should respond to the request for a speech, advanced to the rail and said:

"Well, now that I am shouldered with the job, I feel safe in saying on behalf of the whole team that all of us have had a great time. I don't think we have enjoyed anything more than this competition."

Mr. Stewart, in his address, laid emphasis on the value of the participation of the American players in the tournament toward fostering international good feeling.

Commenting on the calibre of the golfing ability of the Americans, Mr. Stewart observed that the Americans, although they had not won the title, could carry home the satisfaction that "they made us nervous until the last one of them was out."

It was learned authoritatively tonight that none of the Americans who competed at Hoylake except possibly Charles Evans, Jr., the American champion, who started for Paris today by airplane, will take part in the French championships at Chantilly. Francis Ouimet, Bobby Jones, F. J. Wright, J. Wood Platt and W. C. Fownes, Jr., will leave tomorrow for Turnberry to witness the play in the women's open championship next Monday. Platt and Jesse Guilford said tonight that they would sail for home June 4.

MAD HATTER RACE WINNER

Belmont Park, N. Y., May 27.—The Metropolitan handicap at one mile, the first big event of the local racing season, was won here today by Mad Hatter. Audacious finished second and Yellowhand third.

Mad Hatter, running in colors of the Rancocas stable and ridden by Sande, defeated a field of eight.

The winner was the outstanding favorite and justified public confidence by taking the lead at the start and holding it throughout, winning from the foreign stable's Audacious by three lengths.

Yellowhand, in the C. A. Stoneham colors, captured third place after finishing fast through the stretch to overtake Senning's Park, which had raced in third position for the greater part of the journey.

There was little of the spectacular in the event, the first and second horses racing in these positions throughout, well in advance of the rest. The race was worth $8,160 to the winner and was run in 1:37 2-5.

Giants Win One.

Baston, May 27.—New York took a free-hitting game 9 to 8 from Boston today, the visitors using three pitchers and the losers four. Southworth opened the Boston's night with a triple, and scored on Cruise's single. After Boeckel had singled, Cruise was declared out at the plate. Holke followed with a single and Eayrs, batting for Ford, bounded into a double play.

RICKARD TO BE GUEST OF HONOR AT DINNER

New York, May 27.—Tex Rickard, promoter of the Dempsey-Carpentier bout will be the guest of honor at a "clean sportsmanship" dinner here June 30. More than twenty-five hundred sportsmen from all parts of the country, and some from Europe, are expected to attend the function, a testimonial to Rickard for his efforts to uplift boxing. Most of the diners will be here to attend the title contest in Jersey City, July 2.

PETE HERMAN IS DEFEATED

Boston, May 27.—Young Montreal of Providence was awarded the decision over Pete Herman, of New Orleans, former bantamweight champion, in a ten-round out-door bout here tonight, repeating his recent success in a contest with Herman.

TILDEN MAY PLAY TODAY

Paris, May 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—The schedule of the matches in which Americans will play tomorrow, the first day of the world's hard court tennis championshiu tournament at St. Cloud, follows:

Arnold Jones will meet M. Cousin, of France, at 2 p. m. Two hours later Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, American women's singles title holder, and Miss Edith Sigourney will meet Suzanne Lenglen, the French women's singles champion, and Madame Golding, runner-up in the French national championship. At 6 p. m. Francis T. Hunter will meet M. Albarran, of France. William T. Tilden, II., of Philadelphia, the world's grass court champion, has protested against a day of enforced idleness and the first round of his match against Eduarde Flaquers, of Spain, may be played. Tilden this morning received a cable message from Julian S. Myrick, president of the United States National Lawn Tennis association, wishing him good luck. The Americans, with the exception of Tilden, put in their usual pratice this morning.

AMATEURS TO PLAY TODAY

Another section of the amateur baseball schedule will be used this afternoon when several of the best teams in the city meet on the various diamonds. Five leagues will have games, and from indications they will be good ones, for most of them are about evenly matched.

Today's schedule is as follows:

City League.

Agogas vs. Atlanta Joint Terminal, northwest Piedmont, 4 p. m.; Ramblers vs. Tri Mu, Grant Park, 4 p. m.; Fort McPherson vs. Tech Rehabs, Fort McPherson, 3 p. m.; Commodore Feds vs. College Park, Federal Prison, 2 p. m.

SMITHIES IN MACON TODAY

The Tech High school team will leave early this morning for Macon, where this afternoon they will take on the Lanier High school nine. These two teams have met once before this season, and this on an Atlanta diamond. Tech High made a brilliant rally in the last frame with the score against them and won the game on this occasion.

This is the last G. I. A. A game of the present season and is causing considerable interest in Macon, as this is the largest game that the Bibb county capital has a chance to see.

Georges to See Bout.

New York, May 27.—Georges Carpentier will leave his secluded training quarters at Manhasset, L. I., next Monday, long enough to witness the Mike Gibbons-Bartfield and Tom Gibbons-Clifford bouts at Ebbets field, Brooklyn. He will be introduced from the ring in his final public appearance before meeting Jack Dempsey at Jersey City, July 2.

Keeping Faith With the Public Interest

With the cost of living and the cost of doing business going steadily downward, the Printing Firms listed below do NOT think it right to the buyers of printing, to increase the cost of printing at this time.

This increase would follow if the printing work-week were reduced from 48 to 44 hours, as demanded by the Union Printers.

Shorter hours mean decreased production and increased prices.

"BOUND IN CONSCIENCE."

A significant, and a much to be commended, contribution to the discussion growing out of the recent public denunciation of lynching, peonage and lawlessness in general in Georgia by Governor Dorsey, is the statement of Federal District Attorney Hooper Alexander, which appeared in the last issue of The Constitution.

The statement is of particular significance in that never at any time in the public career of either has Mr. Alexander been in political sympathy with Governor Dorsey.

The political alignments of these two prominent Georgians have invariably been in diametric opposition.

"But in this instance," says the district attorney, "I feel bound in conscience, no matter what my relations to him have been, to do my small part to uphold his hands!"

There are but two sides to this question: One, in favor of the maintenance of law and order as opposed to mob outlawry and peonage, whether practiced on a large or a small scale; the other, a justification of mob violence and a general disregard for law in Georgia!

We do not mean to infer by this that all who have criticised the action of the governor in this instance take the latter position.

And yet, inferentially and unfortunately, they put themselves in a position where those who do assume that attitude may bolster their defiance of law and order by the claim that they have a backing to which they are not entitled, for some of those who have taken issue with the governor as to the method of his presentation, certainly agree with him in his plea for law and order.

Unquestionably, there is in Georgia a small element that both condones and participates in the practices denounced by the governor.

Our lynching and court records supply abundant proof of that.

It is no answer to impugn the governor's motive by charging him with political prompting.

If that were true, certainly Hooper Alexander would be the last man in Georgia to line up with him in his plea for law and order.

But the governor has removed all possible doubt on this score by his repeated declaration that he is a candidate for no office, will be a candidate for no office, and would accept no office within the gift of the people.

The incident of the governor's pamphlet, by and large, will have served a wholesome purpose if as a result of it the conscience of the state is aroused to the point where an overwhelming law-abiding majority will not allow the state to be misrepresented and discredited by the few who condone mob law.

Perhaps there have been misunderstanding and misinterpretation on both sides of this discussion—both among those who criticise and among those who indorse the attitude of the governor.

Certainly no decent, law-abiding citizen can defend mob law, and after all, the only thing for which the governor has been contending is the triumph of law and order.

The admirable statement of the federal district attorney gives strength to his right arm in such a cause!

THE BOOSTING AD.

Writing of "Business Backbone," The LaGrange (Ga.) Reporter says that "the way to meet hard times is with hard advertising."

It is noted that "big advertisers all over the country are enlarging their appropriations for newspaper advertising and are cutting down appropriations, if necessary, for other kinds."

"And this," says the LaGrange paper, "is not mere talk"—

"It is the solid, concrete truth, based upon actual figures given out by the country's largest advertisers in various lines of business.

"If that system is good for the larger business concerns in all parts of the country, including Atlanta and LaGrange, it ought to be as good for the smaller business concerns."

Business boosters in a number of the smaller Georgia communities have financed home advertising campaigns and purchased page-space in the local newspapers, setting forth the business advantages of their towns and contributing territory: and there have been good results in every instance.

They do not intend that their local papers shall be circulated without sufficient representation, in an advertising way, of every worthy interest and enterprise in their respective localities.

That is the way to make business quicken its pace to the small town capitals; it's the "whooping-it-up-way," and it puts new life and spirit in the people.

Because of this business boosting spirit, The Marietta (Ga.) Journal says that "signs of prosperity are bobbing up here and there, and it looks like matters may soon get back to normal."

And that is not only speaking for one section, but for all.

There is no better sign of a town's business prosperity than notices in its local newspapers directing attention to new advertising.

Advertising puts a town on the map, and keeps it there.

AS TO MEXICO.

While the position expressed by the president of Mexico regarding diplomatic negotiations between this country and Mexico falls short of meeting the conditions stipulated in the note recently transmitted to that government by Secretary Hughes, there is no occasion for apprehension, as to future political developments south of the Rio Grande so far as the United States is concerned.

President Obregon very frankly intimates the unwillingness of Mexico to yield one iota of Mexican pride, or national sovereignty, or of its rights guaranteed under the rules of international law, as a price of recognition by the American government.

In dealing with the Mexican situation in its present status there are many elements entering into it which must be taken into consideration.

First, we must have due regard for the native Castillian pride and sensitiveness of the better element of the Mexican people—of which President Obregon himself and his chief lieutenants are worthy representatives.

Then, we must bear in mind the fact that down in Mexico the spirit of revolution and anarchy is still far from dead; that there is a menacing soviet element that must be reckoned with, and that there are plenty of buzzards perched above the capitol watching for some act on the part of the administration that might be used as a pretext upon which to launch another attempt to forcibly snatch the reins of government from Obregon's hands.

Obregon is none too secure in his position at the head of Mexican governmental affairs, though more so, apparently, than any predecessor of his has been within the last decade; and in his negotiations with this or any other government he cannot afford to make any concession that might form the basis of appeal to the incendiary, rebellious and illiterate element of the Mexican people.

Our government can well afford to meet Mexico even more than half way in order to resume diplomatic and friendly relations with it—not in a spirit of selfishness, not for what it would mean to us; but in a spirit of helpfulness to the Mexican government and to the Mexican people themselves, and for what it would mean to them.

And, while President Obregon may not be willing to go as far toward meeting our requirements as our government may think he should, and while the Mexican government under his leadership may not be as solid and as independent of the rebellious element as it might be, still we must not lose sight of the fact that Obregon seems to hold the key to Mexican recovery.

It is to be hoped that Washington will not stand inflexibly on the terms laid down in the Hughes note if recognition can be brought about as a result of negotiations on a give-and-take basis.

The main thing is to restore diplomatic relations!

That done, the future can be trusted to take care of itself.

If recognition under such terms should demonstrate that we had taken too much for granted, it would be a very simple matter to sever relations.

Interest in the Edison questions has made the relativity theory look like a back number.

Just From Georgia

Coming Consolation.

I.

When we're melting down in Billville 'twill be cheerful to the soul
To know that folks are freezin' where the Arctic billows roll;
That the dim sun will be glancing over glaciers ghostly white,
Where the Polar bear is prancing o'er the snow-fields with delight!

II.

Then we'll bear the heat and burden of the sizzing-whizzing day,
In the thought that folks are freezing on the ice-fields far away!
For even if the summer sends the sunshine through your soul,
There'll be still this consolation;—We'll be 'way ahead on coal!

Some Hen!

Here's thankful comment from the Commerce News:—

"The Carrollton Free Press tells of a Carroll county hen that laid four eggs in five hours. God bless that old hen. She has no notion of going on a strike. She is doing her dead level best to increase production. She wants to reduce the high cost of living. She is not demanding fewer hours and more pay. When worms get scarce she scratches the harder. We want some of her stock. We will pay a fancy price for a setting of her eggs, especially if her tribe has more than one gizzard."

Today's Talk

TIME.

We sometimes think of time as something measured. But it really is not. It is a running affair. Time will always be.

But in it our lives are measured and fully appraised.

We may romp with time. We may even ride with it at its own pace. But we cannot lag beside it and expect to grow or to become useful.

Take those who live the longest lives—they are the hseful, busy, cheerful sort. I think a few, some who have closed their life book and some who are still reading in it: John Burroughs, Carnegie, Edison, John Bigelow, Gladstone, Chauncey M. Depew, Mme. Bernhardt.

Bernhardt was recently asked where she found the time to do so much. She replied that the more one wants to do the more time one can find for doing it. "Life is always new," she said.

The love of doing and living is what keeps life young and full of attraction.

I heard Frank Bacon say the other day that he tried for ten years to interest producers in his play "Lightnin'," but in all that time he could not get anyone to read it clear through. One man finally did, however, and produced it. The result has been the most remarkable success in the history of American production. The play is closing its third year!

Time doesn't mean much to a man with an iron spirit. He treads right through it.

It isn't the hours that one works, but the hours that one accomplishes that count. There are those who are able to concentrate more actual results in an hour than many do in a day. Take the sum total of what Theodore Roosevelt accomplished in his lifetime of but a little more than 60 years. Most men could not have done it in 100 years. The acts of this one man's life will extend through centuries.

Time may even be called a commodity. For we must have it to mix with what we are. So that we may become—something!

Bits of New York Life

BY O. O. M'INTYRE

New York, May 27.—Fleshly yogis and their youthful sirens are trying desperately to find some beacon light of joy in the fog in which prohibition has enmeshed them. Cafes have become intolerable since a bulging hip brings the clanging patrol.

Even the sound-proof midnight supper rooms hold the element of danger. What to do! What to do! Even to go on the hunt of pleasure with the hollow tube walking stick—holding three or four shots of hooch—is like stalking deer with a brass band. Canes are being searched.

Just now the midnight sons and daughters are finding some relief from the dreadful ennui in the private apearance at apartment house parties of Mickey the Dope. He is a grotesque figure who has seeped up from the East Side in an all-fitting dress suit, brown shoes and straw hat.

He is a singer of wierd ditties of his own making. They are not risque—merely blatantly vulgar. Mickey the Dope, his eyes ablaze with cocaine, has a voice sounding like the noise of a strangled turkey gobbler. Filled with drugs, his hot brain in a dizzy tumult, he twitches and chants, and most of the time his gibberish is not understandable.

To a normal person, the effect is eerie, but the tenderloin crowds applaud and shout their approval. Not to have seen Mickey the Dope is tantamount to a confession that you do not belong—that you are hopelessly unsophisticated.

Mickey is said to have an appreciation of his value, for he charges $100 for his private appearance, and the most of it he collects in advance so that he may visit the dope peddlars and fortify himself for his appearance.

The joy-seekers have no thought of the stricken wreck's plight, of the torture he endures when he emerges from the shadow world in which he lives under the spell of cocaine magic. What is a human life when one must be amused?

It was during the entr acte of a musical comedy. A man known for his wealth in a city where millionaires are not unusual strolled up and down the promenade in the foyer with his wife. A dazzling, bewitching blonde came up to him and gushed: "Why, how are you Mr. Barnes?"—although that was not the exact name she used. He looked blank. The blonde was puzzled. "Aren't you Mr. Paul Barnes?" He shook his head. She begged his pardon and in a state of confusion departed. Something about the husband's manner excited the wife's suspicion. A little sleuthing. Four apartments rented under the name of "Mr. Paul Barnes" were found. And Mr. Barnes" is off for Europe and the wife is holding daily consultations with her legal advisers.

The downtown Broadway serve yourself restaurants have returned to the 5-cent ham sandwich. It is not a corpulent affair, but it is a sandwich and more for the money than the 25-cent wartime ham sandwiches were. There has been little change in prices in the higher-priced eating places.

The law put its flat foot on the neck of art again down in Greenwich village. An art model's ball scheduled for this week has been surpressed in advance. The poets and thinkers and writers and thinkers and shipping clerks and thinkers and retired thinkers are very much upset. Some of the models had gone away up on Fifth avenue and spent 5 cents for material to drape themselves for the event. Now the material will have to be used for pen-wipers or some other thing that is not at all artistic.

HEALTH TALKS

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

TOILET OF THE TOOTHBRUSH.

Dr. William Rice, dean of Tufts College Dental school, advises that the mother or nurse should begin brushing a child's teeth as soon as the child begins taking a mixed diet and even before this if there are evidences of accretions upon the surfaces of the teeth. He recommends a toothbrush small enough to pass between lip and cheek and the surfaces of the teeth, and with stiffles moderately brist. The brush should be soaked in boiling water prior to first use. The brushing should not be so vigorous as to injure the gums.

Dr. Rice says that experiments have shown that a toothbrush rinsed in water after use and then placed in a closed receptacle harbors many more bacteria than one similarly rinsed and then left hanging in the air to dry. He therefore advises rinsing the toothbrush in hot water after use and hanging it to dry in the air, where dust cannot reach it.

Brushing the teeth is a weak compromise with a faulty diet. Were our food less "doctored," less denaturized by excessive milling, our teeth would certainly be stronger by reason of more normal exercise in mastication and the mineral nutriment derived from undenaturized foods but wanting in such sad substitutes as white bread, white sugar, polished rice, etc.

One aspect of the tooth brushing question which certainly interests a surgeon or physician who understands the principles or technic of asepsis, is the possible spreading of infection about the mouth from one little cavity.

My own notion is that we should visit the dentist more frequently.

ASKS ABROGATION OF HUNTLEY BOND IN SECOND CASE

Memphis, Tenn., May 27.—Counsel for W. L. Huntley, banker recently acquitted of a charge of receiving stolen property in connection with the disposal here of liberty bonds alleged to have been stolen in a hold-up in Brooklyn last November, sought today through habeas corpus proceedings to have Huntley relieved of a bond requirement on another charge of a similar nature on the ground that both charges involved the same alleged transaction and that acquittal on the first charge, in effect, nullified the second.

Huntley was found not guilty of a charge which involved $65,000 of bonds. The second charge which listed a total of $135,000 of bonds and is said to include the $65,000 named in the indictment on which he was acquitted. Counsel for the state sought to have the second charge nolle prossed but attorneys for Huntley contended for a verdict of not guilty or the right of trial.

Lawyers declare the point raised—whether the question of matter of a former acquittal on the same charge can be decided collaterally in a habeas corpus proceeding or may be acted upon only by a court of proper jurisdiction to try the case on its merits—never has been decided by a Tennessee high court.

Sam O. Bates, county attorney-eneral, in opposing the application for a writ of habeas copus, contended that the claim of former jeopardy could be made only in a court of competent jurisdiction to try the case on its merits.

URGES SUSPENSION OF OIL WELL DRILLING

Washington, May 27.—Attorney-General Daugherty recommended to the supreme court today that it instruct Federal Receiver Delano, in charge of the Red river oil lands involved in the original suit between Texas and Oklahoma, to stop further drilling of wells, except where required to hold leases, until the oil market recovers.

"The rapid decline in the price of oil from $3.50 to $1.50 per barrel, and the failure of salaries and wages to promptly adjust themselves to that decline," the government motion said, "have materially changed the outlook since the date of the order under which the receiver is acting. . . . It should follow, of course, that the receiver's organization should be further reduced so as to retain only a personnel sufficient to operate economically the wells now producing, dispose of the products and care for the property."

FORMER AMBASSADOR TO FRANCE DYING

New York, May 27.—Fear that Brigadier General Horace Porter, distinguished civil war veteran, and former ambassador to France, might not live through the day was expressed this afternoon at his home, where he has been ill for some time. He is in his eighty-fourth year.

$675,000 TO BE SPENT ON NEW ORLEANS PORT

New Orleans, May 27.—A total of $675,000 will be spent in port improvements to assist the development of the government barge line, it was announced here today. These improvements include an extension to the public grain elevator, loading facilities and a transit warehouse for handling flour and tobacco.

Bishop Keiley Appeals To Christian Sentiment

Editor Constitution: Will you permit me to call the attention of the readers of The Constitution to some practical thoughts, which seem to have been overlooked, or entirely forgotten recently.

With regard to the sensational charges recently made by Governor Dorsey, the question is not: What were the motives which prompted his statement, but: Are the charges true?

There may have been inaccuracies, or even some misstatements and exaggerations in the governor's pamphlet, but the only question is: Are the facts sufficient to bear out the charges made by him?

I have never met the governor, in fact I never saw him, but he must have had the confidence of Georgians, for they made him governor twice, and as he has done an unpopular thing by calling public attention to Georgia's shame, I am bound to assume he was honest.

Is there an honest, truth-telling man in Georgia that does not know that negroes have been burned at the stake, hanged, shot and drowned in this state by mobs, and that no one has ever been punished for these atrocious murders?

What is to be the result of Governor Dorsey's charges?

Will the Christian sentiment of Georgia be so aroused that an end will be put to these horrible crimes?

Will the legislature act?
I do not believe it will.
I hope I may be wrong!
Is there a remedy?
Yes.

But God grant that the state will not force the federal government to apply it.

BENJ. J. KEILEY,
Bishop of Savannah.

Savannah, Ga., May 26, 1921.

BUGG ESCAPES WRECK ON LOOSENED TRACKS

Fitzgerald, Ga., May 27.—(Special.)—According to reports here today, an attempt was made Thursday to derail Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic trains between Rebecca and Doublerun by removing spikes from several feet of track. Two freight trains are said to have passed over the weak place, which was discovered by a section gang a short time before the west bound passenger train, to which Colonel B. L. Bugg's special car was attached, passed.

According to the reports, which Superintendent R. H. McKay refused to comment upon, the rails had been spread by the two freight trains in a way that would have made a wreck inevitable had the passenger train struck them at average speed. Mayor J. L. Pittman today instructed the police to strictly enforce the city ordinances in regard to crowds congregating on the streets and sidewalks, and cases will be made against all who refuse to keep moving. The move is supposed to have been made to avert clashes between groups of strikers and strike breakers.

VIRGINIA CITY HIT HARD BY CLOUDBURST

Lynchburg, Va., May 27.—Many thousands of dollars' worth of damage was done here last night by a cloudburst, probably the heaviest loser being the local plant of the Consolidated Textile corporation, whose plant was flooded and 600,000 yards of cotton cloth was damaged.

The city was a heavy loser by street washouts and several street car lines were tied up during the morning rush hours by washouts and tracks covered with mud. Great damage was done to trucking in and near the city on creek lowlands.

The store of C. S. Hutter, grain and building supply dealer, was destroyed by fire stated by the lime stock in the building being flooded by the cloudburst.

Fireman C. B. Rober was killed by and electric wire which supplied current for the Southern railway block signals falling on his neck.

The fire loss was probably $50,000, the owner declining to supply exact figures or state the amount of insurance carried.

DELMAR ROBERTSON WINS ORATORS' MEDAL

Delmar Robertson, of Atlanta, has been announced the winner of the Watler P. Andrews gold medal in the oratorical contest held Thursday evening at the Georgia Tech Y. M. C. A. The subject of young Robertson's address was "Henry Grady," and he was awarded the decision over five other contestants.

The winner of the medal is the son of Charles E. Robertson, secretary of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and has successfully completed his first year at Tech, having graduated with high honors last year from the Tech High school.

PILGRIMS SCORCH ON DESERT SANDS

Big Class Hikes to Mecca. Yaarab to Entertain Al Chymia Nobles, of Memphis, Sunday.

The one hundred and twenty-one unregenerate sons of the desert who crossed the hot sands of the desert in a symbolical pilgrimage to Mecca last night at the ceremonial session of Yaarab Temple were signally honored by edict of Illustrious Potentate Henry C. Heinz. Whereas former classes have sat in the ante-room, a prey to misgivings as to their fate, while the nobility were seated with oriental display, last night's class was brought into the Masjeed d' jama El Kebir to witness the pageantry of oriental splendor.

The opening scene of the ceremonial disclosed the potentate seated upon his throne in state, surrounded by his divan and viziers. As the curtain was raised the band entered, followed by the patrol, then the oriental band, followed by the chanters. After a spectacular display in marching formations to the music of the band three organizations retired, leaving the oriental band, to the music of which Mirzala, the spectacular dancer of the court of the Kedar of Kahn, performed a weird Dervish dance. Following this the patrol, under the direction of Captain F. E. Van der Veer gave an exhibition drill, every movement of which was so perfect that it brought rounds of cheers from the nobility. The entertainment feature concluded with four songs by the chanters, under the direction of Frank A. Cundell, the concert having been specially arranged, and made a big hit with the huge crowd present.

Atwood Called Home.

Past Imperial Potentate John H. Atwood, who had remained in the city since Grady day for the especial purpose of attending the ceremonial, was unexpectedly called home Friday afternoon, so the nobility missed a great treat in hearing an address by this distinguished Shriner. Yaarab's band gave a splendid concert between the first and second sections of the ceremonial, and several splendid numbers were exquisitely rendered.

Sunday, Yaarab Temple will be hosts to the Illustrious Potentate of Al Chymia Temple, of Memphis, who, with his divan, band patrol, chanters and about fifty nobles and ladies, are making a pilgrimage to Jacksonville, Fla., stopping in Chattanooga Saturday to attend the dedication of Alhambra Temple's mosque in that city; in Atlanta Sunday and in Macon Monday, where they will attend a ceremonial session of Al Sihah Temple.

The nobles of Al Chymia will be met by the nobility of Yaarab Temple Sunday morning on arrival of their train at 8 o'clock and entertained during their stay in the city. The band, patrol and chanters of Yaarab Temple will entertain the members of the band, patrol and chanters of Al Chymia. After breakfast at one of the hotels the bands will attend services at the Central Congregational church at 11 a. m. Yaarab's patrol will put on an exhibition drill at Piedmont park at 10 a. m., and at 1 p. m., the visitors will be given a luncheon at the Masonic temple.

Automobiles Wanted.

Illustrious Potentate Henry C. Heinz has requested that members of Yaarab Temple will bring sufficient automobiles to Masonic temple at 2:30 p. m. to transport the entire crowd to the Scottish Rite Crippled Children's hospital, where at 3 p. m. the band and chanters of Al Chymia Temple will give concerts, following which the visitors will be carried on sight-seeing tours about the city and suburbs. Members of Yaarab who will proffer their autos for this entertainment are requested to notify Potentate Heinz by phone or in person today.

Being busy with last night's ceremonial and arrangements for entertaining Al Chymia Temple Sunday, illustrious Potentate Heinz was unable to attend the dedication ceremonies at Chattanooga today. He sent to Alhambra Temple as his special representative Noble Albert H. Dunn, a member of Yaarab patrol and one of the most active members of Yaarab Temple. Noble Dunn, accompanied by his son, Walter Dunn, left last night for Chattanooga and will return to Atlanta Sunday morning with the visitors from Al Chymia Temple.

PHOSPHATE MEN JOIN HANDS FOR EXPORTS

Washington, May 27.—The Phosphate Export association, comprising four concerns in New York, have combined with the Florida Hard Rock Phosphate Export association, comprising five concerns in Florida and Georgia for the purpose of export trade in the Webb-Pomerene export trade act, it was announced tonight by the federal trade commission whom papers in the agreement have been filed. The main office of the combination will be located in New York with branches in London and Savannah.

In a statement announcing the merger the commission said the United States produces more crude phosphate than any other country and of which Florida produces 75 to 80 per cent. Phosphate exports, the statement also said, in 1920, amounted to 344,896 tons of hard rock shipped from the ports of Fernandina and Jacksonville and 693,355 tons of land pebble shipped from Tampa, Port Tampa and Boca Grande. A market for both of these articles, the commission stated, has been established in the United Kingdom, continental Europe and Japan.

Phosphate rock is used chiefly as a fertilizer.

HOG PRICES LOWEST IN OVER FIVE YEARS

Chicago, May 27.—Prices for hogs tumbled today to the lowest figures in more than five years. Slackened demand for meat, especially pork, had a good deal to do with the weakness of values. In addition, about 100,000 more hogs have been received here this week than for the corresponding period a week ago, an increase said to be largely due to the completion of corn planting.

The top price for the best swine today was $7.90 a hundredweight, a drop of exactly $1 a week.

SUMMERLIN IS SILENT ARRIVING IN MEXICO

Mexico City, May 27.—George T. Summerlin, American charge d'affaires in Mexico City, who is said to be charged with the mission of arranging terms of recognition of the Mexican government by the United States, said upon his arrival here today he was "emulating the example of Secretary of State Hughes and saying nothing."

Concerning the terms of recognition, which he is reported to be carrying to President Obregon, Mr. Summerlin said nothing except that he probably would see the Mexican president this afternoon or tomorrow.

World Standing Close to Peace, Asserts Harding

Washington, May 27.—The world stands very close to peace, President Harding declared to the American Legion in his memorial day letter to the American Legion, made public Thursday.

The president's utterance is as follows:

"Americans have never been much given to the establishment of holidays and fete days. Perhaps our national life has been so short and entirely within so matter-of-fact and practical a period of the world's history that we have been little moved by the sentiments that such occasions inspire. Yet I think no nation has ever established a national day of consecration that represented a more lofty or more ennobling sentiment than does our national memorial day. To its observance we have brought the full measure of sincere reverence and gratitude that a great people is ever to entertain for those who have made the great sacrifice in its behalf.

"It reminds us that in every generation, from Lexington to the Argonne, our valorous sons have well deserved the highest tribute that a nation, fortified, defended, preserved, could give to them. Whenever the demand has come, and wherever it may have called the sons of our proud land, it has always been answered. Though we have never been a militant or war-loving people, there has been no time when Americans did not rise to the full measure of the requirement which national honor and national safety imposed upon them. When national safety was the cause, the response was always insistent and decisive. When civilization summoned, and our sons were called to other seas and skies and soils, we saw the same zeal, the same devotion.

"On this memorial day of 1921, we stand, I trust, very close to peace achieved, to safety insured, may it be our common aim and purpose that, in the coming years our nation's aim and policy shall be directed to make certain that there shall be least need for further sacrifices, greatest guarantees of the stability, the permanence and inspiring character of those institutions of liberty to which our nation has been dedicated."

RATES ARE INNOCENT IN SLUMP, HE SAYS

Washington, May 27.—The freight rate does not show any unreasonable relation to the delivered price of goods, and it cannot be shown that in any of the territories it is preventing the resumption of industrial operations or otherwise prohibiting movement, Edward Chambers, vice president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, declared today before the senate interstate commerce committee in its investigation into the railroad situation.

Readjustment downward of freight rates on lumber from the Pacific coast, he said, has not resulted in a stimulation in traffic, and existing rates on coal and grain have not reduced shipments of those commodities.

"The rates as increased by the interstate commerce commission on lumber from the Pacific coast territory to Chicago and the west," he explained, "were recently readjusted to fit competitive commercial conditions by reducing the rate to Chicago and to the Mississippi river from 80 cents per hundred to 73 cents.

"The reports received indicate that the Pacific coast lumber shippers are rather disappointed in the effect the reduced rates had upon the movement. It is no better now than it was before the rates were reduced. The southern and gulf lumber shippers advise of a slight improvement in the demand, but generally the conditions in the common markets are the same in respect to the southern and gulf lumber as prevail on the Pacific coast lumber.

"We have about completed the readjustment of the grain and grain products rates at the different primary markets and at the gulf and Atlantic ports for export. In this readjustment some reductions had to be made."

Reductions Daily.

"Reductions in rates to bring about necessary readjustments are going on daily throughout country by dealings directly between shippers and railroad traffic men," said Mr. Chambers. "Records of the interstate commerce commission show that approximately 10,000 freight tariffs are filed each month, many covering a number of rate changes. Contained in these tariffs are many voluntary changes made by carriers. Late reports from these railroad bureaus show results of co-operation between carriers and shippers in restoring relationships and removing discriminations or inequalities and providing rates for new industries."

From September 1, when increased rates became effective, until May 1, 1921, the southwestern freight bureau at St. Louis considered rates on 812 subjects of which 112 were at public conferences. At present there are 491 subjects pending involving rate reductions, while 48 propose advances. Of the changes, 363 were proposed by shippers and 176 by carriers and involve principally reductions upon stone, lumber, sand and gravel, brick cement, fresh fruits and vegetables as well as various other commodities.

16,000 Changes.

The greatest number of rate changes was made by Pacific freight tariff bureau at San Francisco and number 16,000, of which 11,000 were reductions.

Since increase rates went into effect, Mr. Chambers said the transcontinental freight bureau in Chicago has made approximately 236 changes in rates growing out of 150 conferences with shippers.

The Trunk Line association in New York, he continued, has received since September 1, last, 2,472 proposals for changes in existing freight rates, in which 2,266 recommendations have been made, each representing approval of from one to several hundred changes in specific rates period.

Mr. Chambers also told the committee that since August 25, last, the Central Freight association with headquarters in Chicago had held approximately sixty conferences with shippers as a result of which there have been approximately 2,500 changes in commodity rates from origin points and 7,500 destination point changes.

While impossible to estimate the number of rate changes involved, the witness said that the New England Freight association, located in Boston, had considered 619 proposals for freight rate changes, in which 500 recommendations had been made. Fifteen public hearings have been held, he said, in addition to innumerable informal conferences between individual shippers and the railroads.

Atlanta Association.

The Southern Freight Rate association in Atlanta has made 1,835 recommendations, Mr. Chambers said, authorizing changes in rates. Conferences between members of the association and the shippers are held one day each week.

"The railroads should be allowed to work out traffic problems by dealing directly with shippers or their organization, aided where necessary by the interstate commerce commission," the witness continued.

"In every case of disagreement, the commission has ample authority under the transportation act to dispose of the question promptly.

"The railroad traffic man is always ready to hear from and confer with the shipper. He is just as anxious to have commodities moving as the shipper is, and can be relied upon to give proper consideration to the commercial conditions surrounding the situation."

CHARGE MONOPOLY IN FIRE INSURANCE

Expert Witness Before Committee Reveals Profits and Methods of Ten Leading Companies.

New York, May 27.—Testimony tending to show that the New York Fire Insurance exchange exercises a virtual monopoly over the fire insurance business here and that the ten leading fire insurance companies of America put aside approximately $10,000,000 annually in unrevealed profits, was given yesterday before the legislative committee investigating the building trust.

Samuel Untermeyer, committee counsel, had on the stand Samuel Best, an expert on fire insurance matters and a publisher of national insurance statistics.

Best testified several of the larger fire insurance companies had made substantial profits in recent years and added the Globe and Rutgers company hed earned more than 200 per cent on its capital assets in the five year period from 1915 to 1920.

"Big Ten."

He also testified that ten of the leading insurance companies did the bulk of the nation's fire insuring, although there were more than 250 companies. He stated the ten leading companies set aside in 1920 as their total gold reserves $197,000,000 and the income from that portion not required to pay losses would be about $10,000,000. Mr. Untermyer contended that this sum should be used to reduce the amount of premiums paid in by the public.

It was brought out in testimony that mutual companies were at a disadvantage in the New York district, due to alleged refusal of the exchange to supply rate-fixing data.

The exchange recently modified that rule against supplying such data to mutual companies but Mr. Best agreed with Mr. Untermyer that this modification might be called camouflage.

Mr. Best said he would approve enactment of legislation requiring the fire insurance exchange to supply its rate data to mutual companies if the latter stand the cost. He believed that such legislation would assist in destroying the power of the alleged fire insurance monopoly.

Suggests Remedy.

Mr. Untermyer asserted that the complete route of the monopoly would be hastened if the exchange were compelled, by law, to accept as members all companies to whom the state superintendent of insurance gave authority to do business.

Mr. Untermyer denounced as "reprehensible" a practice whereby brokers, licensed by the exchange, were not permitted to do business with any company not a member of the exchange. Best testified certificates from the exchange were obtainable only by two pledges, one requiring that not more than a certain commission be charged and the other that no business would be done by outsiders. Brokers signing the second pledge were allowed 5 per cent more commission.

"The public is forced to pay 5 per cent extra in order to perpetuate a monopoly by whose destruction it would benefit," interjected Mr. Untermyer.

Frank Bishop, of Pawtucket, R. I., secretary of the Pawtucket Mutual Insurance company, testified his company had tried to get into the New York exchange since 1912, and only succeeded a month ago upon agreeing to abandon in New York its practice of repaying its profits to its policy holders.

CONGRESS MAY PROBE SOLDIER RELIEF FUNDS

Washington, May 27.—Advisability of congressional investigation of the collection and expenditure of funds by soldier relief organizations was considered today by the house rules committee, Representative Johnson, republican, South Dakota, a former service man, urging his resolution to that effect. It states that "charges are made and there is reason to believe that much of the money collected to influence legislation is collected surreptitiously" and that "large sums of money purported to be collected for the relief of disabled ex-service men are being diverted from their original and lawful purpose."

Some of the men collecting funds, Mr. Johnson charges in his resolution, have been previously convicted for collecting funds for such purposes and have served sentences. He specified particularly in his measure the National Disabled Soldiers' league, the John Curtis Publishing company, the National Service Bureau and the Publicity Underwriting corporation, all with headquarters in New York.

George H. Gillin, commander of the National Disabled Soldiers' league, testified his organization could account for every cent it had collected and spent. No money was used improperly, he declared, adding that he had helped 33,000 war veterans settle claims against the government.

His organization never attempted to swing its influence politically during the campaign last fall, Mr. Gillin said in reply to a statement by Representative Johnson that several men connected with republican campaign headquarters had informed him that Gillin had approached them with an offer to "deliver votes" of war veterans, Mr. Gillin characterized such charges as "lies."

AGED WHITE MAN NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH IN RIVER

Reuben Harmon, an aged white man living at the Empire hotel, narrowly escaped death by drowning Friday afternoon when he fell from a log on which he was fishing in the Chattahoochee river, a short distance below Batton bridge. He was rushed to Grady hospital, where first aid was rendered. His condition late last night was still critical.

It was said that Mr. Harmon was fishing in water very deep, and in order to reach a point of vantage over the stream, he was sitting on a log which extended several feet over the river's edge. Losing has balance, he fell into the water, where he floundered helplessly several minutes, being rescued by two fishermen.

Greenburg & Bond's establishment was notified, Mr. Bond and another man making a quick trip to the scene in an ambulance. A lung motor was applied, and this is believed to have saved his life.

CLEVER THIEF LOOTS SODA FOUNT FRIDAY

It was reported to the police Friday that in the early morning hours a daring but clever thief entered the soda fount owned by H. B. Olive, at the corner of Woodward avenue and Connally street, taking off a large quantity of cigarettes and other merchandise.

The entire glass forming the front door was removed without a scratch, this fact indicating that the job must have been performed by an expert. Detectives are working on the case, but no arrests have so far been made.

GEORGIA WINNING CATTLE TICK FIGHT

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON.
Constitution Bureau,
Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, May 27.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—Cattle ticks are fighting a losing battle in Georgia this year. The attempted invasion is being effectively suppressed by the co-operative efforts of federal, state and county employees, working with the stock raisers. The famous battle cry, "They shall not pass," has been revised in the fight with the blood sucking parasites, to "they shall not live," for a united effort is being made to eliminate the last tick in a number of counties in the state.

There are in operation in Georgia 3,291 dipping vats, in which cattle are immersed every 14 days. Dipping began early in the spring, the time when the most effective results in tick eradication are obtained. During March approximately half a million cattle splashed through the dipping vats in the state. The April reports published today show that 833,434 cattle were dipped under federal, state and county supervision.

Good Record.

This is a good record, say specialists of the United States department of agriculture, when it is considered that Georgia is essentially a cotton growing state and that the cattle industry has been neglected on account of the handicaps presented by the presence of ticks.

Now all cattle that have been dipped in Georgia are marked with paint, and this plan has given very satisfactory results in getting to the dipping vats animals pastured on the open range that might otherwise miss regular dipping. The use of range riders, whose duty it is to search for and dip cattle that are not marked, was considerably increased during April.

In Georgia, as in all other southern states where the fight against cattle ticks has been waged, there is always more or less opposition to the tick eradication movement. Recently a meeting was held in one Georgia town for the purpose of protesting against the further dipping of cattle in the county. A progressive farmer who had experienced unsatisfactory results in raising cattle under tick conditions read a notice of this meeting of protest and immediately wrote a letter to the president of the bank in the town in which the meeting was held.

In this letter, made public today, he said:

Letter From Farmer.

"Noticing in the newspapers that your people meet in opposition to tick eradication, I desire to express my actual experience on this line. Before the discovery that the cattle tick was the source of infection, the only cause of bovine fever, I brought many registered jersey dairy cattle to Putnam county, middle Georgia, and met with discouraging losses. Later I immunized the northern cattle by transfusing blood from cows carrying ticks to the susceptible northern bred cattle.

"While the treated cattle did not subsequently die of cattle fever, the process proved harmful to the growth and development of the animal whose life was saved. When the history of the deadly tick became fully known, tick eradication justly took precedence over any treatment. Its ease of accomplishment, its economy and beneficial results that followed, all emphasized its necessity to any community that desires to raise cattle.

"In our part of the state, no matter how unreasoning and bitter his opposition to tick eradication when we needed his moral support, can now be found who does not fully approve the work. No argument should carry more weight than the full indorsement and approval of opponents when they see the whole truth, and change from opposition to advocacy.

"This week I sold a dairy cow for $250 for which I could not have obtained half the price if my county still harbored ticks. I would not raise cattle, nor attempt to run a dairy from the milk of cows poisoned with fever germs and robbed by vampire parasites.

"Surely we who have bred cattle under tick infestation, and later after tick eradication, are entitled as missionaries to endeavor to benefit others who have never been without the disadvantage of the pest."

FEDERAL CONTEST FOR BEST ESSAY

stitution and other great American papers will do the same thing.

Among the organizations which are lending their active support may be mentioned:

The bureau of education, department of interior; the bureau of public roads, department of agriculture; the national grange, the Mothers' and Parent-Teachers' association, the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, the American Automobile association, the National Automobile Dealers' association, the ship-by-truck bureau, the American Association of State Highway Officials, and many others.

Some Road Facts.

Approximately $2,000,000 is available every working day during the present year for expenditure upon highways of the United States, according to a statement today by Professor C. J. Tilden, director of the committee.

The actual sum available from state and county bond issues and federal aid for the year is $600,000,000, a sum 50 per cent greater than the total cost of the Panama canal, according to figures obtained from the bureau of public roads.

The point was made by Professor Tilden in stressing the need for more courses in highway construction and economics in colleges and universities. To spend this amount wisely, he said, would require the services of more than 10,000 trained highway engineers. At this time universities are graduating only about 1,000 civil engineers annually, of whom only a small percentage turn to highway construction. The supply is far short of the demand, according to Professor Tilden.

Wants Course Added.

Through the agency of the committee of which he is director, Professor Tilden is endeavoring to persuade institutions of higher learning to include courses in highway economics in their regular curriculums. Professor Tilden occupies the chair of engineering mechanics at Yale university, but is on leave as director of the committee.

News of this contest has been conveyed to pupils by their teachers and school superintendents in response to an announcement sent out by Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, who is chairman of the highway transport committee. Essays must be not more than 500 words in length and must be in the hands of local committee not later than June 15, when the contest closes. Only pupils of high school grades are eligible to compete. Virtually all state superintendents are naming state committees to award state honors and prizes, and are announcing the contest to their pupils. Commissioner Claxton will name the national committee which will award the main prize.

Last year's contest resulted in approximately 200,000 essays being written.

Plea for League In Memorial Day Note by Wilson

Ex-President Sees Chance to "Rededicate Ourselves" to "Great Objects."

Washington, May 27.—Former President Wilson sees in memorial day this year an opportunity "to re-dedicate ourselves to the achievement of the great objects" for which the world war was fought. And, while not specifying any of the provisions of the versailles treaty, he plainly indicates his hope, in the first public statements he has made since retiring from the white house, that the American government will take further steps toward fulfilling its "duties" growing out of that war.

His utterance, in the form of a memorial day letter to the "Stars and Stripes," official organ of the A. E. F. during the war, said:

"Memorial day has always been one of our most solemn and thoughtful anniversaries when we recalled great memories and dedicated ourselves again to the maintenance and purification of the nation; but this year it has an added and tremendous significance because of the memories and sacrifices of the great world war are now among the most stimulating of the recollections of the day.

"We celebrate the immortal achievements of the men who died in France on the field and in the trenches, far away from home, in order that both our own people and the peoples across the seas might be delivered from the ugliest peril of all history. It is our privilege not only to indulge a high and solemn pride and grief for the heroes of that struggle but also to rededicate ourselves to the achievement of the great objects for which that war was fought. We shall not be happy; we shall not be able to enjoy the full pride of the day's recollections until we have made sure that the duties that grew out of the war have been fulfilled to the utmost.

"Are we sure? If we are not, shall we not soon take steps to do whatever has been omitted?"

WATSON ATTACKS NATIONS LEAGUE

ator Brandegee, "is a body utterly unknown to the league. The reparation commission has nothing whatever to do with the league; it is a body of the Versailles treaty."

Attacks League.

In opposing the Walsh amendment, Senator Watson, of Georgia, delivered his first sharp attack upon the league of nations since his entrance into the senate.

Taking exception to a statement of Senator Underwood that the league issue was not the deciding factor of the November elections, Senator Watson said that Mr. Underwood recently "made a strong speech for disarmament and then voted $40,000,000 of increases" in appropriations.

"The senator from Alabama is mistaken," said Senator Watson regarding the league issue in the elections. "The real issue was for maintenance of our independence and against its surrender to foreign powers. It was to keep out of the league that caused the stampede to the ticket of Harding and Coolidge. And now, step after step, insidiously, we are disregarding the verdict of the people and told to go into the league that the people told us to avoid. Put your hand in a cotton gin and see what will happen. Who will turn off the belt if we put our hand in this (the Walsh amendment?)

"We can't pass this resolution (the Walsh amendment)," Senator Watson continued, "without danger of setting aside the verdict of the people last November."

Walsh Answers.

Senator Watson said there was "insidious danger" in the Walsh amendment and Senator Walsh replied that, during the Georgia senator's campaign, he had not spoken specifically against the disarmament provisions of the league covenant. Mr. Watson replied that in every address he had attacked the league generally and unsparingly, but explained he had not dealt with every minor provision.

The proposal for a new naval base at Alameda, Cal., was lost finally when Senator Ball, republican, Delaware, a prominent champion of it, announced after a further canvass of senators, that no further attempt would be made to rescind the senate's vote striking the item from the bill.

His announcement came after Senator King, democrat, of Utah, had served notice on leaders in charge of the bill that opponents would delay passage of the naval budget indefinitely should the Alameda amendment again be pressed. Senator Johnson, republican, of California, spoke briefly in support of the project, but conceded its defeat, stating the house would not accept even if adopted by the senate.

Clash on Dismissals.

Besides the disarmament controversy, the senate also clashed over the recent dismissal of 110 midshipmen from the naval academy. After criticism and defense of the Annapolis authorities, the body adopted an amendment providing for reappointment of the midshipmen who "flunked" to a lower class.

Another amendment adopted called for a report by the navy department as to whether any navy yards or stations should be abolished.

The question of Japan's naval program bobbed up during the debate on the Pomerene amendment and Senator Poindexter said Japan's program called for a larger navy than that of the United States.

"Although no hostility to the United States may be implied, Japan is spending one third of her entire actual income on her naval program," said Senator Poindexter.

Japenese Policy.

Senator Pomerene said he understood Japan's naval expenditures this year were about one third of the American budget. Senator Poindexter said Japan's expenditures were "practically the same as ours." He also said Japan was maintaining an army of 296,000 men.

Senator Lodge conceded in reply to a question from Senator Harrison, democrat, of Mississippi, that the Borah amendment also would have been subject to a similar point of order as that which forced the Pomerene amendment out. Senator Lodge said that because the Borah amendment was accepted there was no reason for "accenting everything else that is offered."

Senator Williams, democrat, of Mississippi, advocated the Pomerene amendment and deplored "starting the same old fool game again—of hypocritical rivalry in arming for defense which means offense."

Denying that Great Britain or Japan had hostile intentions against the United States, Senator Williams said that Great Britain proposed to keep peace between the two great English-speaking powers and had "not even remonstrated at the state department against collection in this country by Irish agitators of funds in the struggle which has resulted in blowing up of customs houses and killing of many British citizens.

OPTIMISTIC NOTE STRUCK BY GARY

New York, May 27.—"Our resources are so great and facilities for carrying on affairs so satisfactory, that we know that before us is the greatest prosperity this country has ever witnessed," Judge Elbert Gary declared today in opening the semi-annual session of the American Iron and Steel institute here.

"The devastating and destructive war left the entire world in a dilapidated and demoralized condition," Judge Gary said. "Minds had become distracted, visions obscured, morals perverted, natural progress interrupted and the whole economic structure disjointed.

"Since the armistice was signed, nations have been drifting and struggling, endeavoring to formulate and adopt plans for reasonable readjustment and rehabilitation. Up to the present time there still exists doubt, discord and disorder."

For Law Enforcement.

He urged that the observance and enforcement of law be insisted upon throughout the world as a necessity to the improvement of the general situation.

"If laws shall be enforced and peace maintained," added Mr. Gary, "the other questions relating to economic progress and achievement will be solved.

"If it should be deemed necessary and wise to have governmental supervision over organized industry in order to protect the public interest, I personally would not object, provided the laws and rules shall apply alike to organized capital and organized labor."

The speaker asserted that one of the most hopeful signs of the times was the apparent disposition of the present administration at Washington to aid rather than obstruct the natural and legitimate progress of business.

Schwab Pleads Economy.

Economy is the keynote of quick recovery of business, said Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of the Bethlehem Steel company.

"There must be economy in labor and above all else in transportation costs, Mr. Schwab declared, adding that the steel business would profit by the economy to which it was forced by business conditions.

"We are going to be forced to economize so as to put our business here on a basis with that of the steel business in other countries," he explained.

Expressing belief that the money shortage and business depression would end and that there would be a return to normalcy, Mr. Schwab continued:

"This is a time for encouragement, a time to be hopeful, a time to be optimistic and we will come out all right. I have never lost faith in the future of the industry, or the future of America."

$300,000 GIFT MADE UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH

Announcement has just been made that the general education board has appropriated $30,000 toward the million dollar endowment of the University of the South, and, in addition thereto, has made an allowance to the grant of the university of $10,000 per year.

Bishop Albion W. Knight, the vice chancellor of the university, has conducted a campaign for an endowment of $1,000,000. He has received a great many subscriptions to this fund.

The Atlanta people will be doubly interested in that Bishop Knight was, for a long time, dean of St. Phillip's cathedral here, where he was very popular both as a man and as a minister. He was subsequently made bishop of Cuba, and then vice chancellor of the university.

SUICIDE VERDICT IN GRANADE DEATH RETURNED BY JURY

A verdict of suicide was returned by a coroner's jury Friday afternoon in the death of C. W. Granade, an Atlanta commercial artist, whose body was discovered in Grant park early Friday morning. His death was caused by drinking strychnine, it was found.

Mr. Granade was about 60 years old. He was a widower, and is survived by two daughters. The daughters called at Harry G. Poole's undertaking parlors Friday afternoon during the inquest, but declined to furnish the undertaker with their names.

Granade's body was discovered by E. H. Hughes, of 26 Marion avenue, who was walking through the park about daybreak. A brief note, declaring that ill health had driven him to take his own life, and adding a farewell to relatives and friends, was found in his pocket.

DR. FLINN TO PREACH AT COMMENCEMENT

The commencement sermon of the seventh annual commencement of the North Avenue Presbyterian day school, will be preached by Dr. Richard Orme Flinn, at 11 a. m., Sunday, at the church.

At the 8 p. m. service, Dr. William Ray Dobyns, pastor of the South Highland Presbyterian church of Birmingham, Ala., will deliver the evening message. Dr. Dobyns is coming to Atlanta to preach the baccalaureate sermon at Agnes Scott college, and accepted the invitation of Dr. Flinn, who is a personal friend, to speak in North Avenue church in the evening. There will be special music by a trained quartet choir.

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED FOR ORGAN RECITAL

Charles A. Sheldon, Jr., city organist, announces that Kurt Mueller will play the E flat concerto of Liszt for piano, accompanied by Mr. Sheldon on the great organ, at the organ recital at the Auditorium Sunday. In addition to other organ numbers, Mr. Mueller will play two original compositions that he has just composed. The recital will begin at 3:30.

HEARING STARTS IN INJUNCTION SUIT OF THOMAS GLENN

Hearing on the injunction suit filed by Thomas K. Glenn, president of the Atlantic Steel company, to prevent the city of Atlanta from collecting a tax fi fa. of $1,500 on certain stock owned by him in the steel company, was begun Friday in the superior court before Judge John T. Pendleton. Mr. Glenn sets out that tangible assets of the Atlantic Steel company are located within the boundaries of the state of Georgia and that taxes are paid to the state on these asserts. Taxation of the stock of the corporation by the city of Atlanta, when such stock is held by private individuals, constitutes double taxation, the plaintiff contends.

The city of Atlanta, resisting the injunction, claims that the stock of the corporation is a separate asset with a separate value, and that it is used as the basis of barter and trade. On this ground the municipality insists that individual holdings are taxable.

At the same time Judge Pendleton is hearing arguments on motions for rehearings in the cases of the city against the Coca-Cola company and the Empire Cotton Oil company. These cases were similar in character to the Atlantic Steel company matter and in both cases decisions were rendered in favor of the city.

City Attorney James L. Mayson and Assistant City Attorney Jesse M. Wood appear for the municipality, while the firm of Charles H. & Linton C. Hopkins represents the plaintiffs.

KIWANIS ADVANCE GUARD WILL SOON GO TO CLEVELAND

The personnel of the advance delegation of Atlanta Kiwanians who will go to Cleveland a few days ahead of the main Atlanta delegation to the international convention next month, for the purpose of paving the way for the strenuous fight planned to secure the 1922 convention, will be announced in a few days, according to President Walter Barnwell.

Preparations for the contest for next year's convention are rounding into shape, according to President Barnwell. A delegation of nearly 100 will attend from Atlanta, it is expected. The members who will comprise the advance delegation will arrive in Cleveland about a week before the gathering formally opens, for the purpose of establishing Atlanta convention headquarters, and making other arrangements.

The suggestion that the Atlanta crowd entertain the convention with a monster watermelon cutting is gaining favor, and if it is decided to stage such a treat, it probably will be one of the most novel occasions of the entire convention.

HIGHEST OF PRAISE GIVEN TO HARPIST WHO PLAYS HERE

Atlanta music lovers who have been fortunate enough to hear Alberto Salvi, the Italian harpist who will appear in concert here with Lucrezia Bori, Monday night, are enthusiastic over the opportunity to hear him again and say that this will be a real musical treat for Atlanta.

Critics on the metropolitan dailies and in the musical journals have lauded the work of Salvi unanimously, the criticisms bordering more nearly on the super-enthusiastic than is the wont of such efforts. He has been declared the complete master of the harp, and is said to have completely overriden the popular theory that the musical possibilities of the harp are limited.

Naturally there is abundant interest in Miss Bori's return. She has just left Atlanta a few weeks, having been the decisive star of the past Metropolitan season, but that seems to have increased, rather than diminished, the enthusiasm over her advent.

The ticket sale for the concert, which is being given under the auspices of the American committee for relief in Ireland, is on at the store of the Cable Piano company, and reports indicate that the Auditorium will see its largest concert crowd for some time on the night of the Bori-Salvi appearance. The program, announced yesterday, is varied enough to suit the whims of all those who love music, and has won much favorable comment.

Closing Exercises Of Atlanta Normal School Held Friday

The closing exercises of the Reserve Officers' Training corps, of the Georgia School of Technology, will take place at Grant Field on Monday, May 30.

The regimental parade and review, followed by the presentation of the loving cup, the colors, prizes, medals and favors will begin at 4 o'clock. The regimental smoker, with selections by the Yellow Jacket quartette, the Glee club and the "Tech" R. O. T. C. band, vaudeville numbers, dancing, and several exhibition boxing bouts will take place at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

"MAIL EARLY" DRIVE PLANNED FOR ATLANTA

R. J. Harris, superintendent of the United States mail service, is preparing to co-operate with other postal officials and members of local civic bodies in launching a "mail early" campaign in Atlanta within a short time.

Under the "mail early" campaign the large business houses and other companies having large quantities of mail to send out daily will be requested to send this mail to the postoffice or place it in letter boxes at frequent intervals instead of holding it until late in the afternoon and mailing it all at one time.

Several large cities have conducted similar campaigns and have obtained excellent results according to Mr. Harris. By mailing early and frequently the service is improved and the department is enabled to transfer many workers from the night shift to the day shift.

947 GEORGIANS HELD FOR MURDER

Of 3,076 convicts in Georgia, 947 were sentenced as the result of murders; 222 for attempt to murder, 437 for manslaughter and 597 for burglary, according to the annual report of the state prison commission released for publication Friday night.

The number of convicts held for other crimes is as follows: Accessory to murder, 11; aiding escape, 4; arson, 15; attempt at arson, 24; rape, 117; attempt to rape, 48; attempt to rob, 16; attempt to wrek trains, 2; bestiality, 5; bigamy, 20; car-breaking, 25; embezzlement, 3; forgery, 69; incest, 7; kidnaping, 3; mayhem, 1; perjury, 3; receiving larceny, 243; whisky making, 69; stolen goods, 7; shooting at another, 30; sodomy, 7; wrecking railroad train, 1.

The oldest convict in the state is 78 and the youngest 11 years of age. Of the total number, 105 are women and 2,415 men, it is stated in the report.

Total of 4,103.

At the last report 2,950 men were held. There were 996 commitments; 153 recaptures, one witness returned and 3 paroled prisoners returned, making a total handled of 4,103. Of this number, 393 were granted discharges; 366 escaped, 199 paroled, 54 died, 5 returned for new trials, 8 pardoned and 2 delivered to sheriffs, leaving the total of 3,076.

The previous occupations of convicts now in the penitentiary were as follows:

Accountant, 7; auto mechanic, 8; bartender, 1; barber, 9; banker, 2; bellboy, 6; blacksmith, 9; bootblack, 2; brickmason, 9; butcher, 3; butler, 2; boilermaker, 1; clerk, 4; carpenter, 20; cabinet maker, 2; civil engineer, 1; cooks, 49; cooper, 1; convict warden, 1; chauffeur, 74; candy maker, 1; dentist 2; detective, 1; delivery boy, 3; engineer, 1; distiller, 13; electrician, 3; elevator boy, 1; farmer, 49; farm laborer 1,104; florist, 1; fisherman, 2; fireman, 19; hackman, 1; housekeeper, 16; horse trader, 2; janitor, 3; laborer, 803; lawyer, 3; mechanic, 183; machinist, 4; merchant, 14; mill operative, 7; miner, 1; moulder, 2; nurse, 17; painter, 13; piano turner, 1; printer, 1; physician, 2; plasterer, 2; plumber, 2; policeman, 4; porter, 20; preacher, 3; pressing club, 3; public work laborer, 504; railroad hand, 56; rockmason, 3; soldier, 6; salesman, 10; steamfitter, 1; street car conductor, 1; school teacher, 4; switchman, 1; sailor, 3; tailor 6; teamster, 4; waiter, 2; washwomen, 14; vagrant, 11—Total, 3,076.

Assets of Commission.

Assets of the commission were placed at $230,727.64; receipts for the year, $155,563.56, and disbursements at $155,563.56.

The table showing recidivists now in the penitentiary follows:

Serving first term	2,559
Serving second term	369
Serving third term	100
Serving fourth term	36
Serving fifth term	9
Serving sixth term	1
Serving seventh term	2
Serving eleventh term	1

It Should Interest You

To know that an American-made product is popular all over the world. Prestige isn't accidental. There is always a good, sound reason for it. In the case of the Boston Garter

Velvet Grip

"Quality First" became more than a slogan—more than two words glibly strung together. For forty years it has been a factory ideal. Slowly, but surely, Europe demanded the Boston Garter. It is just as necessary for feet to look trim and neat, and socks to hold in place, there, as it is here.

Thus, the American in far places, is pleasantly reminded of home—and can get a new pair of his old favorites, whether he be in Hong Kong or on the Strand, in South America or Alaska. The world wants Quality First. It finds that it can get it in the Boston Garter.

Gary Puzzled by Recent Drops on Stock Market

BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, May 27.—In discussing conditions in general trade and in the steel industry in particular before a number of steel manufacturers at a conference held here today, E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, showed that what has been going on in the back of his head is exactly in line with the recent thoughts of the average business man, investor, speculator. Judge Gary evidently has been trying to find the right answer to these questions: Why did the improvement in general trade that seemed to be under way a month ago stop? Why is general business now marking time? What is the outlook for the immediate and longer future?

Around the middle of last April these same questions were being asked by the average business man, investor, speculator, and at that time it seemed that the industrial machinery of the country was set to go ahead. Between April 21 last and May 6, the stock market, which is the most sensitive instrument we have for getting a line on the trend of general trade, indicated a decided improvement in sentiment. Between the dates named the average price of fifty representative stocks, twenty-five industrials and twenty-five rails advanced from 66.68, within less than 2 points of the low level reached last December after more than a year of steady and violent liquidation to a new high record for 1921. But on May 6, the same day the new high record for this year was established, prices began to sell off sharply, and the decline continued until Wednesday of this week, when the average of the fifty stocks was again down to 67.23. That is to within a half point of level at which the advance started on April 21.

For many individual stocks the decline from May 6 to last Wednesday was worse than indicated by the foregoing average figure. For instance, Great Northern dropped from 73½ on May 6 to 65½, Northern Pacific from 76½ to 69, Union Pacific from 121¼ to 118, Baldwin from 92⅞ to 77½, New York Air Brake from 77¼ to 67½, Republic Iron and Steel from 66½ to 55½, Lackawanna Steel from 54½ to 46½, Asphalt from 78⅜ to 65⅝, Chandler from 83¾ to 62, Pierce-Arrow from 41⅛ to 23⅛, Studebaker from 90¾ to 72½.

Some of these stocks made their high for the year a day or two before May 6 and some sold a fraction lower than the low prices just quoted on Monday or Tuesday of this week. However, from the figures given it may be seen that the decline which occurred in the stock market from May 6 to Wednesday of this week was very severe. This decline was based on the reduction of from 4 per cent to 2 in the annual dividend rate on Cuban American sugar, on the cut of from 10 to 15 in the New York Air Brake dividend, and on the other dividend changes of the past two weeks, which include the passing of payments on Central Leather preferred, Republic Iron and Steel, Lackawanna Steel preferred, American Linseed common, American Cotton Oil, Cambria Steel, Remington Typewriter preferred, both classes, and "deferred" payments on Hocking Valley, Chesapeake and Ohio, Southern railway preferred.

Dividend Actions on Failure of Continued Improvements.

These dividend actions were based on the facts that general trade had failed to continue the improvement of last April, and is now marking time. In his speech of today Judge Gary expressed the opinion that the American people has ample means, but is refusing to buy even ordinary comforts of life because of the prevailing belief that proper readjustment of selling prices has not been completed. He personally is of the belief that for various necessities of life prices are still too high, and account for the failure of the public to discriminate between lines and departments of business, and hence the whole economic system is suffering. He added that would-be buyers of steel were delaying purchases except for immediate and imperative uses until satisfied that a sound and staple price basis had been reached. He said that there had been price reductions in steel but that he was not prepared to express an opinion as to whether others would follow. He said it depended upon circumstances.

Judge Gary has been active in Wall street now for twenty years, long enough for newspaper men and others who have seen him day in and day out during this period to form a pretty good idea of the way his mind works. Today, after reading his speech, Wall street concluded that when Gary could not see something very bright and promising in the steel trade the outlook for the immediate future for that industry was not very good.

It was also the consensus of opinion that the judge was right in saying that some things were still too high. That is, if he was talking about steel. But many people were positive that he was wrong in his conclusions that the public was failing to discriminate between lines and departments of business, and that hence the whole economic system was suffering. Evidently the judge does not know many cotton mill people. Many of these mill owners have a smile these days that "won't come off," because they are booked up with orders to run at full capacity for the entire summer. When the facts are learned, however, it is found that these mills are busy turning out a cheap class of goods.

Demand for Things Which Satisfied People Before 1915.

For the past three or four years working men were wearing silk shirts. Because there was no demand for cheap goods none was manufactured. Today, owing to a shrinkage in buying power, there is a demand for some of the things most of us were satisfied with prior to 1915. This is a good wholesale sign, one that the steel manufacturers with their high selling prices might study to advantage. Steel prices are still above the pre-war level, and the same is true of coal prices, glass and some other commodities which Judge Gary had in mind. But it will be found that very drastic readjustment has already been completed in leather, in meat, in cotton, in silk, in rubber, in copper, in oil, and in many other lines. Belief is growing here that the turn for the better in the whole trade situation is not far off.

Cotton Market Gossip

New York, May 27.—Declines at the opening of the week were followed by sharp advances on bullish crop reports and increasing optimism over trade prospects. Improving weather conditions in the south, combined with the continuance of the British coal strike, and near month liquidation, seemed chiefly responsible for the decline to about the 13 cent level for October contracts on Monday.

Southern offerings which had increased on advances during the previous week, became much smaller on the decline, however, and the market turned firmer on the publication of private acreage and condition figures. October sold up to 13.95 during today's trading, making a recovery of approximately 90 points from Monday's low and to within 4 points of the high price touched on the advance of May 11.

The south was credited with selling more freely as the price approached the 14 cent level, but there appeared to be some broadening of trade demand and active buying for western, Wall street and local account.

The feature of the private crop reports so far published has been their showing as to acreage. The first to make its appearance indicated a reduction of 30.5 per cent in the area planted, while another made it 31 per cent, a third 29 per cent and a fourth from 26 to 30 per cent. These reports were very closely in line with those issued toward the end of April, and evidently strengthened confidence in a reduced crop next season.

The condition figures were also low as compared with the ten-year average, ranging from 63 to 68.4, but the crop is now believed to be improving and last year a very low initial condition was brought up to about a ten-year average by a favorable growing season. No basis for a settlement of the British coal strike had been reported up to the close of business tonight but recent advices from both London and Liverpool have been more hopeful in that respect and Manchester has reiterated reports of a large business pending.

If anything reports from the domestic goods trade have indicated a lull in the buying movement so far as primary markets are concerned but this has not made much impression on sentiment. The reaction in foreign exchange rates has been attributed partly to increased offerings of cotton bills which are supposed to foreshadow larger exports.

SIGNS ARE HOPEFUL, DECLARES HARDING

Birmingham, Ala., May 27.—The readjustment of the last twelve months, during which time a seller's campaign was displaced by a buyer's market, has been severe, but the nation is recovering and the economic signs of the times are hopeful, dclared Governor W. P. G. Harding, of the Federal Reserve bank, addressing luncheon clubs here today.

"We are heading toward recuperation," said the speaker, "but we should not expect normal conditions until there is further progress toward restoring the cost of the war, which is a sum greater than the wealth of the United States."

"Certainly there is longer apprehension of general financial trouble and we may have already turned the corner without knowing when we did it," said Mr. Harding.

"The position of the Federal Reserve banks is stronger now than at any time since 1918, he said.

"There must be a levelling of prices," Mr. Harding continued, "for the schedules of some things no doubt are too high and others are too low. We shall see a revival in business affairs when we get back to doing business on a smaller margin of profit with frequent turnovers. What we want to do is to get some vim and life into the situation."

He declared that a reduction in transportation rates and more attention to the general public, with less thought of individual profits, would aid in restoring normal conditions.

SUMMER INACTIVITY SHOWN IN INDUSTRY

New York, May 27.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"Wholesale jobbing trade and industry are rather quieter in some lines and this dullness in instances has already taken on the appearance of mid-summer inactivity. Retail trade is variously affected by weather conditions, but as a whole is no smaller. Conservatism and immediate needs are reported as governing buying the country over, but at the same time there are many instances of increased activity. Each line, in many cases branches of each trade, are apparently operating independently to satisfy various considered or estimated needs. On balance, it may be said that trade is about fair, industry is at 40 to 60 per cent of modern after-war capacity, and collections drag as much, if not more, than they have for three months past. Mail order trade is fair. It should not be forgotten that current comparisons with a year ago in trade are with a steadily quieting down period; and this year's reports will not tend to suffer in this comparison.

SEASONED STOCKS REGISTER DECLINE

New York, May 27.—Business on the stock exchange today was dull and perfunctory, a heavy tone predominating. Professional operators availed themselves of the slim attendance, due to approaching holidays to effect additional depression of prices.

Their maneuvers were accelerated by other developments of an adverse nature. These included sharp unsettlement in foreign exchange, continued firmness of money rates and the cautious, or qualified views of leaders of industry.

The one negatively favorable feature of the session was the declaration of the regular dividend on Baldwin Locomotive. This was without visible effect upon other equipments or kindred issues.

Declines of one to three points were registered by a majority of the seasoned as well as volatile issues and rails of all classes were under intermittent pressure, not excepting the high priced coalers.

The break in foreign remittances extended to six cents in sterling bills and from ten to sixty points in continental rates, especially Dutch, French, Belgian, Italian, Swiss, Spanish and Scandinavian.

For want of a more plausible explanation, dealers here ascribed the reaction in British bills to heavy selling by German commercial interests in London, from which center large transactions in dollar or American exchange were reported. It is not unlikely that speculative operations entered largely into the situation.

The money market followed exactly its course of the previous day, call loans holding at 7 per cent until the final hour, when a belated inquiry forced the rate to 7 1-2 per cent. Changes in the irregular bond market, including Liberties and most other domestic issues, were unimportant. Foreign issues were inclined to ease, although subscriptions to the new French loan were estimated at 90 per cent of the whole. Total sales, par value, $11,175,000.

VIOLENT BREAKS IN WHEAT PRICES

Chicago, May 27.—Notwithstanding that the wheat market showed considerable strength at times today prices finally turned downward influenced by violent breaks in foreign exchange. The close was nervous at the same as yesterday's finish to 1 1-4 lower. Corn finished ¾@& to 2 1-2 up and oats varying from ⅜c decline to ¾c advance. In provisions the outcome ranged from 15c setback to 12 1-2c gain.

According to current estimates, the fall in European exchange prices was equivalent to knocking as much as 3c a bushel from the export value of wheat. It was also said the depression of exchange would tend decidedly to check export demand for all grain. Such offset for news that France had authorized unrestricted importation of wheat and that President Harding was expected to sign the emergency tariff bill before tomorrow night. Earlier in the day, despite temporary bearish effects of general rains, the wheat market had risen well above yesterday's finish, with aggressive buying on the part of houses with eastern connections. Bulls contended that rains were insufficient, and that the crop outlook was still far from ideal, much damage being irreparable.

Decreased offerings from the country had a bullish influence on the corn market and so, too, did belief that the rains would delay arrivals.

Coffee.

New York, May 27.—The market for coffee futures was higher today on reports of an advance in Brazil and a better spot demand. The opening was 6 to 8 points higher and active months sold 14 to 18 points above last night's closing figures on a moderate demand, which included Wall street buying and covering by trade shorts. This carried July contracts up to 6.37, the highest price touched since they sold around 5.86 last April. That delivery closed at 6.33, with the general market closing at a net advance of 10 to 11 points. July 6.33, September 6.69, October 6.84, December 7.15, January 7.25, March 7.45.

Spot coffee steadier; Rio 7s, 6½@6⅝; Santos 4s, 9@9¾. Cost and freight offers included Santos 3s, 4s and 5s at 9.20 to 9.30, American credits. No fresh Rio or Victoria offers were in evidence. Owing to the holiday in Brazil, the early cables were lacking, but special cables were received reporting an advance of 50 to 150 reis in the Santos market and of 150 and 175 reis in Rio today.

Sugar.

New York, May 27.—The local market for raw sugar was firm and unchanged. The committee reported sales of a balance of a cargo of 3,850 bags of Cubas at 4.89 for centrifugal in port at Philadelphia, while in the local market 35,000 bags of Porto Ricos was sold at 5.06 for centrifugal.

Raw sugar futures were firmer early on covering and trade buying, and after showing advances of 2 to 6 points prices eased off under liquidation, with final quotations 1 point lower to 2 net higher. Most of the business was in the form of exchanges, July being switched to December at 20 points. July 3.51, September 3.55, December 3.27.

The market for refined was unchanged at 6.30 to 6.60 for fine granulated, and a moderate business was reported.

Trading in refined futures was confined to one lot of August at 6.30 and one September at 6.35, and closing bids were 5 points net lower, with July 6.30, August 6.25, September 6.30 and October 6.25.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE.

New York, May 27.—(Special.)—The following were the quotations on the American Cotton and Grain Exchange, Inc., today:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
Jan.	14.25	14.38	14.18	14.18	14.14
Mar.	14.54	14.50	14.50	14.57	14.30

Dec.	14.15	14.30	14.10	14.12	14.04

New York, May 27.—There was continued buying on bullish crop reports in the cotton market here today and a further advance in prices. October contracts sold up to 13.95 compared with 13.08, the low price of last Monday, and 13.99, the high point touched during the middle of the month. There was a good deal of realizing as it approached the 14-cent level, however, and reactions occurred in the later trading with October closing at 13.70. The general list closed steady at a net advance of 5 to 10 points.

The market opened firm at an advance of 13 to 15 points on a renewal of yesterday's buying movement which was encouraged by relatively firm Liverpool cables and reiterated reports of prospects for a settlement of labor troubles. Active months sold 24 to 30 points net higher during the early trading, with July touching 13.13 and December 14.30 on the overnight report of a prominent southern authority, making the condition of the crop 63, the reduction in acreage 31 per cent and the indicated yield only 7,040,000 bales. The south was a considerable seller on this advance, while there was also a good deal of scattered realizing which eased prices off during the later trading and just before the close there was active selling here believed to be for Texas account. This carried July off to 12.92 and December to 14.08, or back to within a few points of last night's closing figures. Business was very active at the start, and there was another flurry of activity on the late decline, but the market was comparatively quiet during the middle of the day, and fresh ventures were restricted by the approach of the holidays. All three exchanges will be closed tomorrow and the American exchanges will both be closed on Monday. Two other private crop reports were issued, one making the condition 68.4 and the acreage decrease 26 to 30 per cent, while the other made the condition 66 and the reduction in acreage 29 per cent, with both reports indicating a reduction in the use of fertilizer, the figures ranging from 47 to 49 per cent. The weather map was considered favorable and it was reported that the crop was improving. The decline in sterling was attributed partly to increased offerings of cotton bills.

New York Spots.

SELLING BY TRADERS CARRIES PRICES DOWN

New Orleans, May 27.—After a period of strength in the early trading today the cotton market commenced to sag under selling out by traders on the long side who were seeking to even up their commitments over the triple holidays to follow the close. The market made little show of buying power after the early demand was satisfied, although there were several small upturns. Closing prices were the lowest of the session, showing net gains of 9 to 11 points with July at 12.50. At the highest the most active months were 28 to 29 points up with July at 12.70.

The initial buying movement appeared to be mainly the result of the very bullish private bureau crop reports which appeared in the late trading of yesterday. Liverpool stood better than due and cabled over that it has been effected favorably by them. Another private bureau condition report of 68.4 per cent of normal, together with figures on acreage showing a decrease of 26 to 30 per cent helped to steady the market, but toward midsession a report by a local house of 66 per cent for condition and 29 per cent as the reduction in acreage caused but little buying, indicating that bullish opinion regarding the crop was becoming discounted.

Weakness of foreign exchange was against the market to some extent, preventing anything like wide recoveries after the reactions set in, as were also sales in the Fall River market of 90,000 pieces of print cloths against 180,000 last week, but larger mill takings than expected for the week caused temporary upturns of about 10 points. Hester placed takings of American cotton by the mills of the world at 199,000 bales against 213,000 this week last year and 85,000 this week two years ago. On the close further liquidation by longs was felt.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, May 27.—(Special.)—Many believed that the government would not be as low as the other private reports so far indicated and consequently recent buyers sold out some of the cotton they had bought. Weather conditions over the holidays will be an important factor in determining the prices next week.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

New Orleans, May 27.—(Special.)—The present unfavorable outlook for the new crop and appreciation of the importance attached to the big reduction in acreage and use of fertilizer is causing spinners of the world to sit up and take notice as regards the uncertainty of there being a big supply as was the case this year for next season.

Consequently the market is becoming more active, with a larger business developing, with prospects of increasing eventually perhaps in the near future, if Lancashire's labor dispute and the British coal strike is settled soon, something possible of realization over the long holiday period.

Thus far averages of private reports make condition of crop 65.7. The government condition will be issued June 2 and will compare with 62.4 last year, 75.6 year before last, 82.3 in 1918, and the ten-year average of 70.7.

Dry Goods.

New York, May 27.—The largest manufacturers of cotton duck in announcing today new and slightly higher prices, stated that if those values could not be met, the large group of mills centering in Baltimore would be closed. Cotton duck has been selling below the prices of the yarns from which it was made.

Markets showed more price resistance in yarns, cloths and wool goods. Burlaps were firmer in Calcutta. Silks were steady.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, May 27.—Cotton seed oil was quiet but firm. Demand from shorts, prompted by the higher ruling in lard and cotton and firmness in crude revealed very light pit offerings. Leading deliveries closed 10 to 15 points net higher. Sales, 4,100 barrels. Prime crude 5.50, prime summer yellow spot 7.25, July 7.43, September 7.70, December 7.77, all bid.

Cotton Tops 13c 3 Days in May; Exports Light

Market Shows Strength Throughout Month—Several Factors Involved.

The Merchants' National Bank of Boston says in its monthly summary of the cotton industry:

"The raw cotton market has been very firm during the past month. During three trading days, New York middling upland spots were quoted at over 13c, touching a high point of 13.15c on May 11. This compares with a low point during the current cotton season of 11.20c in March. Reports of a drastic reduction in acreage planted to the new crop, estimated at 20 per cent to 30 per cent from that of last year, combined with unfavorable growing conditions, reduction in rediscount rates of federal reserve banks, and indications of improvement in the cotton manufacturing industry and business conditions in general have contributed to the strength of the market.

"Consumption of cotton per working day in April was about equal to that in March, the total for April, however, being only 408,882 bales against 437,833 in March, as there were slightly fewer working days in April. This may be compared with the low point of 294,851 bales in December. The April consumption, though much larger than that in December, was below normal, being about 100,000 bales less than the monthly average in the last five cotton seasons. The consumption during the cotton season to the end of April was only 3,576,233 bales, compared with an average of about 4,700,000 in the same period in recent years, a decline of about 1,200,000 bales or 25 per cent.

"Exports have been running light during the month, as is normal at this time of the year. They show no signs of making up for the abnormally small exports earlier in the season, when they should have been running three or four times the volume that was actually shipped abroad. From August 1 to May 20 only about 4,308,134 bales were exported, compared with 5,-865,576 in the same period a year ago. These exports are less than half the average amount exported in corresponding periods preceding the world war. During the seasons 1911-12, 1912-13 and 1913-14, exports from August 1 to the third week in May ranged from about 8,300,000 to 10,350,000 bales."

Roy Gordon and Nell Healey in "Wedded Bliss" are of one of the five splendid features, presenting an attraction that is a big hit with every audience. Other star features include: Hamilton Walton, popular mimic and story teller; Cotton Allen and May Moore in attractive melodies; Marco and Allen in an amazing bit of "digital dexterity;" and the Four Casting Lloyds.

WOMEN OF ATLANTA TO SEEK NEW CHARTER

Athens, Ga., May 27.—(Special.)—The declaration that Atlanta women are determined to fight for a new charter for their city was made by Mrs. E. C. McDougald, honorary president of the Georgia League of Women Voters, in an address here Wednesday to the Athens League of Women Voters.

"The politicians are in control of Atlanta now," declared Mrs. McDougald, "but the women of the city are rapidly uniting, and we hope to render great aid to the men who are trying to wrest the city's government from the politicians and secure the new city charter."

That the Athens League of Women Voters oppose any attempt to abolish the civil service commission here, in the next general assembly, was urged at the meeting by Miss Roberta Hodgson.

WATCH PRESENTED HEAD OF SCHOOLS BY THE TEACHERS

As a tribute of their esteem and admiration, teachers of the Atlanta public schools presented W. F. Dykes, retiring superintendent of the system, with a beautiful gold watch and chain Friday morning.

The presentation of the gift took place in his office and was made by a committee of twelve supervisors, teachers and principals.

The presentation was made by Miss Ruby Jones, principal of Peeples Street school, who expressed admiration for his record and spoke feelingly of the affection for the superintendent which is held by the teaching body.

In his acceptance of the gift Superintendent Dykes expressed deep gratitude. He said that he would cherish the present and the sentiment in which it was presented, more than any other possession, and deeply appreciated the spirit which moved his fellow workers to so express themselves.

PEACE RESOLUTION FORM DECIDED UPON

Washington, May 27. — Republican members of the house foreign affairs committee agreed today on the form of a peace resolution which will be put before the full committee next Thursday for adoption.

While Chairman Porter declined to give out the text, it was said the resolution would not differ materially from that he recently introduced providing for a termination of the state of war between the United States and Germany and Austria-Hungary. Majority members, it was understood, were unwilling to accept the provision of the Knox resolution, passed by the senate, repealing the declaration of war.

Suffragists Will Ask Help Of the Georgia Legislators

The program to be followed by leading suffragists of Georgia when the legislature meets this year was announced yesterday by Mrs. Mary Latimer McLendon, president of the Georgia Woman's Suffrage association, following a meeting held this week of the executive commitee of that organization. In speaking of the meeting, Mrs. McLendon said:

"Letters from Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman Suffrage association, were read, and from these information was gained that the national had not disbanded and is still operating to "gain the ballot for women" in the United States, and, it is still a branch of the International Woman Suffrage alliance, and of the National Council of Women, with headquarters at 171 Madison avenue, New York city.

"At the convention of the N. A. W. S. association held in Cleveland, Ohio, April 13, 1921, a committee was appointed to amend the constitution 'to provide for the perpetuity of the association as long as necessary.' It is known that it must line up to, if not beyond, 1940, since several very valuable bequests can not be settled before that date. A copy of the new constitution was sent to the president of the Georgia Woman Suffrage association which has been auxiliary to the national since its organization in 1890, asking for its approval or rejection. The vote of the executive committee of the Georgia Woman Suffrage association was a vote of emphatic approval.

"It is plain and simple compared to the constitution and by-laws under which the national has been operating for so many years. It is clearly stated in this new constitution that the objects of this association are:

Objects of Association.

"(1.) To secure the vote to the women citizens of the United States by appropriate national and state legislation.

"(2.) To increase the effectiveness of women's votes in furthering better government.

"(3.) The education of women.

"(4.) The mutual improvement of the members.

"(5.) The general diffusion of knowledge among women."

"Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president, New York city; Mrs. Catherine W. McCulloch, Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. Nettie C. Shuler, New York city, were appointed a committee to provide for the perpetuity of the association as long as necessary. It goes without saying that not one dissenting voice was heard from the executive committee of the Georgia Woman Suffrage association and it will so report to the three representative women composing that committee at the earliest opportunity.

"The decision of the National Suffrage association, namely, 'To secure the vote to the women citizens of the United States by appropriate national and state legislation' chimes in with the determination of the Georgia Woman's Suffrage association to appeal to the state legislators before they arrive in Atlanta in June, by mailing to each member an official letter asking that he vote for a bill to amend the constitution of the state of Georgia by eliminating the word 'male,' which has stood like a stone wall barring the way to the goal of women suffrage to secure equal rights with men and to have a voice in making the laws by which women are governed.

"Also a bill will be asked to establish the exact status of women in Georgia so that women can hold any office in this state 'without later hindrance" as all sorts of men have been doing since men were allowed to vote in Georgia. The success of the plan carried out so successfully by the state democratic executive committee of Georgia by which women were deprived of their right to vote in 1920, must be settled by this new legislature at the coming session, or women must know the reason why?

"The provisions of the nineteenth federal amendment distinctly states that there shall be no discrimination of difference made in voting 'on account of sex,' just as the fifteenth amendment states there shall be none on account of 'race, color or previous condition of servitude.' Georgia quickly ratified that fifteenth federal in 1867 and refused to ratify the nineteenth federal amendment in 1919 and 1920.

Comment is unnecessary!

"Georgia and Mississippi have the unenviable reputation of being the only states in the union which refused arbitrarily to let the women vote in 1920. To prevent this crowning insult and injury to the women of Georgia this executive committee charges every woman to remember that old adage: 'Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty,' and beg them to act upon it before it is too late.

"Mrs. Amelia R. Woodall, corresponding secretary, moved that 'this body go on record as favoring disarmament, the one subject of greatest interest to women after that of securing beyond peradventure, 'votes for women' in the Empire State of the South where it is said chivalry 'doth abound.'

"For every man, woman and child in the United States $130.32 has been contributed directly or indirectly for the expense of the army and navy during the past 4 years, and General Pershing has recently explained to congress that 'it will require an appropriation for the next fiscal year of more than $5,000,000 for every working day to care for the navy and military service combined.' After all the facts in the case had been stated, a unanimous vote to work for disarmament was carried because with disarmament will come peace which 'like a river our souls shall overflow,' and blot out the remembrances that once upon a time, not very long ago, it was considered treason to talk about peace.

"All members of the Georgia Woman Suffrage association are requested to act upon the measure considered by the executive committee and communicate with Mrs. Mary Latimer McLendon, President, Georgia Woman Suffrage Association."

ATLANTA JOBBERS DENY CONSPIRACY

ices of the jobber and his many salesmen, this letter will not interest you.

Yours very truly,
(Signed.)

The government's case is founded only on circumstances, as it developed, as it alleged the conclusion that by reason of simultaneous mailing and similar diction concert of action was apparent which would show conspiracy, etc. Only concert of action was alleged in subsequent letters.

On the same day the government alleges the City Salesman's association, of Atlanta, sent the following letter to manufacturers:

Salesmen's Letter.

Gentlemen:

Do you need the jobber as a distributor?

Upon the success of the jobber depends the salary of the Atlanta city salesman.

If you sell "the cream" of the Atlanta retail trade direct how can you ask the co-operation of the salesman and jobber in distributing your goods to the remainder of the retail trade?

We invite you to carefully investigate the distribution of your goods in Atlanta and if they are not going through the legitimate jobbing channels, we would be glad to have your co-operation in directing their sale.

We are sure your distribution cannot be increased by selling direct, over jobbers' heads, through buying agencies—a part of the Atlanta retail trade, thereby antagonizing all the city salesmen and the jobbers.

You need our assistance, we need your help. May we expect it?

Respectfully yours,
CITY SALESMEN'S ASSOCIATION.

Explains Mailing.

The respondents claim that the facts as to letters mailed simultaneously, etc., is true, but that it was not concerted action, as the city salesmen prepared the letters on stationery of the respective firms, had them multigraphed and dellvered them to the wholesalers individually for mailing, which was done without concert of action or conspiracy, the simultaneous mailing being explained in this way.

In the hearing today the government's counsel asked that the following Atlanta jobbers be omitted from the list originally named as defendants, as evidence has failed to disclose that they sent out the letter in question, which action in itself has thrown the burden of the government's case on the alleged March 24 letter: The Atlanta Wholesale Grocers, McCord-Stewart company, Marett-Streater company, A. McD. Wilson company, Conley and Ennis and McDaniel and company.

This leaves complaint standing against the following:

J. J. Barnes-Fain company, Kelly brothers; Oglesby Grocery company; H. L. Singer company, Walker brothers, Johson Fluker and company, Paradise and Rich, R. W. Davis, Charles I. Brannan and J. N. Hirsch.

The ruling of the commission will be watched throughout the United States with keen interest by reason of the issues of trade involved.

Burning Customs House Ordered By Sinn Fein

Dail Eireann Accepts Responsibility for Dublin Incendiarist Outrage.

Dublin, May 27.—The dail eireann, or Sinn Fein parliament, accepts responsibility for the destruction of the Dublin customs house and the conciliation group of Irishmen, therefore, have lost the hope which they had cherished since the disaster that this would prove to be but the act of an irresponsible wing of republicans.

In a statement issued by mysterious processes Friday evening, the dail eireann said the cabinet of the Irish republican organization ordered the customs house burned as an act of war to disorganize and otherwise hamper the British civil government in Ireland, hoping to reduce it to virtual impotence.

"We have resolved to make British government of this country impossible," said the statement. "We shall continue to exercise our right to attack the government irrespective of what buildings it may be housed in."

MANY BRITISH TROOPS FOR IRELAND.

London, May 27.—The cabinet has decided to send large reinforcements to Ireland and it is rumored that new measures are to be adopted against the republican forces in the south and west, according to an announcement by The London Times.

A large number of mobile troops, the newspaper says, are to be employed in a systematic "roundup of rebels" over large areas, but, it adds, the details have not yet been settled as, owing to the continuance of a state of emergency through the industrial troubles, and the need of sending troops to Silesia, it is difficult to spare troops at present.

NO REPRESENTATIONS TO UNITED STATES.

Washington, May 27.—Great Britain has made no representations to the United States regarding the reported shipment of American arms to Ireland and the raising of funds in the United States by the sale of the bonds of the "Irish republic," officials said today after their attention had been directed to press dispatches telling of interpellations made in the parliament on these subjects.

It was indicated that unless representations were made, official cognizance of the alleged traffic in arms would not be taken.

WEEK'S CASUALTIES AGAIN HEAVY.

Dublin, May 27.—The weekly review of events in Ireland, issued by the Dublin Castle authorities today, says the intensified campaign of murder continued unabated and the casualties to the crown forces and civilians again were heavy.

The police and military casualties totaled fifty seven, including twenty-five deaths. The review asserts there were eight murders of civilians, attributable to the Sinn Fein, and six cases of attempted murder.

Eleven attempts were made on occupied barracks, and there were 49 raids on the mails. Four raids were made on coast guard stations, and three raids for arms. The persons now interned number 3,054.

HEAVY VOTE BY UNIONISTS.

Belfast, May 27.—The unofficial count of the votes cast in Tuesday's elections in the six northern counties of Antrim, Armagh, Down, Fermanagh, London Derry, and Tyrone shows that the unionists received 341,289 votes, the Sinn Feiners 103,516, the Nationalists 60,762 and the independent laborites 4,001. There is to be added to the unionist vote 4,000 university voters whose ballots will be counted on Saturday.

These figures would indicate that the Nationalists-Sinn Fein combination should, in view of the proportion of their supporters, have about twenty members in the new parliament to the Unionists thirty-two, although it is considered probable the unionists representation may reach forty-one. The fact that Joseph Devlin, the nationalist leader, must resign either his seat for West Belfast or Antrim possibly will add to the unionist count as it is believed almost certain that a unionist will be chosen for which ever seat he resigns.

Two surprises of the voting were the big poll of Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein organization, in Tyronne and Fermanagh, where he received more than 10,000 votes above the first Unionist and the majority of more than 12,000 votes which Sir James Craig had over Eamonn de Valera.

ENGINEERS PLAN CONE ST. VIADUCT

Engineers of railroads that would be affected by the erection of the Spring street viaduct, presented a report at a conference of railroad officials and the city planning commission Friday morning, recommending that the viaduct connect Cone street instead of Spring street with the Terminal station. The meeting was held in the office of Mayor Key.

No definite action was taken in the matter. The city engineers will study the possibilities of the Cone street route and the question will be discussed at another meeting. Following the conference it was pointed out by a member of city officials that the bond ordinance specified Spring street, the people voted for "the Spring street" viaduct and the bridge will have to be erected at Spring street.

Changes in the plan were recommended by the railroad engineers on the grounds that railroad property would be damaged less by the Cone street viaduct than by a bridge connecting Spring street; that the Cone street viaduct would traverse only 400 feet of railroad tracks compared with 1,200 by the Spring street route, and that traffic congestion would be lessened by the Cone street plan which provides for a western approach from Alabama street.

Present at Conference.

Among the officials present at the conference were: W. A. Winburn, president of the Central of Georgia railway; W. R. Cole, president of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway; L. A. Downs, vice president and general manager of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railway; W. L. Stanley, division counsel for the Seaboard Air Line railway; R. B. Pegram, vice president of the Southern railway, representing the Atlanta Terminal company; engineers for the railway companies; R. H. Whitten, city planning expert employed by the planning commission, the members of the viaduct committee of the bond commission, Mayor Key, and many others.

The report of the railway engineers follows:

The undersigned as a committee of engineers, having been requested to report their views on a location for a proposed viaduct connecting Marietta street on the north with that portion of the city on the south, in the vicinity of the Terminal station, in the city of Atlanta, and having considered the matter as carefully as could be done within the time given and with the data available, beg to report as follows:

1. That the proposed Spring street location heretofore suggested be changed and that the starting point of the viaduct leaving Marietta street be an extension of Cone street, at approximately right angles to Marietta and then curving slightly to the east and crossing over the curved part of the Central of Georgia freight station (near the junction of Madison avenue and Alabama street), thence along east side of freight station to, at or near the intersection of Madison and Mitchell streets.

2. We are of the opinion that such a proposed viaduct commencing at Cone street will serve fully the needs of the community and at the same time diminish certain damages and obstructions which would be brought about by construction on Spring street location, namely:

Plan Impractical.

(a) The Cone street route will afford the desired connection for through traffic between Marietta and Mitchell streets without interfering with the regular entrance to freight station of the N., C. & St. L. and S. A. L. railroads, which is now secured through Spring street. To undertake to use Spring street for both through traffic and as a means of egress and ingress to this freight station is not only unsafe, but impracticable, and would either practically destroy the usefulness of the railway property or force them to seek another outlet, the possibility and cost of which are at present unknown. Such use of Spring street would cause immense damage to the freight station property and its service to the public, all of which can be prevented by adopting the Cone street route.

(b) A viaduct from Cone street running southwardly would be more nearly straight and would utilize property not now dedicated to a public thoroughfare, also would at the same time cross over much less space occupied by railroad tracks, than would be the case on any route beginning at Spring street, and said Cone street route would further cross said railroad tracks much more nearly at right angles, make it possible to secure foundations at much less expense than would be the case on any route having its beginning at Spring street, and would preserve the continuity of the present city street system. The Cone street location would further reduce the danger of damage to the viaduct and to the lives of railroad employees, as well as users of the viaduct, arising from the necessary operation of the railways and the interference with the operation of the properties due to supports of the viaduct. The adontion of Cone street, in lieu of Spring street, would lessen damage and injury to those properties which have been improved with the expectation that the present use of Spring street would continue indefinitely.

Spring street from Carnegie way to Marietta street is only 50 feet wide, and that part between Marietta street and the railroad property under the proposed plan would be subjected to both the heavy and slow moving traffic, to and from the railroad depots, as well as ordinary and high-speed street traffic.

Cone street between Carnegie way and Marietta street is 60 feet wide, and its suggested extension would be devoted exclusively to ordinary and high-speed street traffic.

The more direct route connecting the portions of the city, sought to be joined, will be secured by producing Spring street, north of West Cain street, southwardly to an intersection with Cone street, thence along Cone street route to the junction of Madison avenue and Mitchell street.

The Cone street route affords the possibility of constructing the viaduct at a higher elevation than at Spring street and with a long, easy, uniform gradient southwardly from Marietta street; such greater height will also admit of the adoption of a more economical depth of girder and greater flexibility in the length of span to be employed.

In view of the foregoing we are unanimously of the opinion that the Cone street route should be adopted in preference to that projected at Spring street.

In reaching this conclusion we have confined our consideration principally to the engineering features thereof, but direct attention to the fact that there are many questions to be considered other than engineering. Respectfully submitted,

HUNTER M'DONALD,
Chief Engineer, N., C. & St. L. Railway.
C. K. LAWRENCE,

Another Scorching Hot Day Promised Sweltering Atlanta

It was hot Friday, according to everybody. It will be hot Saturday, according to C. F. von Herrmann and about 7,387 weather instruments he keeps under the shadow of his protecting wing in the government weather bureau offices here.

It was clear Friday; it is scheduled to be fair Saturday. In other words, Saturday will be very similar to Friday. Mr. von Herrmann goes even farther and states that Sunday will be like Saturday just as much as Saturday will be like Friday was. But it was hot Friday.

The thermometer rose within itself until 90 degrees were marked by the mercury. It was terribly hot. Not the sun-stroking sort of heat, but the perspiring kind, wherein Palm Beach clothes are given popular favor if not social prestige, wherein vests are impossible, wherein one begins wondering why there isn't a monument somewhere to the inventor of beeveedees.

A system of concrete docks covering several acres are to be constructed at Hamburg by the International Mercantile Marine for the exclusive use of their vessels flying the American flag.

JIMMY QUINN 'SEES' CHAMP

Atlantic City, N. J., May 27.—Through the eyes of Captain Bob Roper, the Chicago heavyweight, "Blind Jimmy" Quinn, of Philadelphia, a noted featherweight 20 years ago, "watched" Jack Dempsey go through his training paces at the champion's open air arena today.

With the former army captain at his side, Quinn sat at the edge of the ring, while Roper explained every move the champion made. Half of the time Quinn seemed to know without being told, as he said he could tell by the swish of the champion's gloves whether the blows landed. Although totally blind, Quinn's humor is unfailing, and he enjoyed the workout as much as any of the 800 spectators.

"If the observations of a blind man will do you any good, I predict that Dempsey will win within four rounds," Quinn said. Quinn, who is 41 years old, lost his sight 20 years ago as a result of an infected eye received in a ring contest.

Dempsey eased off in his training today, contenting himself with some pulley exercises, shadow boxing, four rounds of boxing, and a few minutes burlesque wrestling with Bull Montana. Jack Renault and Leo Houck were Dempsey's sparring partners.

Works With Houck.

Dempsey worked best with Houck, and he was on the receiving end of whatever hard punching the champion did during the afternoon.

The wrestling match with Montana gave the crowd a laugh. Dempsey secured a hold on both Montana's ears and rushed him to the ropes, bumping Bull's head on the ring post, until the wrestler cried out that Dempsey was too rough, and refused to continue.

Dempsey's shortening of his workout today was ordered by Jack Kearns, his manager, who felt that after the strenuous afternoon of Thursday the champion might be traveling too fast at this time.

Martin Burke, the New Orleans heavyweight, will not box with the champion Monday or Tuesday. Burke leaves tomorrow for New York to secure a headgear before he enters the ring with the champion.

Carp Feels Fine.

Manhasset, N. Y., May 27.—After doing ten miles of road work, boxing three fast rounds and spending thirty-five minutes in his gymnasium today, Georges Carpentier said:

"I feel fit, like a battleship."

Early this morning, Georges, accompanied by Italian Joe Gans, spent more than two hours on the road. Georges says he loves nature; that he likes to hear the chipmunks and watch the squirrels frolic.

After a short siesta Georges entertained a number of friends at luncheon and then slept until 3 o'clock. Fifteen minutes later he appeared in the outdoor ring behind the gymnasium. Gans, who is a tough 155 pound man, gave the challenger plenty of work and Georges liked it.

The Frenchman was quick and foxy. He feinted Gans into numerous knockout positions, then smiled as he missed purposely. They spent the first round in-fighting and the other open.

BOY ELECTROCUTED BY WIRE IN ORCHARD

West Point, Ga., May 27.—(Special.)—A charged electric wire placed about his peach orchard by Lee Clark, superintendent of electricity, caused the death today of Charlie Will Johnson, a Langdale boy.

The lad, when with several companions climbing into the orchard, touched the wire and was killed. The orchard owner was much affected. He declared that he had given the wire only a trivial voltage, and could not understand how the heavier charge was released.

COTTON MILLS RESUME WORK AS "OPEN SHOP"

Knoxville, Tenn., May 27. — The Brookside Cotton mills will resume operations next Monday morning at 6:30 o'clock, giving employment to union and non-union men and women alike who may apply for work on the "open shop" plan of the company. The mills will operate fifty-five hours per week and resume after suspension that has existed since April 11, when 1,500 employees struck because of reduction in wages. Announcement of the above policy for Brookside mills and the fact that operations would be resumed was made today by President Maynard.

PAPER PLANT STRIKE SETTLEMENT EXPECTED

Albany, N. Y., May 27.—Settlement of the strike of workers on many paper plants in the United States, Canada and Newfoundland, may be brought about early next week by submitting the question of wages and working conditions to arbitration, it was learned here today.

J. T. Carter, president of the International Brotherhood of Paper Makers, which, with the International Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers' union, includes all branches of the paper-making industry, said today a group of manufacturers had submitted a proposition to arbitrate the disputes which brought about the strike and added there would be a conference in this city Tuesday of all trades in the industry to decide the union's cause.

The International Paper company, one of the largest in the country, is not included in the group of manufacturers which is desirous of arbitration. This company, said Mr. Carey, has declared for the "open shop."

The paper workers asked for a wage increase of 10 per cent while the manufacturers sought a reduction of 30 per cent and the adoption of a 9-hour day, instead of eight hours, in the new working agreement which was to have become effective May 1 in some plants and May 11 in others. Failure of the manufacturers and workers to settle their differences before the old agreement expired, led to the present strike, affecting approximately 40,000 workers.

Statement Denied.

New York, May 27.—The statement of President J. T. Carey, of the International Brotherhood of Paper Makers in Albany today that the International Paper company had declared for an open shop policy was denied by officials of the company here today.

They decline to make any statement in connection with the strike.

FRANCE TO JOIN U. S. IN TRIBUTE

GREAT BRITAIN HONORS U. S. DEAD.

BY A. E. JOHNSON.

United News Staff Correspondent.

London, May 27.—Great Britain will join Monday in paying tribute to the sons—and daughters—of America who gave their lives in the cause of civilization, and who lie buried in British graveyards 3,000 miles from home.

America's Memorial day in England will be impressive. Services of a dramatically solemn nature will be held at St. Paul's cathedral, with high officials of the government and nobility in attendance. At their conclusion a bust of George Washington will be unveiled, beside those of the Duke of Wellington and Admiral Nelson.

Out in the countryside, meanwhile, members of the American Legion post, American consuls and hundreds of English volunteers, have accepted the loving task of decorating the grave of every soldier, sailor, nurse, Red Cross worker and civil war veteran now lying on British soil.

Decorate Victims' Graves.

The graves of the victims of the Lusitania tragedy at Queenstown will be decked with garlands and flags, and those of the men who went down in the troopships Tuscania and Otranto on the Island of Islay will be honored.

There now remain here the bodies of 650 members of the American fighting forces. Over their graves will be placed wreaths of evergreen laurel and palm, with a miniature American flag. The graves of those men who died fighting with the British forces will be similarly decorated, save that the Union Jack will replace our own colors. So, too, will the resting places of the Britishers who went down with the Tuscania and Otranto, bear their symbols of valor and eternal peace.

A committee from the American Legion post will make a solemn pilgrimage to the great cenotaph in Whitehall, and to the grave of the unknown soldier in Westminster abbey.

All But 650 "Home."

A year ago there were 2,000 soldier graves over which the little American flags waved. This year all but 650 of the men who gave their lives have been removed—"home." But those who remain represent every branch of the American combatant and civilian forces—the army and the navy, women nurses, medical officers and men, infantrymen, machine gunners, cooks, "caseys," Salvationers, every type of man and woman who helped win the war.

The British are doing everything in their power to make this day one of reverence and friendliness. I can cite one instance to show the depth of feeling:

The American Legion placed a large order with a London florist. He gave them a ridiculously low price, and when they, wonderingly, inquired why, he said:

JURY EMPANELED TO TRY 93 STRIKERS.

New Orleans, May 27.—A jury was completed in the federal district court today to try the ninety-three striking seamen charged with violating an injunction against interfering with United States shipping board vessels. Hundreds of witnesses have been summoned and attorneys decline to estimate the time the trial may consume.

The case will be heard before Judge Rufus E. Foster, after whom the union men today named their harbor patrol launch. Large employers of labor as well as men identified with trade unions were excluded in the selection of jurors.

Interest in the strike situation centered largely today in the clearance of eight shipping board vessels in the past twenty four hours, shipping officials issuing a statement that this indicated approaching collapse of the marine labor war.

ATTACKS POWERS OF RAIL BOARD

to charge a retail power rate of 12 cents a kilowatt an hour; a wholesale rate of 7.77 cents a kilowatt hour and an industrial rate of 1.66 cents a kilowatt hour.

Requests of Company.

Specific requests made by the company are:

First, That the rates fixed by the commission in its own orders be declared void and of no effect and in violation of law.

Second, That the commission be restrained temporarily and permanently from enforcing its two orders issued April 13, 1920, and May 20, 1921.

Third, That the commission be restrained from interfering with the company when it endeavors to put its new schedule of rates in effect.

Fourth, That the commission be restrained from enforcing penalties on the company for failure to observe its orders.

Fifth, The company asks the court to fix a valuation of its properties for rate making purposes.

Sixth, It asks an immediate temporary order granting the relief requested.

Seventh, That the company be given such other and further relief just and equitable in teh premises.

Will Have Three Judges.

Because of the importance of the case Judge Sibley has asked that Federal Judge Alex King, of the Circuit Court of Appeals, and Judge W. I. Grubb, of the United States District court of North Alabama, sit with him at the hearing.

The order of Judge Sibley was directed to C. M. Candler, Paul B. Trammell, James A. Perry, John T. sioners; Albert Collier, secretary of the commission, and Judge James K. Hines, special counsel for the commission.

Judge Boykin Wright, of Augusta, filed the petition for the company. He announced the company seeks "to obtain relief from the commission's application for higher rates, which would give us a return of 8 per cent on the value of the property."

Copies of the petition, according to the order of the court, were filed with the governor and attorney-general by Judge Wright.

Chairman Murphey Candler and Commissioner James A. Perry, stated that they had not read the brief filed against the board, and, therefore, could not make any statement concerning the effect it would have on all rate decisions it has rendered.

Judge James K. Hines, special counsel for the commission, has acknowledeged receipt of notice of the proceedings, they stated. Judge Hines was out of the city Friday night and could not be reached.

LOST CORNERSTONE UNEARTHED FRIDAY

When found Friday it was several feet below the street level.

Its contents will be preserved in the museum at the Masonic temple on Peachtree street.

Inclosed in an envelope within the stone was a small deguerreotype but the picture had faded away. On the envelope was inscribed "To my children a thousand years hence." The name was illegible.

There was a copy of the charter and ordinances of Atlanta of the year 1858. Uniuqe in the list of contents was a portion of a fifty-five dollar bill of United States currency. There was a $5 bank note issued by the Bank of Fulton, and three marbles said to have probably been used in balloting.

Roster of Lodge.

Found in the stone was a copy of the by-laws and the roster of Atlanta lodge No. 59, F. & A. M.; a copy of the by-laws of Fulton lodge No. 216; a sheepskin blank charter of the Knights of Jericho, the charter inclosing a copy of the constitution of the grand and subordinate lodges and of Atlanta lodge No. 1.

By-laws of the Mt. Zion chapter No. 16, Royal Arch Masons; by-laws of the Couer de Lion commandery, Knights Templar; a copy of the Medical and Literary weekly, current of that date; copy of The Occident and American Jewish advocate, of Philadelphia; copy of the Atlanta Daily Intelligencer; copy of the twenty-first annual announcement and catalogue of the Reform Medical college; copy of the Literary National American; copy of the Georgia Weekly visitor, of Madison, were found.

In the deposits were a 12-cent stamp, a full face view, and a 3-cent stamp, a profile of George Washington. There was a tiny gold locket containing a faded out picture; two 3-cent silver pieces, two half-dimes, one Spanish "madeo," and a silver quarter.

The card of the architect, E. W. Brown, was in the box. Among its other contents was a ribbon on which was printed the roster of the officers and members of Tallulah Fire company No. 3; the constitution and rules of the Mechanics Fire Engine company No. 2; the constitution and by-laws of Atlanta Fire company No. 1.

Copy of Constitution.

In a state of good preservation was a copy of the constitution of the Grand lodge of Georgia adopted in 1856; copy of an address by W. T. C. Campbell, delivered on December 27, 1854; copy of Grier's almanac; copy of constitution and by-laws of Central lodge, I. O. O. F.; copy of the National Weekly American; an ivory rule; a surgeon's lance; a small sea snell; copper identification tags and other articles.

On a marble slab within the cornerstone were chiseled the names of Most Worshipful William R. Rockwell, grand master; Right Worshipful R. T. Turner, senior grand warden; Right Worshipful W. A. Love, junior grand warden; the name of the architect and the date August 11, 1859.

After the stone was unearthed the articles it contained were taken in charge by E. J. Biederman, general superintendent at the building. He realized their value at once. He is a thirty-second degree Scottish Rite Mason and a member of the Mystic Shrine. His membership is in Pittsburg lodge No. 429, Pittsburg, Cal.

Following his discovery he called Ordinary Thomas J. Jeffries, past grand master of Georgia, about the find and Mr. Jeffries requested W. H. Terrell, a prominent Mason and past grand master of Atlanta lodge No. 59, to take up the matter and ask for and take care of the articles.

surrounding property values and lead to an exodus of white citizens and the encroachment of negro residents on a section that would remain white if the school were retained.

Commissioner W. H. Terrell stated that he was prepared to vote at the meeting Friday against turning the school over to the negroes. Commissioner Carl Hutcheson declared that he would never vote to take the school away from the whites—not if the city lost $100,000 by keeping it a white school.

Commissioner Paul Fleming called attention to a rule adopted some time ago by the board that before acting on any proposed physical changes the question should be submitted to a committee of the bond commission. An expert survey of the school system to determine where new schools should be located, is planned, and the commissioner moved that no action be taken on the controversy until the survey has been completed and the bond commission has been consulted. It was adopted with Commissioners Terrell and Hutcheson voting no.

The Gideons have announced a meeting for Saturday to be held at the Gould building. All traveling men and salesmen are cordially invited. Lunch will be served from noon to 1 o'clock by the ladies of this order.

Wealthy Slacker Loses Property In This Country

Alien Property Custodian Seizes Wealth of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll.

Philadelphia, May 27.—All of the property in this city of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, convicted draft evader and army deserter now in Germany, valued at $850,000, was seized today by Colonel Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian of the United States. It consists of real estate and money on deposit in four local banking institutions.

The property was held by Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll, Grover's mother, under power of attorney.

The seizure, Colonel Miller announced, was by direction of the president and under the authority of the trading with the enemy act. It was the first seizure since June, 1919.

Seizes "Castle."

Colonel Miller announced that after she had testified before the congressional committee investigating the escape of Bergdoll from army sergeants a year ago, that she held a power of attorney for Grover, Mrs. Bergdoll was served with a formal demand for a detailed report of all her son's holdings and was notified that his property would be taken over by the government.

Accompanied by Major Vincent A. Carroll, his personal attorney, Colonel Miller seized the "Bergdoll castle" on the outskirts of this city where Mrs. Bergdoll lives. This property was left Grover by his father, Mrs. Bergdoll owning a residence in the city, in a section locally known as "Brewerytown."

"Well, when I do have to move?" said Mrs. Bergdoll, when served with the seizure notice.

Funds Tied Up.

Colonel Miller and Major Carroll then proceeded to the People's Trust company, the Northwestern National bank, the Real Estate Title Insurance and Trust company, and Drexel & Co., and ordered the sequestration of all property standing in the name of Mrs. Bergdoll until the interest of Grover in the funds in the banks could be ascertained.

President Schmidhaiser, of the Bergdoll Brewing company, was served with a similar order tying up Grover's holdings in that company.

All mortgagors to Grover and the tenants in his properties will be served likewise, Colonel Miller announced.

It is expected the seizure will cut off any funds Grover may be receiving from the United States and throw him upon his own resources in Germany.

IS NOW HELD "ENEMY."

Washington, May 27—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, by reason of his escape to Germany, is now held by the American government to be an "enemy" within the meaning of the trading with the enemy act. This is explained in a statement by Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian, which was made public today at his office here. It follows:

"At the personal direction of the president of the United States and in accordance with the opinion of the attorney-general, I have gone to Philadelphia today to seize such property belonging to Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, as has been reported to the alien property custodian as being his own property, or in which he has any interest whatsoever, whether owned and administered directly by him or through power of attorney given to any member of his family.

"This move has been in contemplation for several weeks and has been the subject of conference between the president, the attorney-general and the alien property custodian. The state department has amended the general war trade board license of October 2, 1920, which permitted Bergdoll to enjoy the benefit of his property in this country.

"Bergdoll in addition to his other crimes against this country by reason of the draft laws and subsequent escape, is today an 'enemy' under the trading with the enemy act. The intention of the alien property custodian is to administer and operate the property seized from Bergdoll today as that of any other enemy's held by him until congress directs what disposition is to be made of the enemy property in the hands of the custodian.

The motto of Harvard university, "Christo et Ecclesiae," is of Dutch origin, according to a statement made by Clifford B. Clapp, of the Henry E. Huntington library, San Gabriel, Cal., in an address before the Colonial society, of Boston. This motto, he said, was undoubtedly taken from an inscription on one of the portals of the Academy of Francker, founded in 1585 by the estates of Friesland.

NIGHT SWIMMING WILL BE ALLOWED IN PARKS TONIGHT

The first night swimming of the season at the municipal pools will be permitted tonight, when the lights will be turned on at the Piedmont park and Grant park pools. R. C. Turner, city electrician, announced Friday that all the necessary fixtures have been installed to shed thousands of candle power rays on the waters. He said that fixtures will be installed at Maddox park by June 1.

Closing Exercises Of Tech R. O. T. C. To Be Held Monday

The closing exercises of the 1921 session of the Atlanta Normal and Industrial Institute for Negroes was held yesterday in the school chapel. Each student was given his yearly standing and the singing by the pupils, under the direction of Prof. L. B. Byron, was a feature of the program.

Principal Stinson made the principal address, saying that "The Negro masses should be trained in books, good behavior and taught how to work with their hands and to be satisfied in that place and with doing that work for which they are best fitted." He stressed the point that good-feeling should be worked for between the blacks and whites.

Among other things discussed was the school deficit of $1,280. Prominent negro leaders present were Dr. H. D. Canady, head of the Atlanta District A. M. E. church, Dr. J. A. Hadley, head of the Monticello District A. M. E. church, Rev. T. J. Linton, L. A. Townsley, G. W. Williams, and J. R. Flemming.

WOOD AND HUTCHESON FORM PARTNERSHIP

The formation of a partnership for the practice of law has been announced by Carl F. Hutcheson and J. O. Wood, well known young members of the Atlanta bar. The new firm will be effective June 1. Mr. Hutcheson is a member of the Fulton county board of education, and Mr. Wood is a member of council from the second ward, and is editor of "The Searchlight."

BARRETT AND ELMORE TO ADDRESS FARMERS

Charles S. Barrett, president of the national farmers union organization, and A. A. Elmore will address cotton farmers residing near Atlanta at the state capitol in the senate chamber Saturday morning at ten o'clock. The meeting is being held by the Georgia Cotton Growers association. Details of the organization's contract plans will be explained by the speakers.

DON'T FORGET, THE MAN WHO ATTENDS OUR AUCTIONS STARTS ON THE ROAD TO PROSPERITY.

Come Out to the Auction of Well-Located Lots and 2 New Bungalows on the South Pryor Car Line, at South Boulevard, Between Casanova and Hawk Streets.

Saturday Afternoon, May 28, 2:30 P. M.

HERE YOU CAN BUY a desirable lot at your price, with large, beautiful oak trees, splendid drainage, all improvements down (except gas), on and close to splendid car schedules to the business districts, new, modern, fire-proof school building on the edge of the property. OUT IN THE COOL AND QUIET OF THE COUNTRY, where it is delightful to live, away from the distracting noises of the city, in a section that is restricted against negroes, mercantile centers, filling stations, etc.

The natural advantages and conveniences are so numerous that it is doubted if a more desirable location can be found for the erection of homes costing from $2,500 to $4,000.

WHY WILL YOU CONTINUE TO PAY RENT IN THE HOT, NOISY, CROWDED DOWNTOWN DISTRICTS OF THE CITY WHEN YOU CAN BUY A NICE, WELL LOCATED LOT HERE, BUILD A HOME, QUIT PAYING HIGH RENT, ENJOY THE FRESH AIR OF THE COUNTRY AND LIVE TO RIPE OLD AGE?

FOLKS have certainly been buying lots at our auctions lately, and you can't blame them because they are getting bargains, which helps them in building homes to escape high rents and crowded conditions. YOU, TOO, CAN BUY BARGAINS—IF YOU WILL ATTEND THE AUCTION

This Afternoon, May 28, 2:30 P. M.

Successful printing is no longer regarded as something bought at an astonishingly low price. Every successful printing job is the result of a sympathetic understanding between the buyer of printing and his printer. If either tries to get the better of the other, it comes out of the job.

The printer who really produces a good job of printing is usually entitled to his price. Poor printing is high at any price.

WOMACK RELEASED UNDER $1,000 BOND

Lawrenceville, Ga., May 27.—(Special.)—Eddie Womack, the seventeen-year-old boy of Dunwoody, DeKalb county, who was arrested Thursday charged with being responsible for wrongs to Lucille Reeves, the seventeen-year-old sister of Guss Reeves, who killed his brother-in-law, Lee Clark, was Friday afternoon released on $1,000 bond, at a hearing in Lawrenceville.

His preliminary hearing has been set for June 9. The hearing of Guss Reeves was set for the same date. As Reeves is charged with murder, however, he may not be granted bond until the preliminary hearing. He is now in jail in Lawrenceville.

The Womack lad was represented by Colonel O. A. Nix and Judge I. L. Takes.

The warrant under which the Womack boy was arrested was sworn out against him by Mrs. Lee Clark, sister of the wronged girl and wife of the man killed by her brother, Guss Reeves. Mrs. Clark, who claims that her husband was not responsible for the wrong to Lucille Reeves, places all blame upon the Womack boy. The Reeves girl signed an affidavit that the boy had wronged her last August.

The killing of Clark was the result of the effort of Guss Reeves to seek information as to the man guilty of injuring his sister, Lucille Reeves. He was told that his brother-in-law, Clark, was the guilty man, and had gone to Clark's home with three witnesses to discuss the matter when the killing ensued.

COMMITTEE IS NAMED TO DECIDE ON CHARTER

the people of Atlanta generally would be in a more receptive frame of mind, especially since the recent bunco probe revelations.

Reforms Are Needed.

"Atlanta needs reform, and Atlanta wants reform," was the keynote of the assemblage. "I would like to see the city a seething debating ground," Mr. Jones declared, "where, from every corner, the question of purifying our city politics would be preached and agitated."

The following were appointed to constitute the co-operative charter committee: Philip Weltner, representing the Christian council, a body under whose executive jurisdiction are more than 70 churches; Mrs. C. P. Ozburn, state president of Mother's congress; Miss Eleanor Raoul, Marvin Underwood, George E. Haney, Atlanta Federation of Trades, and Cator Woolford, Retail Credit Men's association.

Various names by which the charter would be known were suggested. It was suggested that, since a large and prominent part is being taken by the women and women's associations, it would be appropriate to launch it under the caption of "The Women's Charter." No action, however, was taken.

The so-called four types of city charter were discussed, with the recommendation that the charter be either founded or modified along one of the four lines. Commission, managerial and representative forms of city administration were considered.

Will Need Legal Advice.

Formation of the charter would be along the lines most applicable to the absence of Dr. Jones, who the facilities available to those empowered with the task. Several liberal-minded persons warned that the task of formulating a charter was no easy one, but a long, tedious and laborious effort which would require expert legal advice.

Another meeting was called for Tuesday evening, June 7. Owing to the absence of Dr. Jones, who leaves in a few days to attend the Scottish Rite convention in Scotland, W. R. C. Smith was appointed chairman of the central committee during the absence.

A resolution was adopted to seek the co-operation of the public by the inauguration of an intensive campaign of appeals to be run in the daily newspapers.

Rickenbacker Lands In Chicago in Trip In Plane Over U. S.

At Omaha Inspects Scene of Crash—Riding in Mail Ship.

Chicago, May 27.—Eddie Rickenbacker, American ace, arrived at Checkerboard field at 5:28 p. m., central standard time, today, in his attempted flight from Los Angeles to Washington.

TO GET PLANE IN CHICAGO.

Omaha, Neb., May 27.—Traveling as a passenger, Eddie Rickenbacker left for Chicago at 1:13 p. m. in an air mail service plane piloted by W. C. Hopson.

Rickenbacker decided to proceed to Chicago in an air mail plane and attempt to get an army plane there.

Following his arrival here, Rickenbacker received a telegram from the second assistant postmaster-general at Washington saying he had no authority to allow the flyer to use an air mail plane for the remainder of the journey.

INSPECTS SCENE OF ACCIDENT.

Cheyenne, Wyo., May 27.—Eddie Rickenbacker, American ace in the world war, resumed his transcontinental flight from this city at 6 o'clock this morning, as a passenger in a mail plane piloted by W. C. Pickup.

Before taking off this morning Rickenbacker inspected the machine wrecked when he landed here last night.

Examination of the ground showed Rickenbacker landed near the center of the field. After touching the ground his ship ran about 800 feet before it smashed into a gulley wrecking his landing gear.

Officials declared today that the flaming "T" placed for guidance at the end of the field was improperly located, causing Rickenbacker to land his ship tail to the wind.

Armed Preacher Alone Stops Mob On Lynching Bent

Hattiesburg, Miss., May 27.—Standing at the head of a flight of stairs, pistol in hand, the Rev. G. S. Harmon, a Methodist preacher, late last night stood off a masked mob intent upon removing Casey E. Jones from the Methodist hospital here. Jones was wounded yesterday by J. S. Mosely, after he had shot and dangerously wounded Mrs. Mosely.

Dr. Harmon, commissioner of the hospital, upon learning that feeling was aroused against Jones, seated himself in the dark at a window which gave him a good view of the street in front of the hospital. Two or three automobiles soon drove by arousing the parson's suspicion, and he called up the police, asking for more guards.

Before they arrived, however, a number of masked men slipped into the yard, and one of them, bandaged as though injured, stepped upon the gallery.

Dr. Harmon refused to allow him to enter but others of the party entered through a window only to find themselves confronted by the preacher, who warned them not to come up the stairs.

"Doctor, we aren't going to make any racket," said one, "we just want our man."

"I am a Methodist preacher," replied the doctor, "in charge of this hospital, and responsible for all in it. We have sick women and sick men in here, and they are already torn up over this disturbance, and you dare not come up those steps unless you cross my dead body. Now, shoot if you dare; you may kill me, but you shall not come up those steps."

Hearing the screams of nurses other members of the mob outside made a break to gain entrance, but Dr. Harmon again levelled his pistol and threatened to shoot, forcing them to retreat. The mob then dispersed and a few minutes later when Sheriff Edmondson arrived with deputies, the tension had been relieved.

ROADS AND EMPLOYEES NEAR PAY AGREEMENTS

Chicago, May 27.—With the date set for abrogation of the national shop crafts agreement but a month distant, conferences are in session between the railroads and their employees on nearly every road in the country, many of them nearing agreement, according to information reaching headquarters of the crafts here.

The stage at which some of the conferences have arrived is indicated by the fact that the railroad labor board, which referred the agreements to the roads and their employees for settlement has been asked to indicate specifically who will sign the completed agreements.

A hearing will be held at an early date, probably next week, when the agreement reached on each railroad shall be signed by representatives of each craft or by the affiliated crafts as a whole. Some of the carriers, it is said, are demanding that each craft sign a separate agreement.

Armed Men Overpower Guards and Purloin Thirty Barrels Whisky

Lawrenceburg, Ky., May 27.—Armed men variously estimated at from eight to twenty, overpowered two guards at the distillery of T. H. Bond and Brother, seven miles southeast of here, today, bound them and purloined approximately thirty barrels of whisky which was carried away in a motor truck. The whisky was valued at $50,000. The guards, unable to free themselves, finally attracted attention by their cries.

COUPLE ARE TAKEN WITH AUTO LOAD OF SCOTCH AND RYE

Hawkinsville, Ga., May 27.—Four hundred and seventeen quarts of wrapped-in-straw rye and Scotch whisky and the automobile in which the liquor was being conveyed were seized by the sheriff today. The occupants of the car, who gave the names of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Conner, of Chattanooga, Tenn., were released after they deposited $1,000 cash, besides leaving the whisky and automobile.

FATE OF MATHIS IN JURY'S HANDS

Lyerly, Ga., May 27.—(Special.)—The fate of Clint Mathis, charged with the murder of Lewis Kinsey, was Friday night placed in the hands of a jury. Final arguments were made and the judge's charge delivered late in the afternoon, and the jury at once began its deliberations. The state Friday morning introduced two witnesses in addition to those who testified Thursday.

R. E. Peterson, ticket agent in Chattanooga, swore that he had sold one ticket to Asheville, N. C., on the morning of January 28, and described the party who bought the ticket. He said that while he would not swear positively that Mathis was the party who had purchased the ticket, he resembled the party very much. Peterson had also noticed the abandoned car left near the station, and which proved to be Kinsey's.

Charley Williams, a negro taxi driver of Chattanooga, swore that he had seen the Ford car drive up in Fourteenth street between midnight and 4 o'clock, when Mathis was believed to have caught a train for Asheville. With the evidence of Williams, the state closed, and the defense introduced a number of witnesses.

Miss Wilson Testifies.

Miss Lona Wilson, who lives at Lindale, was the chief witness introduced by the defense. She testified that Mathis had called at her residence about 8 o'clock of the night of January 27, and asked for a loan of $40, stating that he was going on a trip.

The money was given Mathis.

Mathis afterward took the stand in his own behalf and appeared to be cool and unshaken. He said that he had hid from the officers because warrants had been issued against him. He said that he had on January 27 made arrangements with Kinsey to carry him to Rome that night and that shortly after nightfall Kinsey appeared in his car at Dodd's house, and the two made the trip to Rome.

After arriving at Rome, Mathis stated, he went to Lindale to borrow some money from Miss Wilson with which to pay Kinsey for the trip. After returning from Lindale, he said he found Kinsey waiting and the bill was paid. This, he said, was the last time the defendant had seen Kinsey.

Goes to Chattanooga.

Shortly afterwards, he testified, he got in a car with a man going to Chattanooga, but did not learn the driver's name. In Chattanooga he boarded a train for Asheville, and thence to Marion, where he was placed under arrest. Mathis denied any connection with the crime and asserted he and Kinsey were the best of friends.

The state charges that Mathis murdered Kinsey shortly after he had entered Kinsey's car for the trip to Rome. Kinsey's body was found within a mile of where Mathis testified that he entered the auto. The state further charged that Mathis drove Kinsey's automobile to Chattanooga, where he abandoned it.

TWO MEN ARE JAILED ON GIRLS' COMPLAINT

Charged with attempted assault upon two young 17-year-old Atlanta girls Thursday afternoon, Charlie E. Thompson, 23, of 22 Flora avenue, and Robert Holley, 22, of 176 Luckie street, are being held by the police under $2,000 bond each.

According to the story told the police, the two girls entered a drug store Thursday afternoon, and while ordering a drink, made the remark that they were going to Brookwood. The two men overheard them, and offered to take them out in their car. It appears that they accepted.

When they reached Brookwood, however, the men, instead of stopping, speeded up the car and refused to let the girls out, it is claimed. They continued several miles, it was stated, making a detour and heading for Lakewood. When the girls finally managed to escape from the car, the report said, their clothing was torn and they said they had been brutally treated by the two men.

Thompson and Holley were arrested Friday afternoon. At the police station, two pints of whisky were found on the former.

TROOPS FOR POLICE DUTY IN SILESIA

Berlin, May 27.—British forces which are on their way to Silesia will, it is believed here, proceed to points in the industrial sections of the district for police duty. A special dispatch from Oppeln states that German authorities there have been requested to supply rolling stock for 1,600 British soldiers.

Reports of serious clashes between German volunteer organizations and Poles continue. The Polish insurgents are reported to have lost 120 men in skirmishes near Grosstein and Neiderellguth, while the German casualities are said to be averaging twenty or more daily.

COTTON MILL MEN OPEN CONVENTION

Philadelphia, May 27.—There will be no radical change for the better in the business situation until the real cause of depression, "the unstable economic condition of Europe," is remedied, John Hays Hammand, metallurgic engineer, told delegates to the 25th annual convention of the American Cotton Manufacturers' association which opened here today.

"In our own country we have great harvests, a large surplus of American products of industry, unparalleled capacity of production and world markets piteously, though futilely demanding our surplus goods," he said.

"It would avail us little, in view of the European situation, to assume our industrial activities to our utmost capacity; indeed, the reaction would be to aggravate the very condition under which we suffer today.

"It is to the so-called 'backward' countries of South America and Asia and to Russia, that America must look in the long run for her future foreign markets. The development of these countries would involve the expenditure of colossal sums. European financial centers can no longer provide it; the United States can."

A. W. McLean of the war finance corporation, told the convention that there has been lack of leadership among bankers generally in providing the financial machinery necessary for maintaining our foreign trade. "Some sort of machinery," he declared, "is essential to the foreign trade, upon which our prosperity largely depends."

Federal tax regulations were discussed by Dr. Thomas S. Adams, chief economist of the treasury department, and the textile products show to be held at Greenville, S. C., in October, was explained by William G. Sirrine, president of the Southern Textile Exposition, Inc.

Charge Enemies Of Hogan Plotted To Make Trouble

Sheriff Investigates Hole and Ash Heap Found on Property.

Dublin, Ga., May 27.—(Special.) Following investigation Friday Sheriff L. F. Watson of an open hole, with ashes heaped beside it, found on the premises of U. G. B. or "Bony" Hogan, now under bond charged with peonage, Sheriff Watson reported that the affair was nothing more than a plot, presumably by enemies of Hogan, to cause the farmer trouble.

It had been reported that the hole had been the grave of a negro. The ashes, it had been reported, were thought to have been those of a human being. Information of the existence of the hole, with the pile of ashes, was first brought to the sheriff by a federal agent.

"This is just a plot of Hogan's enemies to cause him trouble," the sheriff said. "We investigated the matter thoroughly, and found that it was a place where some beer and whisky had been kept, and that the ashes were those of corn or some other grain. If there was a body there we haven't seen or heard of it."

It is understood that there will be further investigation of the matter.

Commitment Waived.

Attorneys for Mr. Hogan announced today that their client had decided to waive a commitment. Hearing was scheduled for Wednesday of next week.

Mr. Hogan will give a new bond, they state, and take chances of being indicted before the next grand jury of the United States court. The case was some time ago set for hearing on May 30, but this week was changed to June 2. The reason for waiving a preliminary hearing was not given.

SUSPECT JAILED IN WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION

New York, May 27.—Giuseppe de Filipis, accused of complicity in the Wall street explosion, was placed in the custody of Federal Marshal McCarthy here today after having been brought to New York from Jersey City by a department of justice agent.

A hearing will be held here next Tuesday.

De Filipis was placed in the tombs tonight after being ordered held without bail by Federal Commissioner Hitchcock.

De Filipis, a truckman of Bayonne, N. J., is specifically accused of exploding a bomb in front of the United States assay office. Thomas J. Smith, an insurance inspector, yesterday declared he recognized him as the driver of the wagon believed to have carried a bomb into the financial district.

KRYPTOK BIFOCALS
WHAT ARE KRYPTOK BIFOCALS?
They are a combination of glass, allowing you to see both near and far with one solid glass. No removing your reading glass to see distant objects; no seams, lines or blisters to worry you or attract attention of others to your age. Absolutely invisible while on the face, they have proven a revelation to thousands who have come to us for them. Why are we successful with Kryptoks? Because we are extremely careful in the examination of your eyes, the correct grinding of the glass, and perfect adjustment of frames to each individual face, all of which is absolutely necessary to insure comfort and appearance. If you have Kryptoks bought elsewhere and cannot use them, bring them to us and we will find the trouble. Ask the better oculists or any of our patients what the Ballard service is to the public.
